TOWN PAYS TRIBUTE TO ITS CENTENARIAN

Teeswater Holds Official Celebration to Mark Her 100th Anniversary

Teeswater can now claim one centenarian among its number of population. Mrs. Ann McVicar having last Saturday attained her one-hundredth year. The anniversary of the birth of Teeswater's grand old lady was marked by an official celebration, which was put on by the Town Council and various local organizations. Mrs. McVicar was presented with a wicker chair by the Town Council and she was given a bouquet of 100 sweet peas by the Institute ladies. Mrs. McVicar was born in Scotland on May 16, 1825, and although she has lived in this town for more than 50 years she can speak very little but the Gaelic language. She is still hale and hearty, lives alone and is able to attend to all her household duties. Her eyesight is perfect. Her husband died many years ago.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS TORONTO

Cattle receipts for the opening market of the week at the Union Stock yards were the heaviest so far received this year and considerably in excess of expectations. The offering exceeded 7000 head, whereas dealers at the most did not look for more than 5000 or 5500. Trade was none too brisk all day and over 2000 head were still unsold late in the afternoon. Prices were easier for all grades of cattle, a decline of 25c a hundred being general with some sales off 50c. In the small meats steady prices were paid for calves and lambs, while hogs were up 25c a hundred from last Thursday. Heavy steers sold from $7.50 to $8 with a few at $8.35. The bulk of the butcher cattle sold from $7 to $7.50, although exporters took some heavyweights at $7.75. Cows sold from $4.50 to $6.25, but there were few sales above $6. Bulls held about steady, with exporters taking a few. One sold at $5.75 and the balance of the heavies brought from $4.50 to $5.50. Some plain bulls sold downward to $3.50. A few baby heaves sold from $8 to $9.50. Two loads of feeders sold at $6.35 and $7 and a few loads of light stockers at from $4.50 to $5.50.

Sales of hogs were generally up a hundred from last Thursday, though the higher price prevailed sales made at the week-end. Hogs that were contracted for sold $12 f.o.b. and $13.10 off cars. Shipments that were not contracted are said to have sold slightly lower. For today's market buyer's quotations are $11.75 f.o.b. and for the midweek market they are talking $11.50 f.o.b. Receipts continued light for the opening market of the week.

The bulk of the lambs sold at steady prices, but there was an easier feeling at the close. Spring lambs generally brought from $9 to $12 each, with one at $15. A few yearling lambs sold from $15 to $15.50 a hundred. Sheep sold from $4.50 to $9.50 a hundred. Steady prices prevailed in the calf market and sales of the best were made from $10 to $11 a cwt. Medium quality offerings moved from $7.50 to $9.50 and lights downward to $4.75.

A FATAL ACCIDENT

A sad fatality occurred in North Brant on Monday morning. Jim, the thirteen-year-old son of Mr. Ambrose McGuire of Malcolm, was out with a team rolling a field. Coming to a rough bump the lad was thrown forward off the roller becoming caught between the roller and the frame. His father who was ploughing in the next field left his team, which then ran away, and hastened to the rescue. Jim was found badly crushed but conscious and he remained so until eleven o'clock the same evening when he passed away in the Hanover Hospital. His body was badly scraped and bruised in the legs and abdomen and there were internal injuries which caused his death.

The accident was a terrible blow to the parents and the mother is prostrated from the shock. Jim was the eldest son. Five sisters and two brothers now survive, all at home. The funeral took place at North Brant R. C. Church on Wednesday morning, being attended by neighbors and friends from far and near. Rev. Father Mulvale was in charge of the service and Rev. Fr. O'Shaughnessy of Walkerton preached the sermon. Three of Jim's schoolmates and three boys of North Brant parish acted as pallbearers.—Telescope.

His brother was returning from the field with the roller and Alex went to meet him and when climbing up on the back of the roller he lost his footing and his leg became entangled between the two divisions of the roller. The rest of the family came immediately to his assistance and by strenuous efforts his leg was extricated. The doctor was summoned and his leg and foot were so badly mangled that it required six stitches to close a wound on the leg, it being cut so deep that the bone was visible.
