

ANOTHER CANNERY WILL BE ERECTED

SALMON BUSINESS OF VANCOUVER ISLAND

Big Harvest Now Being Reaped—New Order-in-Council Respecting Closed Season.

The Times special correspondent at Ottawa wires that the following order-in-council has just been passed: "No one shall fish for salmon from Saturday morning at 6 o'clock until the following Monday at 6 o'clock except in the rivers and waters of British Columbia north of the 49th parallel of north latitude, in which rivers and waters no one shall fish for salmon from Saturday at 12 o'clock noon until 12 p. m. midnight of the following Sunday with this provision, that in waters of the Skeena river and its estuary no one shall fish for salmon from Saturday morning at 6 o'clock until the following Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock."

With regard to the above local cannery men are somewhat in a quandary to understand its meaning. Some weeks ago they petitioned Ottawa to have the regulation then in force changed so as to leave the close season include two nights and one day, in conformity with the law ruling on the American side. The advantage to be derived from this is one day's fishing, the traps being worked at night. Under the new order-in-council, as quoted above, however, the suspension of business during two days and one night will be necessary. With respect to fishing in northern waters the new order reverts back to a former regulation which was in vogue until missionaries had it altered so that all fishing on Sunday was prohibited.

While the traps down the Straits today are closed, it is possible some of the fish in them will be lifted. Another 40,000 were taken from the Toke and Maudie traps yesterday, and 25,000 of these were delivered at the cannery at Esquimalt, the remaining 15,000 being forwarded to the Fraser. This was the only lift reported this morning. The big run continues, however, and the trouble with cannery men is now what can be done with the enormous quantity of fish everywhere on hand. The Anacortes canneries are said to be packing 13,000 fish a day.

Probably the uppermost question in the minds of many respecting the fish trap business on Vancouver Island is: What development of the industry will follow the successful experiments tried this year. The shrewdest man can hardly say at present, but extension of business is regarded generally as inevitable. The present harvest is not over, and may last for another ten or fifteen days. All trap owners, however, know now the trap locations on Vancouver Island are the very best to be found, but until the returns are all in and until the various companies have learned what they have netted there will be few announcements of what plans are in store for the future. Just what the season has meant to an company in Canada is the thing being & Packing Company—the Times is enabled to partially state. A director of the company informed a representative of this paper a few days ago that the coming winter would see a cannery built and finished for operation next year. Enough has now been seen of the working of the traps to justify a further expenditure, and the company he added, will be constructed on one of four sites now offered. Which he could not indicate. There were a number of considerations which would determine the matter. First there was the question of the proximity of an abundant supply of water, and then the convenience of shipping facilities, as well as the suitability of the surroundings. It will be remembered that the company projected this installation last fall, and they found it impossible to get more than the traps erected for use this season. There was one other factor, it is believed, among a number of directors as to what success the traps might have. The company, however, no longer exists, and the company see great possibilities ahead for the industry on this island.

The run of salmon next year will probably not equal that of this year, but this fact will not deter those interested in prosecuting the business to a greater extent for trap fishing undoubtedly yields big returns.

Should the large run of fish continue for a little while longer it is probable that every trap on the Vancouver Island coast will have paid for itself. For the amount of capital invested and the expense required in operating it is indeed unlikely that there is another industry that is capable of the same results in so short a time. It is an asset to this city, if all the money derived therefrom was expended, worth millions. Exact figures are hardly necessary to prove this assertion. Some idea may be gleaned along this line from the following information. There are thirteen or fourteen traps on the island coast, not to speak of a small number on the west coast shore, and they require to operate on an average of from ten to twelve men apiece, making in all over one hundred in this employment, many of whom are

A Little Sunlight Soap will clean cut glass and other articles until they shine and sparkle. Sunlight Soap will wash other things than clothes.

experts in the business, and demand large pay. Each company has chartered from one to four tugs or freighters to carry the fish from the Straits, either to Victoria, Vancouver or the Fraser, and wherever the fish are handled agents there are engaged other forces of men whose income necessarily come out of the profits of the traps.

From the working of the traps a cannery in Esquimalt giving further employment to a large number of men has demonstrated the foresight and wisdom of two Victorians who had the courage to risk capital on the venture while the industry was yet in its infantile stages.

There is a small business which has been started in the city of shipping the spring salmon to Germany, which has just encouraged another firm to embark in a similar enterprise of forwarding the catches en route in like manner to Australia and New Zealand. No actual shipments of these latter fish have yet been made, but the preparations for receiving them first and treating them after their arrival have already been carried out, and it will be only a matter of a short time before a start has been made in packing them.

