RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. Ann Jane Lawton.
The death of Ann Jane Lawton, widow of Robert Lawton, occurred at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. F. W. Lobb, 229 Duke street, on Saturday. Mrs. Lawton was in her eighty-fifth year and had spent practically all her life on the Beaver Lake road. She is survived by two sons and four daughters. The sons are: Robert E. of Maine, and Wilfrid, of Prince Edward Island; and the daughters are Mrs. J. D. Boyce, of Little River; Mrs.

F. W. Lobb, of this city; Mrs. W. Profit, of Edmonds (Wash.), and Mrs. P. Hamm, of Renforth. Thirty-two grandchildren, four great-grandchildren also survive.
Mrs. William Moore.
The death of Mrs. William Moore of 66 Smythe street, occurred in this city yesterday after a lingering illness. Mrs. Moore had been in poor health for eight years. She was of a retiring disposition but greatly beloved by all who knew her, and will be sorely mourned. She is survived by her husband; six sons, George, William, Frank, Walter, David and Percy, all of this city; and four daughters, Mrs. William Riley, Mrs. G. Dooley and Mrs. W. Hawkins, of this city, and Mrs. Edward Steel, of Winnipeg. A sister, Miss Mary Hayes, of this city, also survives. The funeral will be held on Tuesday morning from her late residence.

Word has been received in Middleton, N. S., of the death in Vancouver, of Rev. James L. Batty, a Methodist minister who before moving to the west about three years ago held many charges in the maritime provinces.

A Fine Range of Boys' Top Coats

This is the time to fit the school boy out for cold weather. Stocks are complete now. You'll find it an easy matter to get the sort of coat you like best.

Newest models are fashioned from heavy plaid backed cloth or warm soft piled materials that stand plenty of wear. Many coats are made with all 'round belts and raglan sleeves. All have big roomy pockets.

Ages 2 to 10 . . . $8.75 to $16.50
Larger sizes . . . $12.75 to $28.50

Bobby Remarks:—

"A boy needs a belt on his Overcoat because when the fellows grab each other in play, it's not done gently. Belted overcoats are able to stand that kind of rough wear better. All the boys like 'em best."

KILLED WOMAN IN MISTAKE FOR A PARTRIDGE

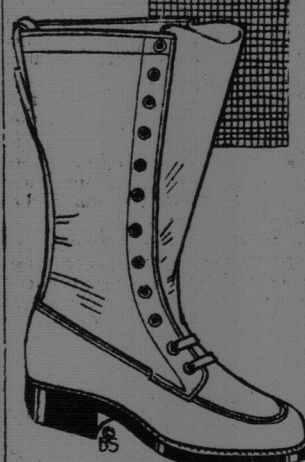

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Oct. 16.—Mary Kelly, forty-three, of New York, a patient in the state hospital for the insane here, was found dead in the woods near the hospital yesterday, with the top of her head blown off. She was reported missing from the hospital last night. Joseph Graveline, a hunter, said he had found the body, but when arrested and questioned by District Attorney

Ingraham is said to have confessed that he had shot at what he thought was a partridge and discovered that he had killed a woman.
