NATIONAL REGISTRATION PROBABLE

New Director-General of Recruiting Given wide Authority—Conference to be Held in Ottawa Soon.

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—The recruiting directors who will be appointed to cooperate with the national director, Sir Thomas Tait, will be announced in the course of the next few days. A conference will then be held at Ottawa with Sir Thomas to work out the plan of organization and the methods to be followed in mobilizing Canada's forces for service at home and abroad. The new director, while cooperating with militia authorities and the militia department, will work directly with Sir Robert Borden and the premier's jurisdiction. The new order-in-council defining the powers of the director-general, give him very wide authority. The methods to be followed in securing the information he desires are not defined, but it is presumed that some system of national registration will have to be decided upon. Authority is given for the governor-in-council at the request of the director-general to appoint a national service board in any military district. Each board shall be composed of three persons, of whom the director may be one and the director, if a member shall be chairman ex officio. The order-in-council appointing such board may invest the board with all or any of the powers and duties which otherwise would be vested in the director, or with any additional powers.

GREAT BRITAIN SENDS REGRETS FOR SEIZURE OF GOODS AT HONG KONG

Washington, Sept. 25.—Informal expressions of regret have been made by Great Britain to the state department for seizure at Hong Kong of American owned goods consigned to Manila on board the steamer Chinese Prince, Kagua and Aymeric. It was learned today that in response to a vigorous protest by the United States assurances had been given that there would be no more such seizures. The British action was first explained on the ground that the goods were consigned to blacklisted firms. Later it was claimed that several of the firms were ringleaders in a junta alleged to be seeking to cause a rebellion in India. The seizure of packages from the Chinese Prince caused very bitter feeling in Manila, and a maximum fine was levied on her when she entered port with her manifest short. The fine was later reduced to $25,000, and finally rebated when the missing goods arrived on another ship.

TRADES AND LABOR CONGRESS IN TORONTO

Thirty-second Annual Meeting Opened Yesterday with Over Three Hundred Delegates in Attendance.

Toronto, Sept. 25.—The 32nd annual trades and labor congress of Canada was formally opened at the Technical School this morning with an attendance of something over three hundred delegates, every industrial centre from Vancouver to Halifax being represented. The delegates assembled at the Prince Consort hotel, and marched to the Technical School, headed by a brass band furnished by the Toronto Musical Protective Association. Here they were formally welcomed by the Hon. Findlay McDiarmid, Ontario minister of public works. At the afternoon session the report of the executive committee was read by Secretary Draper. It recommended: Immediate action by the government to control food prices under the war measures act, opposition to compulsory service in Canada, participation in the peace conference proposed by the American Federation of Labor for all labor bodies in Europe and America after the war, the appointment of a commission on industrial conditions, the nationalization of railways, mines and public utilities, an extensive system of highways, the adoption of a policy for close land settlement, which will provide sufficient aid to guarantee the right kind of settlers and insure social amenities, shortening of the work day to provide employment for unemployed persons, a gradual disbanding of enlisted men covering a period of at least two years and increase of pension for soldiers and incapacitated soldiers, with no distinction between the children of officers and men, a vote of $20,000 to buy permanent quarters for the congress in Ottawa.

REPLICA OF COLUMBUS' FLAGSHIP AT YARMOUTH

Yarmouth, N. S., Sept. 25.—For the second time in a few years the caravel Santa Maria, a replica of the flagship of Christopher Columbus, was in port today, sailing for Halifax. She is now in charge of Capt. Stevenson and had just arrived from Buzzard's Bay. Since she was here in 1914 she has been to the big exposition in San Francisco and has also been on exhibition in New York and other ports en route. Neville's tug Morton is towing her back to Halifax and Quebec en route to Chicago where the other two caravels of the fleet, the Nina and Pinta are lying. Capt. Stevenson says she is a good sea boat but has a lot of motion in a sea. Sunday night about one o'clock while off Cape St. Mary's she was jumping around so lively that the yawl hanging from the stern davits actually broke in two and disappeared overboard the bow being pulled right out.

THRILLING TALE OF MAN HUNT IN THE FAR NORTH

Esquimaux who Brutally Murder Catholic Missionaries Caught After Relentless Chase by Mounted Police.

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—The story of the chase and capture of the murderers of Father Leroux and Father Rouvriere, two Catholic missionaries in the Far North, is told by Inspector C. D. LaNauze in a report received by the Mounted Police Department today. It makes a thrilling tale. The two missionaries had been living with the Eskimos at Coronation Gulf and were respected and popular amongst the natives. In 1913 they decided to move to the timber land and were accompanied by the two Eskimos, Simmiak and Iluuskuk to assist with the dog teams. They were only out two days when Simmiak stabbed Father Leroux in the back, calling upon Iluuskuk to finish him as he ran to head off Father Rouvriere from the sled where his rifle was. Simmiak shot twice at Father Rouvriere and wounded him with his second shot. In the meantime Iluuskuk had killed Father Leroux. They then stabbed to death Father Rouvriere.

