(FOOTED IN CANADA)
is economical because it is so highly concentrated. By "highly concentrated," we mean that all excess moisture in the original Beef Juice has been boiled off, leaving nothing but the natural properties of beef in all their strength and purity. Always use ARMOUR'S because it is pure, and it

TAKES ONLY 1/4 AS MUCH as other brands of Beef Extract to obtain the same results. In buying Fluid Beef you pay extra for the water, salt and other ingredients added to solid Extract in making the fluid. In buying ARMOUR'S SOLID EXTRACT, you can add water and salt yourself, and be sure of its purity. Besides, this way is more economical than buying fluid beef.

INTERNATIONAL S. S. LESSON FOR TO-MORROW.

"Jesus Before Caiaphas."—Matt. 26, 57-68. Read Mark 14, 53-72. Also Luke 22, 54-71 and John 18, 12-27.

Golden Text—He is despised and rejected of men.

Teacher, better read carefully and prayerfully the four accounts in each Gospel, ere you study any notes or comments by other writers. Anna, and Caiaphas, his son-in-law, who succeeded him in the office of High Priest, must have gathered the Sanhedrim at their palace during the night, to await the rounding up of their prey by their minions, under the guidance of Judas. These religious made haste to condemn Jesus Christ unjustly, as a blasphemer under Jewish law, and deserving death; that no time might be lost in bringing Him before Pilate to condemn Him to death unjustly under Roman law.

Caiaphas tendered an oath to our Lord as to whether He was the Christ the Son of God or not; and Jesus answered—see Mark 14, 62—"I am, and ye shall see me sitting at the right hand of power and coming with the clouds of heaven. This oath proves our Lord the Divine Son of the Father or a perjurer. He came to His own nation, they despised and rejected Him, as millions of Jews and Gentiles do this day; but now—He gives the right to become children of God, even to them that believe on His name."—John 1, 12.

Every one of us take our place before the ungodly as false witnesses for Jesus Christ if we are living an inconsistent life, and while professing to be His, calling Him Lord, yet do not the things He requires. No wonder Jesus administered to Peter for his rashness in smiting the servant of the High Priest, seems, naturally, to have dampened his ardor and cooled his courage, so that he became a ready prey to the evil one in falsehood and profanity. No wonder when he came to himself he went out and wept bitterly, just as thousands have done under similar circumstances, "who walk after the flesh and not after the spirit." "Jesus on trial to-day we can see Thousands deridingly ask, 'who is He?'"

How they're rejecting him, your Lord and mine! Bring in the witnesses—where are the nine? Isaiah, 43, 10—Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord.

NASAL CATARRH AFFECTS HEARING.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 16.—Portland last night was cut off by floods from Seattle, Tacoma, Bellingham, Spokane and every point north and east of Kelso, Wash. The rainstorm that swept over the Northwest Pacific coast Wednesday night has created a condition under which the railroads are at a standstill, or greatly interrupted. Flooded rivers have washed out bridges and wagon roads are impassable.

The only trains that entered Portland yesterday were from the south; trains from the north are stalled in and about Seattle and Tacoma, and trains from the east over the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Co. tracks are stalled by a landslide at Bonneville, and passengers will be brought here by boat.

Rushing Raging Torrent.

A despatch from Kelso, Wash., says a raging torrent is rushing through the lowlands in that vicinity, carrying away thousands of dollars' worth of property. The Cowlitz River, which began to rise rapidly Wednesday, jumped to 30 feet above low water Sunday morning, and the big 800-foot drawbridge that spans the stream between Kelso and Cowlitz, unable to withstand the terrific strain, broke from its fastenings early yesterday.

Nine steamers have left Portland for the Cowlitz River to recover booms of sawlogs that broke loose near the headwaters of the river. The Willamette River, in Oregon, at points above Portland rose rapidly yesterday.

Bucknill Report On Chinese Vice in South Africa.

London, Nov. 16.—Both Houses of Parliament last night debated the unpleasant subject arising from the recent unauthorized publication of the contents of the Bucknill report, which gives the results of an enquiry into the conditions of Chinese labor in South Africa, and which reveals the systematic practice of unnatural vices in the Chinese compounds there.

Winston Spencer Churchill, Parliamentary Secretary to the Colonial Office, replied on behalf of the Government. He said it had been decided not to publish the Bucknill report, because it was unprintable and because the evidence upon which it was based had been obtained confidentially.

