WHO'S GOING TO WIN A BIG PRIZE?

Success Will Depend Entirely Upon a Member's Own Effort

The Standard's Travel Club, closing on Saturday, June 24th, leaves but ten more days for members to secure votes with which to win the main prizes. These next ten days will be filled with hard work for all those who expect to be successful.

Members should bear in mind the prizes will be won mostly on the work turned in from now until the closing day, as there is not a single member who, if she stopped work today would have the ghost of a chance of capturing a prize.

Many members, not yet very high on the published list, have spent a lot of time and effort up to date, and they are not going to see the prizes easily carried off by their competitors.

We continue to advise members to work, and to keep working, mainly because that is the only way to win, and partly because we do not want those members who, at the end of the campaign, fail to win by a few votes, blaming us for their failure.

While many members were heard from today, the only change of importance is the replacing of Miss Porter, in seventh position by Miss Marjorie Calkin.

FIRST GUNS IN PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

Hughes and Wilson Outline Their Policies — Out and Out Americanism, Republican Candidate Says.

New York, June 13—Charles E. Hughes in response to questions put to him today by newspaper men in regard to his attitude towards the support offered him by German-Americans, said it was "one of undiluted Americanism."

"I stated my position very clearly," said the Republican presidential candidate, "in my telegram to the convention. My attitude is one of undiluted Americanism, and anybody that supports an out and out American, and an out and out American policy, absolutely nothing else."

Oscar Straus, former candidate for governor of New York on the Progressive ticket, sent a telegram to Mr. Hughes today pledging his support.

Westport, N. Y., June 13—President Wilson, making his first address since the presidential campaign began, today discussed preparedness, militarism, Americanism, the causes of the war in Europe, peace, the Monroe Doctrine, divided allegiance, and the ideals of America. He declared it is the present imperative duty of the United States to be prepared, adding "militarism is going to know that when America speaks she means what she says."

The president said that he was a blustering nation, a nation with a chip on its shoulder, but a calm nation, which will withhold its hand as long as possible and strike only for victory.

The president's address ran through the almost entire list of subjects discussed by former Justice Hughes in his telegram accepting the Republican nomination, and he declared that the United States is ready to join with other nations to see what kind of justice it believes in is given.

Shaking his finger emphatically, the president told the graduates of the West Point Military Academy, whom he was addressing, and a large audience that nobody who does not put America first can be tolerated.