With horrible ferocity the two murderers cut open both chests and ate pieces of the liver of the two dead men and taking their outfits returned to the tribe headquarters at Coronation Gulf. They made no secret of their crime. Inspector LaNauze learned that with Dr. Anderson of the Stefenson expedition on the Copper Mine river was an Eskimo named Iluuskuk wearing the coat of a priest and he was found to be of the same tribe as Simmiak and Iluuskuk. This man gave information that incriminated the two murderers. Special Constable Ilvink was told by other Eskimos that the reason they concealed the crime was because they feared that in revenge the white man would kill them all. The long chase after Iluuskuk and Simmiak then began. The latter was believed to be in Victoria Land, several hundreds of miles away, and thither the police went, securing their man. He surrendered without any trouble and showed anxiety to tell his story. He stated that Simmiak was responsible for the crime, and other members of the tribe confirmed the statement that he had been the instigator.

MAPLE LEAF MAY BE LISTED ON MONTREAL

Montreal, Sept. 25.—The listing of the shares of the Maple Leaf Milling Company on the Montreal stock exchange is being developed being talked about now, according to advances received from Toronto. It is thought that the formal application will be made to the exchange authorities within a short time. The shares of the company were placed on an eight per cent annual dividend basis in March last and as the stock only crossed par today in the Toronto market having closed last week at 97 to 98 it will be seen that it is selling considerably lower than others of the milling shares which are placed on an eight per cent basis. Maple Leaf has shared conspicuously in the prosperity which has come to the milling industry in Canada particularly since the war started and has worked into a strong position.

STOCK HAS SHARED CONSPICUOUSLY IN PROSPERITY OF MILLING INDUSTRY SINCE WAR BEGAN.

RELEASE PARCELS CONSIGNED TO CENTRAL POWERS' TERRITORY

London, Sept. 25.—Twelve hundred parcels, consigned to the central powers within the territory of the British authorities, have been released and possession of them may be had by their consignors on their request. According to the foreign office this proceeding merely follows a long established policy of the government in releasing non-contraband inward bound parcels to their original consignors. Such goods, being non-contraband, are held under orders-in-council, and in administering these the government is merely concerned in keeping goods of the sort from entering belligerent territory. There is no desire, it was explained, to withhold them from their original owners, but the government has no intention to release such parcels for forwarding to their original destinations.

Berlin, Sept. 25, by wireless to Sayville.—According to an overseas News Agency announcement today reporting the seizure yesterday of the Dutch steamer Batavier by a German submarine, the vessel was bound to London with contraband on board. It is also declared that among the thirty-eight passengers on the steamer were four Russians, who apparently had escaped from a prison camp.

LOVE'S DOUBTING.

When fevered doubt has set my heart on fire
And parched the flowering concepts of my brain,
When I am faint with unfulfilled desire,
Your love renews me as the summer rain
Renews the earth, a prey to killing drought,
And all my veins run joyous as the rills
That, bank-full, twist new green
And make merry rout,
For I am glad or sad as your heart wills.
If you withhold from me love's heavenly dew
How shall the good within my being thrive?
I only grow in thoughts of love for you.
In you alone I know myself alive,
O that your love my seeking love would bless,
So should I know the heaven of tenderness.
—Charles Eugene Banks.

SETTING A TABLE.

There is nothing so important as a correctly laid table and proper service and quiet and correct eating. All forks with the exception of the small one used for raw oysters are laid to the left of the plate. The oyster fork, the soup spoon, and the knives with sharp edges inward, are laid to the right in the order in which they are to be used. As oysters are often before soup the oyster fork is laid farthest from the plate. The other spoons should not be laid on the table when the service is formed, but should be put on the table when the dessert and coffee are served. Bread and butter spreaders should be placed on the bread and butter plate. The tumbler should be placed at the tip of the knife, the bread and butter plate in front or at the tip end of the forks. Some prefer to have the butter spreaders placed with the other knives at the right of the plate. For informal serving the teaspoons are sometimes placed at the right side fork, and again they are placed in a spoon tray on the table and passed when the dessert is served. The napkin neatly folded is placed at the left of the fork. It is also good form to have the napkin loosely folded over a roll and placed on the bread and butter plate.

SHORT STORIES FROM STUDIOS AND STARS.

"Nothing like variety," says Virginia Pearson, who makes photoplays for William Fox, and hay for recreation. Miss Pearson has a large estate in Palisades, New Jersey, near the studio, and when she's not working before the camera, she dons a great sun-bonnet, gets the barn ready, and pitches in—hay. "Most moving picture actresses know a microscopic little about country life," Miss Pearson declared recently. "They tell a story about a friend of mine who is rather well-known to motion picture fans which illustrates this beautifully.

"This girl went to the country—the real country where there is no city for miles around—for a vacation. She stayed at a farmhouse. Supper came and when the farmer's wife set some honey on the table, the actress clapped her hands and said, ecstatically: "Oh, dear me, I see you keep a bee!"
