Care Geo. Ohver, Canadian Express Co.

Yes, my offer to Rev. J. J. Ross to meet him in Hamilton in a series of public discussions of certain doctrinal points believed by members of the International Bible Students to be Biblical, and which he characterizes as Heretical, is still open. You are hereby authorized to challenge him to such a series of debates in Brantford. Assure him of my willingness to bear all expense of auditorium on condition that discussions be free to public.

The figure with middle-aged, matronly lines looks best in a one-piece gown which suggests greater height and slenderness than its wearer possesses by its clever arrangement of lines. Such a gown is pictured here. It is made of black chiffon broadcloth with sleeves and panel trimmings of black lansdowne. The row of gun metal ball buttons down the front and the tapering lansdowne panels are skilfully placed to increase the height of the wearer. On the shoulders is a touch of hand embroidery in soft blue, a most becoming addition in the way of trimming ost becoming addition in the way of trimmin
