Posey, who lived with his family some miles from town, brought the girl here after the crime and first accused another man of the assault.

DOES YOUR HEART FLUTTER?

You know heart fluttering means you're not as well as you should be. It's an evidence of impaired nerve and muscular power. To obtain sure relief, try Ferrozone; it has a special action on the heart, as seen in the case of Thos. Grover, of Cole Harbor, N. S., who says, "If I exerted myself it would bring palpitation. To carry any heavy weight, or go quickly upstairs, completely knocked me out. When bad attacks came on I lived in fear of sudden death. Ferrozone gave me heart, the very assistance it needed, and now I am quite well." For heart or nerves it's hard to excel Ferrozone; 50c. per box at all dealers.

WHY CHEST COLDS ARE DANGEROUS.

They lead to pleurisy and pneumonia. Follow the Advice of W. H. Powles, of Powles' Corners, Ont., says: "I used to be subject to attacks and although I used most everything, nothing relieved me quickly till I discovered Nerviline. I have used it for pleurisy and sore chest, and found it just the proper thing. For Lumbago or Neuralgia it's as quick as lightning. I cheerfully recommend Nerviline. The strongest, cleanest, most pain-destroying liniment on earth is Powles' Nerviline. 25c. bottles sold everywhere.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my Book on either Dyspepsia, the Heart or the Kidneys. Troubles of the Stomach, Heart or Kidneys are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Do not make the common error of treating symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the result of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak Stomach nerves—the inside nerves—mean Stomach weakness, always. And the Heart, and Kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's Restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the "inside nerves." Also for biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me to-day for sample and free Book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by all dealers.

CYPRESS KNEES.

How They Are Formed—Trees' Curious Blunt Roots.

The cypress knee is a familiar object in all the lowland forests of the south, but there are thousands of northern people who have never seen them, and there are many southern people, too, who have not seen them till they stumbled over them some dark night. The knee is of solid wood, has no limbs or leaves, is anywhere from six inches to six feet in height, and its rounded top and flattened sides give it very much the shape of a human leg bent at the knee till thigh and calf are brought together; hence the appropriate name of "knee."

For a number of years I was curious as to what part the knees played in the life of a cypress tree, writes a correspondent of Forest and Stream, for they are part of its root system and do not grow independently. They were not sprouts, trying to grow into trees, for they never developed branches, and the final conclusion was that their only use was for people to stumble over.

How and why such useless appendages to the tree were formed was a mystery until one day when drifting down a deep channel which had been washed through a cypress swamp the secret was exposed.

The earth had been washed away from the roots of some of the trees, and roots in all stages of growth were in sight. None of these roots was less than two and one-half inches thick and of uniform size clear to their tips or rather clear to their blunt ends, for there was no tip.

Nature intended these roots to grow in soft mud, and they were all right for that purpose, but when the blunt end of a root encountered something too hard to push through it bent or buckled in the line of least resistance, and this was generally toward the top of the ground, and the continuing growth of the root pushing the bend further upward made the bend closer, until finally the two arms of the bend were close together and they grew together, with one sheet of bark inclosing both.

STUDY YOUR HORSE.

If the Animal Has Mental Troubles, Try to Remedy Them.

To begin with, does your horse suffer from nostalgia or homesickness? Most horses do, and many rarely pine away and die from no other cause. We can at least, by making the poor creature thoroughly comfortable, do all in our power to "give his pain succor" and to make him happy and contented, for than homesickness of the acute and chronic form men know few more wearing ailments. Is your horse's disposition sociable or misanthropic? You don't know? Well, why not find out? Does it irritate him to have his yoke-mate or neighbors eating noisily and visibly while he does? Is privacy evidently his preference? Very well, then, by boards or zinc or tin or canvas stuff off both sides of his stall at the head so that he may eat in peace and live the isolated life which he prefers.

If he lays back his ears or snaps at his neighbors or fidgets and kicks at the partitions, etc., he does not fancy company—at least at meal-times—and he will be better, do better and (here the pocket comes in) keep more cheery if you cater to his fancy. If, on the contrary, a "shy feeder," let him see other eats; even let him by a simple arrangement feed from the same manger as one of his neighbors, which is to be tied up short until Master Dainty has eaten all he will, when, upon allowing the neighbor to partake, the fastidious one will redouble his efforts to eat just to spite the late comer at the feast. The writer has used this plan with many poor feeders from race horses down and always with the best results.—F. M. Ware in Outing Magazine.

He Hadn't Changed a Bit.

The Smiths had invited the minister to dinner. As the last course was reached little Willie, who had been closely watching the guest almost continually through the meal, looked over at him once more and said:

"You haven't changed a bit since you started eating, have you, Mr. Curtis?"