There is, too, the demand created for what might be called by-products, that is the various kinds of fish other than salmon caught in the traps, and for the shipment of the catch to Fort Angeles, where it is there manufactured into suano.

The above is but an outline of the different forms which the industry has assumed. As to what revenue it brings to the trap men in the first place one can only surmise, for few companies there are those that will open their books and exhibit an account of their earnings for the benefit of the public. It has been said by those in the business that the traps have a capacity for holding at one time one million fish. It is also possible that this number of fish can be obtained in 24 hours. In this catch there is always a variety of fish, ranging in value from five cents a sockeye, which is the Times man was informed is the actual price of the fish at the traps to 4 cents a pound for spring salmon. The latter run from 75 cents to 90 cents a fish. It will be observed from this that when a trap makes a haul of 100,000 fish the owner has reason to be jubilant. When he has several traps and meets with proportionately big catches in all he may begin to feel as if his fortune was in sight.

WHAT WOMEN SUFFER.

At All Ages They Need Rich, Pure Blood to Secure Health and Happiness.

"A woman needs medicine more than a man. Her organism is more complex, her system more delicate. Her health is disturbed regularly in the course of nature. If anything happens to interfere with the natural course, she goes through unspeakable suffering. In fact the health of every function and the happiness of every moment of a woman's life depends upon the richness and the regularity of her blood supply. That is the simple scientific reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are worth more than their weight in gold to women of all ages from fifteen to fifty. These pills actually make the rich, red blood that brings health and happiness and freedom from pain to every woman. Mrs. Nell French of Ashfield, N. S., says: 'I am in justice to you, and in the hope that what I say may benefit other suffering women, I take pleasure in stating that I have found wonderful benefit from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When I began using the pills I was so badly run down that I could scarcely go about; at times I suffered very much and felt that life was a burden. Thanks to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I can now say I am enjoying better health than I ever experienced before, and I can most heartily recommend these pills to other suffering women.'

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cured Mrs. Ferguson because they filled her veins with the rich, pure blood so necessary to the health and happiness of every human being. It is for this reason that these pills always cure such troubles as anaemia, neuritis, heart trouble, indigestion, rheumatism, sciatica, St. Vitus dance, paralysis, kidney and liver troubles, and the special ailments of growing girls and women of middle age. You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine, but you should be careful to see that the full name, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, is on the wrapper around each box. If you wish you can get the pills by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

—On the 19th of August a large excursion under the Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association, San Francisco, will reach Victoria. In the party it is expected there will be 150 people. The excursion will leave San Francisco at 2 p. m. on August 16th; Portland two days later at 8:30 a. m., Seattle at 12 p. m. the same day, and will reach this city at 5 a. m. on the 19th of August. They will take their departure from Victoria at 6:45 on the evening of the following day, returning south by the same route. E. Sumner, one of the party, writing to Chief Watson of the Victoria fire department, suggests that a parade be held on uniform and will have one fire engine with them. Any other arrangement, the writer says, would be acceptable, but the suggestion Mr. Watson considers a good one, and an effort will be made to have a good turnout of veterans on the occasion. There may also be seen in the parade some of the veteran apparatus which had been in use here in early days.

It is estimated that 500 motor omnibuses will be running in London a year hence. Drivers of horse-drawn omnibuses are being trained for the new work.

JUDICIAL ROAST FOR MR. GIBSON

'FRISCO DETECTIVE HAILED OVER COALS

Judge Lammpan and Defendant's Counsel Scored California Sleuth for Remarks Made by Him.

(From Saturday's Daily.)
Mr. Collins continued his cross-examination of Mr. Whiting, the San Francisco attorney, this morning, and will probably conclude this afternoon. Between the working of the traps a cannery in Esquimalt giving further employment to a large number of men has demonstrated the foresight and wisdom of two Victorians who had the courage to risk capital on the venture while the industry was yet in its infantile stages.

There is a small business which has been started in the city of shipping the spring salmon to Germany, which has just encouraged another firm to embark in a similar enterprise of forwarding the catches en route in like manner to Australia and New Zealand. No actual shipments of these latter fish have yet been made, but the preparations for receiving them first and treating them after their arrival have already been carried out, and it will be only a matter of a short time before a start has been made in packing them.

There is, too, the demand created for what might be called by-products, that is the various kinds of fish other than salmon caught in the traps, and for the shipment of the catch to Fort Angeles, where it is there manufactured into suano.

