The finance committee of the city ouncid met yesterday afternoon in Harrison Hall, Chairman Stephens and Alderman Sulman and Scane were present. The only matter before the committee was the appeal of Mrs. Et the against her assessment for frontage. The committee had offered Mrs. Etches $20 through her solicitor, Fred. Stone, but the offer had not yet been accepted, so settlement of the appeal was laid over fall the next meeting of the board.

TWILL BE HOT FOR PARDO. The faithful in Chatham are giving free expression to the emphatic ment that Robert Ferguson, M. P.P. is not to run the city offices even if Mr. Pardo, M. P. P., is willing to be pushed aside. It is said that Mr. James Holmes and W. A. Malls have strong claims for recognition for party services and that Mr. D. R. Farquinarson, being short hand reporter for the county court now, and having had much experience, is the best cumstances a vigorous kick is made against Pardo for stepping aside again to allow the appointment to the county court clerk's office of John Coutts whose only claim is that he has for some years managed 'Mr. Ferguson's private business. We would like Irish Jack to tell us why Ferguson runs West Kent, "yway.

A FINE ENTE TAINMENT.

The management of the C. C. I. Lecture Course are to be congratulated on the course are to be congratuated on the unique and artistic character of the fourth number of the season 1899—1900. The Collegiate Hall was filled to its utmost capacity with an appreciative audience. As Mr. Pemberton explained in the introduction the num-bers were all English Folk-songs typbers were all English Folk-songs typical of the different periods, some baving been selected for their musical value, others because they were types. While too much cannot be said in praise of the whole company, special mention might be made of Miss Shaw's bulled. "The flowers in the valley." ballad, "The flowers in the valley." The manner in which this lady sustain The manner in which this lady sustained some of the notes, won for her a round of well merited applause. In Rule Britania, Miss Jones raised the enthusiasm of the audience to the highest pitch and was forced to come back three times and sing the last verse. After an excellent rendering of the Death of Nelson by Mr. Pemberton Mr. Hyatt same by request The Soldthe Death of Nelson by Mr. Pemberton Mr. Hyett sang by request The Soldiers of the Queen. Of the humerous selections those deserving special mention were the diaologue The Saucy Sailor by Miss Jones and Mr. Marcil and the song Widdecombe Fair by Mr. Hyett. The marked appreciation shown by the citizens of Chatham for this high class entertainment ought to encourage the management to bring others of similar marit to our city.

Just a woman's story. No: strange because it happens every day; not romantic or thrilling, but just a story of misery and suffering such as, unfortunately, too many women endure in silence.

For several years Mrs. Thomas Sears, of St. Catharines, felt her illness gradually but surely gaining a firmer hold upon her system, and ultimately she almost despaired of recovery. To a reporter who called upon her, Mrs. Sears said:

"What I have suffered is almost beyond description. My illness has been gradually growing upon me, and yond description. My illness has been gradually growing upon me, and eighteen months ago I found myself almost belpless. My nerves were shattered, my heart weak and my entire system seemingly broken down. I had no rest night or day; the little sleep I did get did not refresh me. I have in constant agory, and only a was in constant agory, and only woman can understand what I endured as I tried to do my heusehold work. Any sudden noise would frighten me and leave me in a condition bordering on collapse. At times I experienced attacks of vertigo, and tesse seemed for a time to affect my memory. The least exertion would leave me almost breathless, and my heart would palpitate violently.
