Harvard-Yale Game Draws Thousands of Frenzied Fans King George Thanks

Throngs to Witness Annual Rugby Classic of Continent.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 21.—Deluged and dazed by the unexpected thousands descending upon the city for the morrow's Harvard-Yale football game, Boston is a flustered host tonight. Great throngs have gathered here for this gridiron classic in past years, but nothing approaching the present invasion has heretofore confronted the Massachusetts metropolis. Both Yale and Princeton have drawn huge assemblies of adnerents and football followers in other seasons but all previous records pale in comparison with the 1919 crowds. Although the Harvard stadium will seat close to 50,000, the demand for tickets is far in excess of accommodations.

50,000, the demand for tickets is far in excess of accommodations.

Wagering on the outcome of the game appears to be more prevalent than in recent similar contests, although it is impossible to obtain any definite idea of the amount at stake. Harvard rules a slight favorite tonight at odds ranging from 5 to 4 to 10 to 7, though many small bets are being made between friends at even money.

The Crimson cohorts are confident that Harvard's eleven will win, while that Harvard's eleven will win, while Yale's legions, unperturbed by the defeat administered by Princeton, predict

St. Paul, Männ., Nov. 21.—Mike O'Dowd, middleweist. Champion, and Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul Phantom, fought a terrific bloody, ten-round bout here tonight. The fight was victous and close all the way, and although several ringside experts called the bout a draw, the majority gave O'Dowd a slight Shade.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—The second four-teen of the McGill Rugby squad left to-night for Toronto, where they will play off with University of Toronto for the off with University of Toronto for the intermediate championship of the Intercollegiate Rugby Football Union.

The greatest change on the McGill line-up will be on the wing line. Four players who were members of the senior team although they did not figure in a match, will play. Wilson, another senior substitute, will play on the half line in place of Wiser. Shaughnessy has had charge of the second team all week, and has whipped the players into goodshape.

there was a considerable amount of extravagant building. The government proposal to give a subsidy of £150 sterling per house was limited to a certain amount of houses to be built within a limited time.

Dr. Addison mentioned that practically every house in the United Kingdom now wanted repairing. "The government is not going to be stampeded by any crisis," added the minister. "We shall stand by the scheme, and be no party to delivering the country again to the sporadic system of house building which has given us slums in every town."

Rallies were concurrent with the passing of the money scare, call loans re-newing at eight per cent, the lowest initial quotation of the month, and a slight relaxation of time money In responsible quarters there is every disposition to advence the admonitions of the federal reserve board against "unrestricted speculation." This found its most direct expression in the pro-nounced curtailment of business on the stock exchange.

Canvas of the banks and other lead-ing institutions elicited the statement that broker loans had been further reduced. This fact, coupled with the weeding out of additional impaired speculative accounts, strengthened the market in all quarters. Indications that the shorts had overplayed their position were furnished by the scarcity of such stocks as General Motors, Crucible Steel and several of the high-grade oils, these stocks featuring the re-

The annual statement of the Bank of Montreal for the fiscal year to Octobe 31 is the first report to be issued for full year since the armistice. On th account it contains many changes tha ndicate a gradual adjustment of special overnment undertakings of the war period and a marked expansion in the eneral business of the country.

Big Gain in Deposits

During the past few years there has totals touched during the war period.

Among the outstanding features of the statement now going forward to Bank of Montreal shareholders is the increase in current loans and discounts in Canada, and the continued large increase in interest-bearing deposits. These would seem to indicate that the Canadian people are steadily adding to their savings. In the last six months of the year the gain in savings deposits amounted to approximately $44,000,000
