BELITTLES FACT GRAND FALLS TENDER IS LOW

Baxter Declares Hydro Work Arranged Only Small Part of Whole.

IF ELECTED WOULD CANCEL CONTRACTS.

Tells Sackville Audience He Is Growing Away From Party Label.

Sackville, Aug. 4.—There was a large audience at the Imperial Theatre tonight to hear Hon. Dr. J. B. M. Baxter and the Opposition candidates for Westmorland county. Senator Black was chairman. Hon. Mr. Baxter was the principal speaker. Five minute addresses were given by the candidates, H. M. Wood, M. C. Siddall, Dr. M. A. Oulton and A. J. Leger, who expressed pleasure at the confidence placed in them and asked for support on Aug. 10. Mr. Leger spoke in both English and French. Selections were given by the Citizens' Band.

Dr. Baxter referred to the Workmen's Compensation Act which he said would not be interfered with by his government, except to cut the cost of administration.

The speaker dealt at some length with the hydro development at Musquash and Grand Falls. He contended that another independent estimate should be made before the Grand Falls work was proceeded with. He did not take much stock in the fact that the tender for building the dam in connection with Grand Falls was below the estimate. This was only a small part of the work. He said that if elected he would cancel the contract.

Make digestion easy for old age

Puffed Rice assists delicate and impaired digestions.

WHEN the system slows up, assimilation becomes an important problem. Be kind to the delicate digestions of old age.

Quaker Puffed Rice was designed for impaired digestions. Puffed to eight times normal size, the cells of its whole grains are broken down, thus making assimilation easy.

Both the aged and the convalescent find in these delicate grains a flavour that induces appetite and gives much needed variation in diet.

Quaker Puffed Rice is a well-balanced combination of bran, minerals and carbohydrates. Served with milk or cream, vitamins are added.

Keep both Quaker Puffed Wheat and Quaker Puffed Rice in the house all the time. Sometimes you will prefer the one, and sometimes the other.

For The Bed Time Snack.—For the bed time snack, Quaker Puffed Wheat or Quaker Puffed Rice satisfy hunger and make the stomach comfortable for its night's rest. Try them in the evening.