The above is but an outline of the different forms which the industry has assumed. As to what revenue it brings to the trap men in the first place one can only surmise, for few companies there are those that will open their books and exhibit an account of their earnings for the benefit of the public. It has been said by those in the business that the traps have a capacity for holding at one time one million fish. It is also possible that this number of fish can be obtained in 24 hours. In this catch there is always a variety of fish, ranging in value from five cents a sockeye, which is the Times man was informed is the actual price of the fish at the traps to 4 cents a pound for spring salmon. The latter run from 75 cents to 90 cents a fish. It will be observed from this that when a trap makes a haul of 100,000 fish the owner has reason to be jubilant. When he has several traps and meets with proportionately big catches in all he may begin to feel as if his fortune was in sight.

What development of the industry will follow the successful experiments tried this year. The shrewdest man can hardly say at present, but extension of business is regarded generally as inevitable.

The present harvest is not over, and may last for another ten or fifteen days. All trap owners, however, know now the trap locations on Vancouver Island are the very best to be found, but until the returns are all in and until the various companies have learned what they have netted there will be few announcements of what plans are in store for the future. Just what the season has meant to an company in Canada is the thing being & Packing Company—the Times is enabled to partially state. A director of the company informed a representative of this paper a few days ago that the coming winter would see a cannery built and finished for operation next year. Enough has now been seen of the working of the traps to justify a further expenditure, and the company he added, will be constructed on one of four sites now offered. Which he could not indicate. There were a number of considerations which would determine the matter. First there was the question of the proximity of an abundant supply of water, and then the convenience of shipping facilities, as well as the suitability of the surroundings. It will be remembered that the company projected this installation last fall, and they found it impossible to get more than the traps erected for use this season. There was one other factor, it is believed, among a number of directors as to what success the traps might have. The company, however, no longer exists, and the company see great possibilities ahead for the industry on this island.

The run of salmon next year will probably not equal that of this year, but this fact will not deter those interested in prosecuting the business to a greater extent for trap fishing undoubtedly yields big returns.

Should the large run of fish continue for a little while longer it is probable that every trap on the Vancouver Island coast will have paid for itself. For the amount of capital invested and the expense required in operating it is indeed unlikely that there is another industry that is capable of the same results in so short a time. It is an asset to this city, if all the money derived therefrom was expended, worth millions. Exact figures are hardly necessary to prove this assertion. Some idea may be gleaned along this line from the following information. There are thirteen or fourteen traps on the island coast, not to speak of a small number on the west coast shore, and they require to operate on an average of from ten to twelve men apiece, making in all over one hundred in this employment, many of whom are experts in the business, and demand large pay. Each company has chartered from one to four tugs or freighters to carry the fish from the Straits, either to Victoria, Vancouver or the Fraser, and wherever the fish are handled agents there are engaged other forces of men whose income necessarily come out of the profits of the traps.

I wouldn't suggest for a moment that my learned friend would do such a thing as...

His Honor: "I might say it is no part of Detective Gibson's duty to have anything to say to the stenographer or any official of this court. It is entirely outside of his province to have any objection to the stenographer or the notes he should make it to me. Mr. Helmecken, I consider your explanation perfectly satisfactory, and am sure no attempt to make to interfere with the stenographer."

Mr. Helmecken: "Thank you, Your Honor."
This closed the incident, and Mr. Collins proceeded with the cross-examination of Mr. Whiting, concluding shortly afterwards. Subsequently Mr. Groom was recalled, after which an adjournment was taken until this morning.

There were some more fire works in the Collins case this morning. When the commission opened Mr. Helmecken, the defendant's attorney, directed the witness, A. J. Henry, of San Francisco, which appeared in today's Colonist. He signified the statement and its publication in gross violation of court of which His Honor should take notice.

His Honor: "All this I understand touches a matter which was before Mr. Justice."
Mr. Helmecken said that it was an improper statement that affected this court.

His Honor: "The trouble is you people have got entangled over certain matters. You have gone to the newspapers, and then you come to me."
Mr. Helmecken said a witness had no right to go to a newspaper, and make such a statement, and the paper had no right to publish it. He said a section of the law to show that both witness and paper were in contempt of court. The reason he had brought the matter up was that these things were calculated to prejudice public opinion against his client. Yesterday he had referred to the reprehensible conduct of Detective Gibson, and was informed that the detective had publicly stated the very charges that were brought to the attention of the court, namely, that the defense were trying to get the stenographer by charge the witness. As to the witness Henry, he had no right to make the statement which appeared in the morning paper. His client was under the protection of the court, and while he did not object that His Honor would be influenced in the slightest either way, it was only right to point out that the action of the witness in contempt of court, and the publication of the newspaper, in publishing a statement that would have a tendency to influence the public was also a tendency to prejudice public opinion against his client. The management of the morning paper with reference to the matter it had been printing about Collins and they had promptly apologized and assured that such reports would not appear again. As for the witness he should be compelled to apologize to the court.

