Public Ownership and Abolition of the Spoils System the Leading Principles.

Reformation of the Present Political Methods and Protection of Labor Also Aimed at.

Winnipeg, Aug. 3.-One of the most representative audiences ever congregated in this city was held in Trades hall for the inaugural movement in the organization of an independent political party. A spirit of 65c, 85c, $1.58 and unanimity prevailed. Mr. Puttee, M.P., moved the follow ing resolution: That, in the opinion of this assembly of citizens of the proyince of Manitoba, the time is oppor tune for the institution of an organization for the purpose of reforming the political methods that now exist in the country, and of protecting the interest of the people

> In moving he resolution Mr. Puttee said that he supported the measure because there was need for a common ground upon which the farmers and the labor men could meet in unity. Their interests were identical, and Their interests were identicale, and they had been kept asunder by party tricksters. The labor men and the farmers were both being exploited by the politicians, and as a remedy he felt that an independent party was necessary. He therefore supported the resolution heart and soul. His idea was not to bring forth new leaders, but to make the voice of the people heard. The second plank of the platform taid down was that of government ownership of franchises. The people (were ready and capable of self-government and should own their own franchises.

> "More haste, less speed," and "hasten slowly," are proverbs born of experience that some things can't be hurried without loss and waste. That is specially true of eating. The Urania came in from Cleveland yesterday with a large crowd of ex-tursionists. The passage over was very rough. A party of excursionists came over from Cleveland vesterday, and spent few hours at the Eau. They had band in attendance. The Shenango came in from Cleveland yesterday with 26 full cars. Considerable trouble was experienced in landing, owing to the very high wind.

She was delayed for, about an hour. There were seven well filled cars on the excursion train from Riudgetown to the Eau last night. There were nine coaches from Chatham. The music furnished for the dancers was, as usual, of a very fine order. The playing of the 24th Regiment Band called forth many complimentary remarks from the dancers and bystanders at the Eau last evening. The Cleveland crowd are very enthusiastic over the splendid music and evidently are not backward in letting others know it. One of the bystanders, who is a good judge of music remarked that he had heard the 7t Regiment Band, of London, at Port Stanley this year, but they "were not in it" with the 24th Band. The band is certainly deserving of the praise that is be stowed upon them and it is undoubtedly due to their splendid music that such large crowds attend these excur-

"There is one thing that I wish you would draw attention to, said Detec-tive Skirving, of the Lake Erie to The Planet, "and that is the nuisance that is caused every excursion night, by the people crowding into the rear coaches As soon as the band concert is over the people all make a rush for the train, and board the ceaches at the rear, and remain there, crowded and uncomfortable, sitting on the steps, or standing on the platform when there are coaches at the front of the train that are nearly empty. I have often gone through the train myself, and told the people that there is plenty of room at the front, but that doesn't seem to make any difference. There is only one way of remedying the mat-ter, and that is to lock the rear coaches till the front ones are filled, as is done in London and other places and it will certainly be done at the Eau if the trouble continues."

freshing power. The case of Wm. Francis, of Toronto, is most remarkable. He had been pronounced hopelessly incurable, and the hospital authorities had asked for his body for dissecting purposes. He tells his own story

"I feel it my duty to testify regarding the wonderful curative powers of your new system of treatment. My case is one that baffled the skill of the best English and Canadian medical men. In 1876 while in the tropical climes, I was attacked with Tropical Dysentery in the most dangerous form, and was unable to eradicate it from my system. I was treated in the West London Hospital, at Hammersmith, England; also St. George's Hospital, Knightsbridge, London. I was under the care of the most skilled physicians in London, who were unable to benefit me, and my case was pronounced incutrable. Since coming to Foronto I have been a patient in three of the city institutions, viz., General Hospital, Grace Hospital and Simcoe S feet Dispensary, and have been dismitsed as incurable. I was admised to take Bowley's Liquified Ozone as a last recort, and at the time I began the treatment. Was helpless in bed with dysentry in its worst form. I had suffered each summer since 1876, until I began your treatment. Friends never expected me to get well. I had a large jump on the left side of the stomach the are of a hern seg, believed to be cancer. I continued the Ozone until I had used five bottles, but a permanent cure has been the result. The lump in my stomach has also disappeared, and after 18 long years of doctoring and suffering, I can say positively that I have been cured through your new treatment. I feel it my duty to zend y u this testimonial, that other sufferers may know how to act." (Signed) WILLIAM Francis, 201 Hamilton Street.
