To Join 104th Band Among those who enlisted at Fredericton yesterday were two bandmen for the 104th Battalion band now in Sussex. They are Percy Edgcombe and William J. Kelly. Mr. Edgcombe has been a member of the 71st Regt. Band and has been prominent in several musical organizations, while Mr. Kelly has been employed as a drummer and also played a clarinet with the Fredericton Brass Band.

Fredericton Recruits John Morehouse of Kenwick, and Harry T. Perry of Fredericton enlisted for the 104th Battalion on Tuesday and on Wednesday three more young men—A. E. Smith, of Fredericton, Ernest Kimball of Oromocto, and Frank Benton of Bentons. Five recruits left for Sussex to pass the final medical examination and receive their clothing outfit before joining the Fredericton company. They were M. Yonans, E. McMann, J. John Ruppshah, A. E. Walker and A. E. Smith.

About the 140th The Fredericton Gleaner says: It is reported that there is a possibility of two companies of the 140th Battalion being located here. Lieut. L. Stanley Edgert of Hillsboro, Albert Co., and a sergeant at the University of New Brunswick, has been appointed to the base company of the 140th Battalion at Sussex. He was formerly with the 74th Westlanders regiment. Lieut. Edgert received the rank of captain from the Halifax Military School last summer.

Young Australian Killed William P. Logan, an Australian by birth, but who lived in Dartmouth over a year prior to the outbreak of war, has been killed in action. Soon after coming to Dartmouth he joined the 88th Rifles and was sent to the front in Belgium. He was one of the first to respond. In Australia he was a seaman and a traveler for an implement firm. He also worked in Buenos Ayres and from there came to Dartmouth.

He is not for the whole of Canada, having six sons either serving in the world war or enlisted for overseas. At the present time he has four sons overseas. They are: John, with the Princess Patricia's, Charles, with the 84th Fort Garry Artillery, James, formerly of the Seventeenth Battalion, Arthur, with re-inforcements draft for the 29th Battalion.

Tuesday night two other sons were sworn in with the 66th Overseas Company. They are D. Leo and F. J. S. McDougall. To Go As Nurses Miss Helen Jones leave Halifax today for St. John's and will be taking up nursing. Both young ladies have been the guests of honor at a number of functions recently given by their friends, and were the recipients of a number of gifts as tokens of esteem.

C., of the hospital staff at York Redoubt, and Miss Eva May Sherman, daughter of Samuel Sherman, of New Brunswick. Miss Thomas was the best man and Miss Grace LePriere was bridesmaid. Hon. Lieut.-Colonel Armitage performed the ceremony.

B., where he will start in training in his division of the Canadian Volunteers which he recently joined. He will stop en route at Sussex, N. B., where he will visit friends. Mr. Dickinson has many friends here.

The letter was written on November 8th. His present address is No. 8922, C Company, 8th Dorset, attached to the 6th Munster Fusiliers, 10th Division, 6th Brigade, British Central Expeditionary Force, Serbia.

A "cub" reporter was sent out by the city editor to get up a story on the marriage of a young society girl and a man known in the city. The "cub" was gone about an hour, then returned and went aimlessly over to his desk, by which he sat down. Shortly afterward the city editor noticed his presence and his evident idleness. "Here, kid!" shouted the superior, "why aren't you at work on that wedding?" "Nothin' doin'" replied the boy. "Nothin' doing? What do you mean didn't the wedding take place?" "Nope the bridegroom never showed up, so there ain't nothin' to write."

DOUBLE PROGRAMME AT IMPERIAL TONIGHT

A Belasco Production Tomorrow; Also "The Broken Chain"

With improved weather conditions, many will be enabled to see the Imperial's double programme tonight because it is taken off the screen. It includes the old favorite play, "East Lynne" in three splendid Biograph reels, and also an Eastern drama of highly emotional quality, entitled "The Greater Courage," featuring Edna Mayo. There will also be scenes in the Canadian Rockies, and humorous animated cartoons. Tomorrow and Saturday, those who attend the Imperial will get a bumper programme. In the Belasco production, "The Rose of the Rancho," as presented by a cast headed by Beatie Barricade, the people of St. John will see a play which in point of thoroughness and artistic merit, exceeds most current pictures. The play was staged at Monterey, San Jose, and Hollywood, California, in the exact locale of the piece, under the direct supervision of David Belasco and Jessie L. Laaky. A large company of Mexicans, Spaniards and others were imported for the spectacle scenes. "The Rose of the Rancho" is a classic of outdoor drama, and is being presented in the most impressive manner upon the minds of those who see it. Chapter 15 of the exciting serial, "The Broken Chain," entitled "The Deluge," depicting the trapping of Count Szech's soldiers in the flooded dungeon keep of Count Frederic's palace. Rollaux agrees to the rescue at the right moment.

AN EFFORT WORTHY OF PUBLIC SUPPORT

At a recent vaudeville show, two performances, given in the city, it is estimated that about $5,000 was paid for admissions, and most of that amount taken away from the city. For a number of weeks past the members of the Harmony Male Glee Club have been working hard in preparation for a concert which they will give on Monday evening next in the Opera House, and the result is a programme of really good music—music that will elevate and make one feel better for having heard it. The Glee Club is not doing this for its own gain, but with a most laudable object in view. The members are desirous of securing, not $5,000 but $500 for the fund that is doing so much for the brave men who are fighting our battles and for their dependents—the Patriotic Fund.