"Why, no," laughed the minister.

"Why do you ask that question?" "Because," blurted Willie, confused by the pairs of eyes focused on him, "because I heard pa tell ma you'd make a big hog of yourself as soon as you got your eye on the corned beef and cabbage."—Bohemian Magazine.

He Had Had Some Help.

The man who applied at headquarters for a "little help" from the charitable association set forth his case with so much tact and moderation that the secretary was beginning to be favorably impressed.

"I can't ask them to do too much," the applicant said modestly. "You see," he continued, in an outburst of delicacy and ingenuously, "they paid for my wedding last month, and 'twas a real swell one."—Youth's Companion.

Pain of a Wooden Leg.

"Barney's wooden leg has been paining 'im of late," said Scholes to his wife.

"How can that be?" asked Mrs. Scholes irritably.

"Mrs. Barney has been thrashing 'im with it," was the explanation.

TRIES CUTICURA, WELL IN SEVEN DAYS

"Cuticura Remedies have entirely cured me after all other remedies had failed. Up to a week or so ago I had tried many other remedies and several doctors, and spent about three hundred dollars, without any success, but this is to-day the seventh day that I have been using the Cuticura Remedies (costing a dollar and a half), which have cured me completely, so that I can again attend to my business. I went to work again to-night. My trouble was as follows: Upon the limbs and between the toes my skin was rough and sore, and also sore under the arms. I am a chef for a large cafe on Broadway, and I had to stay at home several times because of this affliction. I had been suffering for eight years and have now been cured by the Cuticura Remedies within a week. I am much indebted to Cuticura, and shall certainly recommend it to all my friends and colleagues in the kitchen. Fritz Hirschleiff, 24 Columbus Ave., New York, N. Y., March 29 and April 6, 1906."

Indian's Break for Liberty.

Edmonton, June 2.—The Indian Uellrum, imprisoned for horse-stealing, made a daring attempt to escape from the penitentiary. The Indian was working with numbers of other convicts at the brickyard. Being near the river bank, while the attention of the guard was for a moment distracted, he dashed for the bush, into which he disappeared. Guard Stewart captured his man, bringing him back at the point of revolver. Stewart was the captor of Bill Munn and his crew of train robbers in Kamloops last summer.

The body was recovered and removed to the morgue.

Fellow workmen said Roach was an excellent swimmer, but it is thought his clothes hampered him. He lived in Toronto.

ANCESTRAL APPETITES.

Table Feats of Some Famous Feeders of Bygone Days.

A generation holding critical views on a man's intelligent, or unwise, choice of parents is not likely to indulge in ancestor worship. But there are at least one or two things in which our ancestors were truly greater than we of the present day can ever aspire to be. Take them, for instance, at table. If ancient books on table etiquette are to be taken seriously, and there is no reason why they should not be, the ancestor was in the habit of gnawing bones a la chien and of disposing of them by the simple means of throwing them under the table or over his shoulder. He worked hard with his hands in the dishes, when a succulent but slippery morsel refused to come to him by means of knife and fork. He used his table napkin for unspeakable purposes and his fork in utter forgetfulness as comb or toothbrush. In one sense, therefore, he did not know how to eat. Meanwhile, in another, he was truly great for the quantities of food which he caused to disappear at a single meal were nothing short of marvelous.

The records preserved of the ancestor's feats of the fork (and the finger) are woefully thin, but now and again one of these very human documents in the form of a menu is unearthed, and tells its own story. Such is the following list of dishes served in 1334 to a worthy citizen of Valencia on the occasion of his taking unto himself a wife. Across the space of close upon six centuries the cranes and lamproys, the peacocks and boars' head of the feast made fine display. This is the order in which the fourteenth century wedding breakfast was served:

MENU.
Roast crane, venison, lamprey, Peacock, pheasant, guinea fowl, osprey, snipe, pike, Baked pomegranates, burnt almonds, vegetables, fish.
Eel pie and toast.
Galantine of sprats and cheese cakes.
Peacock, crane, pheasant.
Crayfish, boar's head and savouries.
Figs, medians and wafers.
Wines.
Saint Jagon, Brance, Burgundy and Hock.

The Italians also were famous feeders and seem to have distinguished themselves in particular during the early days of the renaissance. The Bourbons valiantly followed suit, one of the most distinguished successes being scored by Louis XIV., of whom an eyewitness wrote: "I often saw him eat four plates of soup, a whole pheasant, a guinea fowl, a large dish of salad, several slices of mutton with garlic sauce, two large slices of ham, a dish of cake and dessert." The threats of his physicians finally reduced his majesty to such meager fare as two plates of pigeon broth and three roast fowls. According to Arenberg, the great king was later in life subject to attacks of indigestion.

