(Collected and Arranged with conci-e Asswers by N Morsannar, Esq., and W. R. Merritti, Esq., Barristers-at-Law.)

PRICE ONE DOLLAR.

I'HE want has often been felt and expressed by Students and Articled Clerks, of some work which would afford an idea of the nature of the examinations to be undergone by them before entering upon their professional career, and at the same time enable them, after a thorough preparation, to test their proficiency in the subjects prescribed by the Society for those examinations. To meet this want the publishers have arranged for the preparation of the present volume, which will be issued from the press in the month of March next, and will comprise all the questions given in the Law Society's Examinations for call and admission, from the time Examiners were first appointed down to Hilary Term, 1862, inclusive, (with the exception of those few which have lost their force through recent changes in the statute law,) with a complete answer to each question.

The answers will be placed at the end of the book, with numbers corresponding to the numbers of the questions to which they relate, in order that the Student may be first working out his own answers and afterwards comparing the rusult with what he finds in the key, forms a tolerable accurate notion of his fitness to appear in the examination room.

The publishers expect that this work will add so materially to the ease and confidence of candidates for examination, as to render its possession indispensable, and have therefore determined to dispose of it at such a low price as will place it within the reach
