CLEANLINESS IN DENTISTRY

If people knew the fearful risk they run of infection from unclean dentistry they would better realize the awful chances they take and what a mighty important factor cleanliness is.

No one has ever disputed the fact that there are no cleaner offices in Canada than ours. This is worthy of consideration.

The latest addition to the motor boat fleet is a fine thirty-foot craft launched on Saturday by John Splane of J. Splane & Co., at his summer home at Renwick. The hull was built by Albert T. Craft at Mace's Bay and the engine is a Frasser engine, made by the Frasser Machine and Motor Company of New Glasgow of which Messrs. Splane have recently taken the agency. The new boat was given a trial spin on Saturday and worked well.

The negotiations between the C. P. R. and the trainmen are being watched with a great deal of interest by the men in the operating department of the Intercolonial and it is stated that the employees of the government road will ask that they be granted the standard rate of wages for this territory. Some of the employees of the I. C. R. said that the trainmen are now engaged in drawing up a new schedule that will be presented to the board of management in a short time. The men contend that they are entitled to the same rate of wages as paid by the other big roads, and that they are only waiting to see what the result of the C. P. R. men's demand will be.

BUT ONE LOST TO THE FAITH IN 300 YEARS

Bishop Casey Speaks of Indians' Conversion and of the Champlain Monument

In the Cathedral yesterday morning, at the 9 o'clock mass, the congregation followed closely and with great interest the remarks of His Lordship Bishop Casey, who returned on Saturday from St. Anne de Boisjocque, Quebec. He said he had been much edified during his attendance at the celebration at St. Anne in honor of the baptism of the first Indian, Membertou, the great chief. He with nineteen of his companions, was baptized into the Catholic church on June 24, 1600.

Like Champlain, and others, Membertou became a lay missionary, and he interpreted the words of the priests to the Indians. The church rapidly spread, his lordship said, and the tribe became wholly Catholic, and in all the 300 years since then, only one Micmac Indian had been lost to the Catholic faith.

His Lordship expressed regret that he had to be away from the city on the occasion of the unveiling of the Champlain monument, but he had promised some time ago to go to St. Anne and rejoice with the poor Indian because of the blessings which came to him 300 years ago. For the first time, he said, he heard a sermon preached in the Micmac language.

In reference to the Champlain monument his Lordship again invited attention to the lessons to be learned from it. It was not a mere memorial, and as a tombstone, but was strikingly eloquent, with the majestic figure pointing to the river St. John, which it was Champlain's privilege to discover and name. There was in it a great lesson of the communion of saints. Why had Champlain's name been given to the river? Because of his Christian belief in the communion of saints; because he knew the day was the feast of St. John the Baptist and therefore, by Christian instinct, he called the river the St. John.

His Lordship spoke of Champlain's various qualities, and particularly of that missionary characteristic which marked him so strongly.

THIEVES AT WORK ON THE FELLAMA

Motor Boat at Marble Cove Broken Into and $15 Worth of Articles Stolen

The motor boat Fellama, the property of Fred A. Fleming, was burglarized late on Sunday night and articles to the value of about $15 stolen. The break was daring, as the craft, which is one of the finest of the St. John Boat Club fleet, was lying among the other boats at the club anchorage, Marble Cove, but a short distance from a dredge on which the crew were busy.

The steward of the boat club is on duty up to 10 o'clock at night and the thieves chose a later hour for their work. About 11 o'clock those on the dredge heard hammering aboard the Fellama, but thought nothing of it, believing that the crew was aboard. Entrance had been made by prying open one of the cabin windows.

The missing articles consisted, among other things, of screw drivers, pump ratchets and other tools and fixtures of some value.

Commodore Gerooy of the St. John Boat Club, is out of the city, and Vice-Commodore Adam F. MacIntyre and other club officials spoken to were very indignant over the matter. They said that a stop should be put to this kind of work and this was one of the ends in view when the boat club was formed. They felt that it should not be possible that boats at the anchorage could be boarded in such a manner. The police have the matter in hand.

AMBULANCE TARDY IS COMPLAINT MADE

Man in Charge Says No—Mr. Straight Badly Hurt by Horse on Sunday

W. E. Straight, teamster, lies in the general public hospital with very serious injuries received yesterday morning while attending to his horse. It seems that Mr. Straight, who lives at 40 Wentworth street had gone to the barn alongside the horse to feed the horse and was seized with a fainting spell. His son heard the horse stamping and snorting in an excited manner, and went to the barn to see what was the matter. He found his father lying unconscious and bleeding under the horse's hoofs, and he immediately gave the alarm in the house.

After some difficulty, Mr. Straight was taken from his perilous position, and placed on some hay while word was sent to Dr. Mayo Case, who hurried to the scene. When the doctor had examined him he ordered his removal to the hospital and the ambulance was sent for. Two calls had to be sent in before the conveyance finally arrived, after a wait of about an hour.

On arriving at the hospital it was found that Mr. Straight had three ribs broken, the jaw was broken, and cuts in the head required twenty-five stitches. This morning Mr. Straight was reported to be resting well, and it thought he will recover.

The family felt very indignant at what they claim was unnecessary delay in the ambulance being sent to the house. It was also claimed that the ambulance did not respond promptly to the call sent in for the wounded Italian in North street in the afternoon.

A. W. Goding, who has charge of the vehicle, when asked about the matter, said that as soon as the call came in from Mr. Straight's, the ambulance was sent out at once. There was no unnecessary delay.

When the message was received from North street, the ambulance was in Fairville in response to a call, and it went directly to North street from the hospital.

REV. B. N. NOBLES OF ST. MARTIN'S TO LEAVE MINISTRY

It is understood that Rev. B. N. Nobles has tendered his resignation as pastor of the Baptist church at St. Martin's, and will leave the ministry to engage in the insurance business.

Mr. Nobles' hearing has been failing for some time and he finds it a great hindrance to him in his ministerial duties.