The little sprouts in the reign of the next Louis, though on a slightly less gigantic scale, are still amusingly impressive. The Marquis d'Armeny, for instance, put before her guests a star they came from the theater and before they went on to a dance this collection:

Pigeon soup, with lentils and carrots.
Chicken broth.
Patties of fowl, veal, capon, pheasant, guinea fowl.
Sweetbread and roast poulets.
Baked stearlings, wood pigeons, wild duck and snipe.
Cakes, sweets, fruit.

It seems a pity no record is preserved of what happened at the dance following this supper party.

A Big Fan.

A good deal of royal significance has been given to fans. They were symbols of authority in Mexico before the conquest. Queen Mary of England reposed on New Year's day in 1558 "in fannes to keep the heat of the fire." Queen Elizabeth favored the custom that a fan was the only present a sovereign could receive from a subject. Fans have not always been dainty trifles. Jean de Balzac, a French writer of the seventeenth century, wrote from Italy during the reign of Louis XIV. of the enormous fans in use there suspended from the ceiling and worked by four servants. He says, "I have a fan that makes wind enough in my chamber to wreck a ship."

The Stone Was Not Thrown.

Genevieve's father occupied the pulpit. "Let him who is without sin among you be first to cast a stone," he chose for a text. Genevieve listened earnestly to the ensuing discourse. At the close of the service her mother tried in vain to dislodge her from the ministerial pew. Genevieve stood her ground till the rest of the congregation had passed out, then she looked up with a sigh of relief. "Well," she said, "I guess they've all sinned. Anyhow, nobody threw it."—New York Globe.

A Thorough Optimist.

"Father," said the small boy, "what is an optimist?" "An optimist, my son, is a man who believes the weather bureau when its predictions are favorable and who congratulates himself on its unreliability when they are not."—Washington Star.

Its Hours.

"This watch will last a lifetime," remarked the jeweler as he handed the watch to the customer.

"Nonsense!" retorted the other. "Can't I see for myself that its hours are numbered?"

PEASANTS TAKE REVENGE.

Incendiary Movement in Russia Growing Serious—Estates Destroyed.

Tula, Russia, July 2.—The incendiary movement among the peasants, due to revenge for the dissolution of Parliament, has assumed serious proportions. Six large estates, including those of Count Vladimir A. Brombinsky, president of the Constitutional Conservative party, a marshal of the nobility and a monarchist member of the late Parliament, and Princess Vjadolskaya, were devastated by incendiary fires. The losses were heavy.

Fires get quick and certain relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Please note it is made alone for Piles, and its action is positive and certain. Itching, painful, protruding or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Large nickel-capped glass jars 50 cents. Sold by All Dealers.

Queer Marriages.

In southern India marriage with inanimate objects is not altogether unknown. A man who has lost two wives and wishes to marry another will go through a formal marriage ceremony with a plantain tree, which is afterward cut down. This stands for the third marriage, which is considered inauspicious, and the man feels free to make a fourth marriage with a third woman.

WINDSOR SALT—because it's pure, fine, clean, dry, piquant—is used by most people all the time.

The Modern Version.

"I want my boy to be able to earn his own living."
"To earn it, Mr. Merger?"
"Well, to get it."

Hypocrisy is the necessary burden of villainy.—Dr. Johnson.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite, it becomes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will assist Nature and help them to get on their feet and put the body into its proper condition. It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, now consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., discovered that by scientifically extracting and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots, taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvelously efficient in curing cases of blood disorder and liver and stomach troubles as well as many other chronic or lingering ailments. This concentrated extract of Nature's vitality he named "Golden Medical Discovery." It purifies the blood by putting the stomach and liver into healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood. Therefore it cures weak stomach, indigestion, torpid liver or biliousness, and kindred derangements.

ICE DRIVERS MAKE TROUBLE.

Strike-Breakers Pelted—Police Take Charge of Wagons.

New York, July 2.—Police reserves were called to quell several street disorders yesterday when the American Ice Co. made an effort to break the strike of the ice drivers.

The company hired several scores of strike-breakers and issued an ultimatum that if the strikers did not return to work the new men would be put in their places.

When two wagons, driven by strike-breakers, drove from the company's pier on the East River yesterday a crowd of men set upon the drivers. Clubs and bricks were hurled and the police charged the crowd, which finally fell back. Two policemen were then assigned to each wagon.

More trouble occurred on Avenue C, when a score of men set upon a driver, but were beaten off by the police.

We all have our troubles.
