Body of an Infant Found Near Digby - Coroner's Jury Bring in a Verdict of Murder

DIGBY, N. S., June 11.—Considerable excitement has been created here over the discovery yesterday afternoon of the corpse of a female infant, which was found by Samuel Hutchings and John Dunn, partially buried in Robinscr's woods, about one hundred yards from Jackson's railway crossing. On the 24th of May last Hutchings, whilst passing the spot, had noticed the corner of a box jutting out above some freshly turned earth, but being hurried, did not investigate, and the incident slipped his mind. Yesterday in passing the place with Dunn, it occurred to him, and the two mer dug up the box, which proved to contain the body of a young child. They brought it to town and reported the matter to Coroner Dafey, who summoned a jury the same even ing. The body was wrapped in a piece of cloth and hastily enclosed in a small box. Dr. Morse held a post mortem examination in Jenner's store in the presence of the coroner's jury, which had met there. It was ascertained that the child had been alive for two or three days and wound was discovered on the head as if caused by a sharp blow, there being also a clot of blood on the brain under the bruise. The jury returned a verdict of death by wilful murder by person or persons unknown. Susot cion has attached against some parties whose names are not made public as yet.

CRISIS IN FRANCE.

The Chamber Goes Against the Cabinet

And as a Result the Ministry Has Resigned.

Much Surmise as to the Composition of the New Cabinet-M. Raymond Poincare Among Those Named for the Premiership.

PARIS, June 12.—The chamber of deputies was crowded today and there was considerable suppressed excitement when M. Vaillant (socialist) interpellated the government on yesterday's "police outrages" at the pavilion d'Armonville and demanded to know the instructions the government gave the police in regard to the socialists, who, he said, defended the republic against the reactionaries. (Ap plause.) M. Dupuy replied, saying he realired yesterday was a fete day for all republicans. He added there had been few incidents and that the only instructions to the police were to maintain order. The government, he con-tinued, had ordered an inquiry into the responsibility for the affairs at the pavilion d'Armonville and the Rue Montmatre. At the same time, the premier pointed out, the government acknowledged the services of the police, adding that the maintenance of the government was impossible without public order. (Applause from the centre and protests from the leftists.) The chamber adopted by a vote of 321 to 171 the order of the day prorosed by M. Ruau (radical), which the premier refused to accept. The ministers forthwith left the house amid intense excitement.

PARIS, June 12.— The cabinet has

The successive votes in the chamber of deputies today clearly demonstrated the existence of a majority, in-cluding members of all parties who were letermined to rid themselves of the premiership of M. Dupuy. The interpellation of M. Vaillant was simply a cleverly selected pretext to conceal the real cause of the approaching crisis.

Socialists and radicals alike are dissatisfied with what they have considered the contradictory attitudes of the Dupuy cabinet in the Dreyfus affair. The moderates hope to secure the return of M. Meline to power. The revolutionaries, nationalists and antisemites hope, in their opposition to M. Dupuy to find a more tolerant man in his successor. This is the exclanation of toda,"s voting, resulting in the downfall of the cabinet. The supporters of the government only numbered 173, recruited for the most part from the ranks of the moderate radicals. All the royalists and many radicals demand that responsibility must be hrought home to Gen. DeBoisdeferre and Gen. Mercier. At the same time those taking this view have been all along persuaded that M. Dupuy Accordingly they seized upon M. Vaillant's interpellation as a means of expressing the defiance and distrust of the Dupuy ministry.

Certainly there is no denying the fact that the question of the final settlement of the Dreyfus case hangs like a dead weight on the situation tonight and will prove a great obstacle in the settlement of the crisis.

The interview between M. Dupuy and his colleagues and President Loubet was brief but cordial. The president expressed his thanks for the support he had received from the re-tiring ministers, adding that he would lways remember their services grate-

M. Dupuy was agreeably surprised at M. Loubett's cordiality. There are already many surprises as to the composition of the new cabinet, but it is pointed out that as the Dupuy ministry did not fall on a questio involving the political complexion of the ministry, it is difficult to see on what basis the new cabinet will be settled.

Of the statesmen already named in parliamentary circles in connection with the premiership of the new cabinet, those most frequently mentioned ere M. Raymond Poincare, deputy of Meuse, who was minister of public instruction at the time of the Dreyfus courtmartial, and who testified before the court of cassation that M. Dupuy had recently said to him: "I think we were the victims of a big hoax in 1894;" M. Delcasse, minister of foreign affairs in the retiring cabinet; M. Brisson, who was M. Dupuy's immediate predecessor in the premiership he has just resigned, and Senator Pierre Waldeck-Rousseau, who was minister of the interior on the cabinet of Gambetta in 1881, and again in the Ferry cabinet of 1883.