His Honor: "Didn't your client give an interview to the press as to how he obtained the statement from witness Henry?"
Mr. Helmecken: "Yes, but it was not brought to His Honor's attention. He is the witness, Henry is not a party to this case, and had no right to give the paper the statement, he did for the purpose of self-justification."

His Honor: "I don't see how the matter is before me. The statement, secured by the defendant from witness Henry, I understand, is in violation of proceedings in the California courts."
Mr. Higgins then took a hand. He said he entirely opposed the introduction of such a matter at this stage of the proceedings. With the opinion in mind he had absolutely refused to say anything to the press about it. As regards the Henry interview, the other side had made certain statements which the witness had refused to answer, and he had denied them. He (Mr. Higgins) protested against such an interruption of the case, because he was sure they would not be able to prove them. He would prove that Mr. Collins stamped with witnesses. But that was not the point before His Honor. It was whether the accused should be acquitted or not. Mr. Higgins said, "I am prepared to prove the charges I made the other day."

Mr. Collins: "And you will be called upon to prove them."
"The accused," Mr. Higgins said, "has been going to the press with statements all along."
His Honor: "All these interviews I suppose are designed to be telegraphed to San Francisco."
Mr. Helmecken: "Yes, that's right in line with the policy of the prosecution."
Mr. Higgins: "You who is making the charge, Mr. Helmecken?"
Mr. Helmecken: "I do, Mr. Higgins, in charging that you have the presumption to come into this court and say I made representations that were untrue."
Mr. Higgins: "No, I didn't accuse you of making untrue statements, Mr. Helmecken. If I did so it was wholly unintentional. But as to the charge I made against Collins I am prepared to prove it."
Mr. Helmecken: "The charge that Mr. Collins had been tampering with a witness I contend should be investigated."

His Honor: "But that, I understand, is really in the California court. There Mr. Collins obtained from witness Henry was to be produced here. What is to prevent either party from giving a statement to the witness' testimony from him? He had already given it in this court." Continuing, His Honor said the witnesses should not make statements to the papers concerning the case. He did not mean to say that they couldn't talk to newspaper men, but they should not discuss this matter for publication.

The hearing of the case proper was then proceeded with. Mr. Higgins said His Honor had to be guided in these proceedings by section 536 of the criminal code, which gave him the power to limit the time for cross-examination. He asked His Honor to limit these addresses to an hour or an hour and a half. He was prepared to limit his to forty-five minutes. There was no reason why this part of the argument, namely, with regard to the admissibility of depositions, should require an extended address. It wasn't necessary to have a three-hour address. It was probably prolonged. His Honor said he would not define

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

BRINGS THE SUNSHINE OF HEALTH AND HAPPINESS TO SICK WOMEN.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay fees in legal money for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of the Womb, which they cannot cure. At the same time, we are anxious to be held as sacredly confidential. It is foolish to consult women friends or persons without medical training.

Very often a married woman or young girl does not know who to turn to for advice in circumstances where she dislikes to talk with the family physician about delicate matters. At such times write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free consultation and advice, and the same will be held as sacredly confidential. It is foolish to consult women friends or persons without medical training.

All other compounds intended for women only are made with alcohol, or alcohol is a large component—this alcohol injures the nerves. The little red corpuscles of the blood are stricken by alcohol. All such compounds, therefore, do harm. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was the first exclusively woman's tonic on the market—it has sold more largely in the past third of a century than any other medicine for women.

SENTENCED TO THREE YEARS' IMPRISONMENT

Edward Weber Pled Guilty to Charge of Forgery in Police Court Saturday.

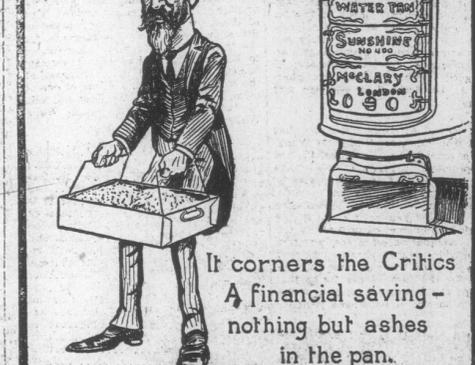

Edward John Weber, a deserter from the United States army, pleaded guilty to the charge of forgery in the police court this morning, and was sentenced by Police Magistrate Hall to three years' imprisonment at the Westminster penitentiary. His case was called promptly at 10 o'clock. The accused was not represented by counsel, and made no attempt to put up a defence. He acknowledged his guilt and endorsed a statement of the facts as presented by Sergeant Detective Palmer. The magistrate, before delivering his sentence, summed up briefly: After mentioning the seriousness of the crime he referred especially to the barefaced depravity of the prisoner throughout the transaction, his action in getting another man to witness the forged signature of H. P. Mellish being only an instance of the length he had apparently been prepared to carry the deceit.

