

November 8th, 1945.

TLE

DM THE
S CORNER
With
WIE RYAN

advances to the Mari-against the powerful Tech by a marginal one over St. Dunstan's. death game for the p will be played at Saturday, Nov. 10. We arrangements will be part of the student ess this final game.
be an interclass swim-on Thursday, Nov. 22.
re urged to have at least each event.
and Ping Pong Tourna-been posted in the gym. ed up—check the lists is and time of play.
sity Basketball practice on Tuesday, Nov. 13.

BOXING

n under the able tutor-h Laskey, boxing has rway with some twenty-out already and many ted in the near future. e turning out from last en are Reid Scott, Ernie eth, George Edmunds er star who has been in or some time. Pat Clair, is father in the line of Dal Laskey well known and these parts.

ANTON STARTS

a seems to be on the way pre-war style as once udent boy turns to this past time. Many of the ve been turning out regucompetition may soon high peak. Marg Vince lected president of this minton Club. An inter-ramme is already being all those interested.

wants money, means and without three good

Try Hashey's
barber Shop

9 York Street

COME TO

LONG'S

Good Store

Wool Dress Goods
we carry a good
New goods arriv-
ily. Largest stock
d goods in the city.

DeLang's Store

Carleton Street
Fredericton, N. B.

Visit Our Luncheonette
Fountain
KENNETH STAPLES DRUG
COMPANY

CASH &
ARRY
LEANERS
"Artists in the Cleaning Art"

644 Queen St. Phone 1629

D. W. Olts & Son
INSURANCE AGENTS
AND BROKERS
This office handles the Student's Medical Reimbursement Policy for the students of the University of New Brunswick.
Phone 689
604 Queen St. Fredericton

Let us do your Photographic
Work

If you are anxious to have the best

The
HARVEY STUDIO

IF IT'S A
Hot Meat Sandwich
—OR—
HOT CHICKEN
YOU WANT — TRY THE
EUREKA GRILL
Queen St. W. E. Gregory Prop.
24 Hour Service

Gaiety and Capitol Theatres

GAIETY
MON., TUES., NOV. 12-13
"THAT'S THE SPIRIT"
starring Jack Oakie and Peggy Ryan
WED., THURS., NOV. 14-15
"NATIONAL VELVET"
with Mickey Rooney and a Great Cast
FRI., SAT., NOV. 16-17 George Raft and Joan Bennett in
"NOB HILL"

CAPITOL
MON., TUES., WED.,
NOV. 12-13-14
Kay Francis and Bruce Cabot in
"DIVORCE"
also "JEALOUSLY" with John Loder and Karen Morley
THURS., FRI., SAT.,
NOV. 15-16-17
Charles Starrett in
"BOTH BARRELS BLAZING"
also "RIVER GANG"
Starring Gloria Jean

Eager Beaver

(Continued from page three)

coast, prepared for annual stag to celebrate, over the squeeze of grape, the escape from the banshees. Plans drawn up included much revelry and verily it was decided proper that the eve should begin with the traditional beercery and end with a teary adieu.

On the eve preceding dragbag the warrioresses from the land of Norm didst wage contest and verily didst fifty stalwart venture forth to retreat broken and bent while the eve was still young. Verily, We hadst had it!

And verily doth scribe warn of vengeance of come in the land of the Lodge on the old wolf who doth listen in as warriors talk to fair maides and with much leering and gleam of eye doth copy down names and numbers in little book.

As scribe must off with a verily, he doth plug danz of Junior from the land of Cabaret and warn warriors of the tunnel and their fate if they ventureth in.

Reading Rumors

(Continued from page three)

in. Many a Poppy Yokum chewed the end of his celery corsage and complained to Mammy because it wasn't salted. At intermission Dog-patchers and Shunk Hollowers fled to the hills where they proceeded to refuel on Burpsi-Boomsa and wrestle with Polar Bears. Every now and then the air was pierced by the golden voice of Timberwolf McHowl.
A few (lonesome?) Polecats made off with the attractive posters and other decorations early in the evening. (Who in heck got that jug of xxx 2-3?). To Spuddy Loughlin and her "committee of little helpers" goes a barrel of credit for a rip-roaring evening of fun and frolic.
Toons were provided by the Depot Orchestra. We would also like to thank Miss Whimster, Prof. Grant and Prof. and Mrs. Smethurst and hereby award them the Pol'chop Medal for their courage in entering Pineapple Jim at a time of organized jitterfare.

Events of the Week

(Continued from page one)

Meeting in the Ladies Reading Room, the 'voices' of the college assembled to pour forth sweet music.
Under the guidance of Professor Toole the Choral and Glee clubs had another practice and the various songs are shaping up well.

The Junior Class entertainment committee met on Monday night to complete their plans for the Junior Cabaret, which promises to be the best dance of the year.

The S. C. M. met last Sunday to hear Rev. Mr. Elgee speak on "Christianity and Social Problems." The discussion ranged everywhere from studies of sociology to reforms in the county jails. The week before Professor Stewart spoke on Christianity and Modern Psychology. His main theme was that religion arose from the need of man to overcome the feeling of isolation which is at the base of the fear of death.

Newman Club—
The fourth meeting of the term was held last Sunday. The discussion centered around what was to be done at the Newman Club Conference in Ontario. Then there was a talk on Cardinal Newman by Rev. Dr. Boyd.

