

The said Sachins doe humbly request in request that many Indians are suddenly expected and that he should be prohibited the selling or giving of any rum Strong drink wine or beer upon severe Penalties for many Mischiefs doth ensue upon the selling of rum or other Strong drink to Indians

His Excellency told them that he was glad to see them they might be assured of Her Majestys Countenance and Protection which he was directed by the Great Queen of Great Brittain to signify to you and would give the necessary directions for prohibiting the selling of Rum and other Strong drink and told them also that he would do any thing that might tend for their future welfare and encouragement

The Sachins thanked His Excellency for his ~~condescension~~ deschenbun in granting their Request and were boldened to ask one for more favor which is that the old Sachins when they come to Schuennecady may have waggons to bring them to Albany which His Excellency was Likewise pleased to grant for which they were very thankfull

The said Indians prayed that during their stay provisions might be ordered more largely for they had hitherto before His Excellency arrival was very scarce.

His Excellency told that he would give directions that they should be taken care off and well victualled as well as they had been formerly.
