MERCHANTS OF CITY WANT CHIEF OF POLICE, ASKING FOR MORE ADEQUATE PROTECTION FROM THIEVES AND ROBBERIES

During Last Sixteen Months, Seventy-Seven Burglaries or Attempts At Burglary Have Been Made on Dundas Street Stores Between Wellington and Richmond Streets—Chief Birrell Promises To Lay Matter Before the Police Commission.

That the city of London is at the present time inadequately protected, that the present equipment is practically that of 50 years ago, and that the ratepayers are united in a demand that the police commissioners take immediate steps to assure the citizens of London proper police protection, are the only deductions possible after interviews with a number of leading businessmen, a chief of police, Mayor Little and other city officials.

So serious has the situation become that recently a deputation of storekeepers whose places of business are located on both sides of Dundas street between Wellington and Richmond streets interviewed Chief Birrell. The deputation took with them data showing that within the last sixteen months no less than 77 burglaries or attempts at burglary had been made within this area and that goods and cash ranging in value from about $200 to $5,000 have been stolen.

Among suggestions for improvement of police protection are that the police force be increased to 100 men, that the equipment be modernized, and that the police department be reorganized.

Out of Date. The deputation pointed out that in their estimation the present personnel, equipment, and methods of the police department are not only out of date, but also out of date by nearly 50 years.

suggested that the force be increased by 50 per cent and pointed to the fact that Hamilton, where the area to be policed is much less than that of London, a demand has recently been made for an increase of the police force by 70 per cent.

They suggested also that a police signal system be installed, so that patrolmen could always be in touch with police headquarters and vice versa. This, they consider a more satisfactory method than the present visit of the sergeant to the men on the beat. Under the signal system, they point out, the patrolmen would have to report just where they were at certain hours, an automatic record of the call being at the same time made at headquarters.

The deputation expressed their opinion that the present police force is doing the best that can be done under the present conditions, and claim that it is time that the police commission wake up to the fact that London has grown in size of the city, but also out of date by nearly 50 years.

CONSTANTINE ASKS THAT LEAGUE FULLY INVESTIGATE CONDITIONS

Former Grecian King Declares That He Has Been Unjustly Accused—Invitation To Return To Throne Expected At Any Time.

Paris, Dec. 7.—With the object of refuting "inaccuracies and even injustices with which part of public opinion, misled, continues to accuse me," former king Constantine of Greece suggested in the course of an interview with the correspondent of the "Havas" agency at Lucerne that the League of Nations appoint an impartial committee to proceed with a public investigation of events in Greece during the war.

"The plebiscite which has just been manifested of the bonds which unite my people to me and in no way a disparagement of the entire," Constantine said. "I should like the fullest light thrown on the situation, and I should like to offer opposition if I am asked to do so."

Constantine said that he was not a monarch, but a citizen, and that he was not a king, but a man. He said that he was not a king, but a man, and that he was not a king, but a man.