Epitaphs in a graveyard: Wasn't I a silly fool to stick a pin in Ed Murphy's mule?
Owen Moore has gone away Owin' more than he could pay!

U-Y

(Continued from page one)

was much lively discussion. Bob stressed the fact that the Dominion Parliament was about to pass a bill concerning Canadian citizenship which would be most dangerous to the welfare of the country. He stated that the S. C. M. had already sent a telegram to Ottawa expressing their views on the subject.
After more talk on the part of different members the club decided to follow the S. C. M. example and also send a telegram to Hon.
Bridges, M. P. regarding this situation.

Social Committee

(Continued from page one)

A feature which is being revived this year and which is going to be popular is the serving of a lunch during the dance. An organization in town is going to cater for us, and their promises please us and we hope the lunch will please you.

'TIS AUTUMN is our theme. . . .
we do hope you enjoy this dance, and when 'tis ever it will be another pleasant memory of days spent "up the hill!"

Junior Class

(Continued from page one)

cured by Albert Stevens who will be on the gate and advertising, yea much advertising, will be showing all over the campus when Joe Kaplan gets through with this job.

The outstanding part of the cabaret will be its night club setting and its feature attractions which will be numerous, varied and surprising.

As soon as the business of the dance was over with, most of the Engineers left in a rush, but the remainder of the class carried on with the regular class business. A change in the class constitution reall members of the Junior class are eligible to vote for the Vice-President. They also suggested that a separate Applications committee be set up (not the A. A. A.).
As regards the Rehabilitation Committee they suggested that its work be taken over by the Veterans Re/Com. Then as the clock struck the room emptied in a mad rush.

Prof. Kennedy

(Continued from page one)

of terminology and then proceeded to give a description of the various particles of matter. He explained how new elements are formed by shooting particles into the nucleus of an atom and described methods in which the particles are speeded up in order to be effective for this task. To leave some matter for thought, he concluded by pointing out that there is now a new 100,000-000 betatron on the market. If anyone is interested, the last issue of "Time" contains an article on said scientific instrument.

Dr. de Merten

(Continued from page one)

as that, not yet at least. But all this undermines confidence, saps energy. After all, there are some three millions of "foreigners" in Canada: one fourth of the population.

The dreadful present result of such a state of mind is that it impairs seriously their constructive activity. Why, if they open their mouth, people smile because it is funny to hear unexpected propositions voiced in unexpected words.
People do not bother to listen; therefore, people do not understand and therefore too the "foreigner" is silly. May I point out that this is a premature conclusion? After all, they come from the same stock, only closer (in the time) to it; some have bona fide degrees, from centuries tested universities; some were successful in their former country and Ottawa published lately a pamphlet outlining what they actually brought to Canada. I feel sure that the idea of only accepting "farmers" as immigrants is not fostered by the purpose of having cheap labour. Moreover a European farmer does not know a thing about agricultural conditions in Canada.

Is it that some groups are afraid of intelligent foreigners? Is it merely a matter of keeping an easy hold on uneducated social layers? Is it that the open mind of some foreigners may wonder sometimes about persons, things or institutions?
That is surely not the incentive of the mass of the Canadian people, I am certain of that at least.

After all, the normal "foreigner" wishes to play the game, to do his part, to be "one of them": is he not, perhaps sometimes just slightly, cold shouldered on race, language, denomination considerations? Why let him in and then keep him out? If his reactions and their voicing causes a chuckle, has he not, now and again, a slight ground to wonder and perhaps—horresco referens—to chuckle a bit, he too? I feel sure that most of them just look around, try to understand the whys and the hows and to adjust themselves.

In Universities milieu such paramount questions pop up that I hesitate even to formulate them: is a "foreign" historian to teach pro or contra something? Is a philosopher to teach the tenets of the system of the people around his room? Must a professor of German spend a part of his time telling the boys how feeble and bad the German people are? Must a professor of French either show a second rate worn out film on the Grand Derangement (adding a few well seasoned comments of his or her own), or show the intricacies of the syntax with a detache air for such a poor language? Must he show the back ground of French civilization, with his pros and cons, or stop his readings at the French Revolution (1789)? In other words, must a professor teach straight, fully, competently and just expose (not propose nor impose)?

Is smiling at the sister in law of the cousin (four times removed) of the caretaker of a factory where Mr.
So and So has a limited share, also apart of the job? And do not dictators undermine, attack,—and suppress—University staffs and students before everything else?

We, "foreigners"—and I am one of the three millions—want to know, because we want to do right. Do not hold against us things we are not aware of. Insurmountable ignorance, says the Law, is not a cause for responsibility. We try hard, we perhaps even try intelligently and there is no reason, (at least so I believe) why we should not get there.

Well, this is far from the Jap of the beginning, and yet pretty close to the problem, except for those who do not wish to see what is before their eyes. In these trying times no bona fide help can be overlooked; nothing and nobody is so good as to be beyond any possible improvement. After seventeen years of teaching experience in Canada, I more and more marvel at the tremendous reaches that the virgin brain of a young Canadian could attain, if given a chance, I mean an intellectual chance. And a mere look at the Veterans in the classes shows how much road has been covered already, after all in the worst of conditions.

Build up a great and free Canada; —sane and sound—, without fear, nor fear of fear; lead them to the real goal; to be a man, a human being, "quia humanus sum"! Run the country for a principle, not against a something or a somebody. Make the young Canadian a citizen of his nation, first, and then a citizen of the Universe. It is worthwhile trying.
M. de Merten