In his statement Sergeant Detective Palmer told practically the same story given in the Times on Thursday evening. He referred to the arrival of Weber in Victoria some time ago, and his adoption of the assumed name of Gus Anstrupe. During the first couple of months of his residence here Weber had evidenced a distinct aversion to work. Finally he had met and become friendly with H. P. Mellish, who had given him lodging at his house, 352 Discovery street. He then told of the discovery of Mr. Mellish's receipts for most of his business by Weber, and the signing of these documents to convince J. W. Goss, a furniture dealer, that it belonged to him. The details of the bargain entered into between Weber and Goss were outlined. The former had agreed to part with the entire furnishings for $225, and Goss, being provided with a bill-of-sale covering everything in the house, had handed the accused a cheque for $225. On this bill-of-sale was the signature of H. P. Mellish, forged by the accused and witnessed by a bartender of a neighboring saloon, who had signed at Weber's request, not knowing that the latter was not H. P. Mellish.

Concluding, he referred to the arrest of Weber, and that the accused had cashed the cheque and spent $100 on articles, such as a person about to be married would procure. In his address Magistrate Hall was brief and to the point. As already stated he referred to the seriousness of the crime, and to the depravity practiced by the accused, not only in the actual forging, but all through the transaction. He understood that it was his first offence, and therefore, would not sentence him to the limit provided by law. After a few concluding remarks he sentenced him to three years with hard labor, 20 tons. Total for the week, 293,217 tons.

Sunshine Furnace

It corners the Critics A financial saving—nothing but ashes in the pan.

London, Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg, Vancouver, St. John, N.B.

The Saunders Grocery Co., Ltd

39-41 Johnson Street.

MANITOBA CREAMERY BUTTER, Pound . . . . . 25c.
COMOX CREAMERY BUTTER, Pound . . . . . 30c.
PURE GOLD JELLY POWDERS, 3 Packets for . . . . . 25c.
DEVILED HAM, large tin . . . . . 10c.

Try The Old Store. Phone 28.

BOUNDARY MINES.
Record of the Output During Week Now Ending—Smelter Returns.

Phoenix, July 29.—For the past week the Boundary ore shipments were: Granby mines to Granby smelter, 13,430 tons; Mother Lode to B. C. Copper Co. smelter, 2,272 tons; Emma to Nelson smelter, 418 tons; Oro Denoro to Granby smelter, 33 tons; Last Chance to Nelson smelter, 20 tons. Total for the week, 16,373 tons; total for the year to date, 729,217 tons. The Boundary smelters treated this week as follows: Granby smelter, 13,850 tons; B. C. Copper smelter, 3,990 tons. Total treatment for week, 17,810 tons; total for year, 535,742 tons.

A dispatch from Berlin says that United States Ambassador Tower has been notified by the senate of the University of St. Andrews, Edinburgh, Scotland, that the degree of doctor of laws will be conferred on him on October 17th, when Andrew Carnegie is installed again as Lord Rector.

Wes

For constipation. The best remedy I ever used. Not without them. 25c. per box. J. B. Rose, N.B.

LIMITED, Ottawa.

Wes

For constipation. The best remedy I ever used. Not without them. 25c. per box. J. B. Rose, N.B.

Wes

For constipation. The best remedy I ever used. Not without them. 25c. per box. J. B. Rose, N.B.

Wes

For constipation. The best remedy I ever used. Not without them. 25c. per box. J. B. Rose, N.B.

Wes

For constipation. The best remedy I ever used. Not without them. 25c. per box. J. B. Rose, N.B.

Wes

For constipation. The best remedy I ever used. Not without them. 25c. per box. J. B. Rose, N.B.

Wes

For constipation. The best remedy I ever used. Not without them. 25c. per box. J. B. Rose, N.B.

Wes

For constipation. The best remedy I ever used. Not without them. 25c. per box. J. B. Rose, N.B.

Wes

For constipation. The best remedy I ever used. Not without them. 25c. per box. J. B. Rose, N.B.

Wes

For constipation. The best remedy I ever used. Not without them. 25c. per box. J. B. Rose, N.B.

Wes

For constipation. The best remedy I ever used. Not without them. 25c. per box. J. B. Rose, N.B.

Wes

For constipation. The best remedy I ever used. Not without them. 25c. per box. J. B. Rose, N.B.