The revelations of the Bucknill report, although they did not bear out the statements alleged, nevertheless disclosed a condition of affairs sufficiently unhealthy and unpatriotic to seal the fate of Chinese labor. It was a matter, however, that should be left to South Africa, which was on the eve of responsible Government.

WOULD HURT SMALL FARMERS.

Estates' Commissioner Opposes Importation of Canadian Cattle.

London, Nov. 16.—(G. A. P.)—W. F. Bailey, estates commissioner, before the congested districts of Ireland commission, said the free importation of Canadian cattle would have a disastrous effect on small farmers of Ulster and West Ireland, whose capacity to pay rent or otherwise under the Land Purchase Acts would be seriously impaired.

After a time, however, it was probable their condition and the condition of the country would be improved, as more attention would be paid to tillage. Dairy farmers, who breed small graziers, would also suffer, while large graziers who bought to fatten would benefit.

Questioned by Sir John Colomb, Mr. Bailey said Scotch buyers found the Irish seller at present had practically his own way.

Hockey Player Injured.

Berlin, Nov. 16.—Nelson Gross, the stalwart coverpoint player of last year's O.H.A., senior champions of this town, while sandpapering a coat wheel of the 500 k.w. motor at the W. G. & R. factory, his hands slipped and rubbed against the wheel, burning both of them on the palms and back half way to the elbows. He also received a shock which rendered him unconscious for some time. It will be several weeks before his hands will be healed, but he expects to be all right by the time the hockey season opens.

Tolmie Marches On Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 16.—The Tin Plate industry proposed to be established by the promoters in the new factory at Morrisburg, will find their chances of a protective duty lessened by the monster petition that was presented to the Cabinet in Ottawa yesterday. Ten big rolls of signatures, representing over 10,000 farmers of Canada, were laid before the Ministers by the delegation of farmers, headed by the newly-elected John Tolmie of Bruce.

Graft Investigation.

Winnipeg, Nov. 16.—An investigation of graft charges, made by Henry Luck against D. O. England, superintendent of the public parks board, will be commenced at 10 o'clock this morning, by a special committee.

England is charged with drunkenness and general incompetency. The investigation promises to be sensational.

British Steamer Sinks.

Bordeaux, Nov. 16.—The British steamer Melrose Abbey and the Swedish steamer Adolph Meyer collided yesterday. The Melrose Abbey sank. No lives were lost.

Dining Room Chairs.

Unless a dining room be finished in Gothic style, with massive sideboards to match, there is no reason for buying high backed dining room chairs. The present way of serving by having things passed at the left while the plate is withdrawn from the right is unhandy enough for both servant and person at table without a high backed chair to provide additional chances for trouble. People do not lean back at formal dinners, and low backed chairs that do not reach the shoulder are correct. In the simple home the prestige of larger chairs may be given to the father and mother at table, while if there be an invalid or aged person the way at table should be made as comfortable as is possible by the use of cushions and shoulder rests.

They Stand Alone.

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open, frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," "pale-faced" women, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all ailments, whether of the stomach, bowels, kidneys, bladder, passages, throat, bronchia, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English.

This frank and open publicity places for all diseases a dose of Dr. Pierce's medicines, and is the best guaranty of their merits. They cannot be classed as patent or secret medicines for they are neither—being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

Each bottle will show that no alcohol or any harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. R. V. Pierce can be consulted, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as strictly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

HAD NO REASON TO BE.

I suppose you've heard that I'm to marry Mr. Green, she said to one of her old friends.

No, he replied, coldly. You don't seem to be very enthusiastic about it.

Why should I be? Not knowing Mr. Green at all, I haven't any grudge against him.

A Bright Recruit.

Lieutenant (examining soldier)—What should you do if you met an enemy on the field of battle?

Soldier—Shoot him dead, sir.

Lieutenant—Right. And what should you do if you met a whole battalion of the enemy?

Soldier—Shoot them dead, sir.

Lieutenant—You couldn't by yourself. You should fall back and give warning. What should you do if you met a cow belonging to the enemy?

Soldier—Shoot it dead, sir.

Lieutenant—Wrong. Soldier—Fall back and give warning, sir.

Lieutenant—Wrong again. You should catch hold of it by the horns and bring it into camp. Now tell me what you should do if you met me in the field.

Soldier—Shoot you dead, sir.

Lieutenant—Rubbish! I'm not an enemy! I wear the same uniform as you do.

Soldier—Fall back and give warning. Lieutenant—Wrong, stupid! I'm not a battalion of the enemy.

Soldier—Well, then, I'd catch hold of you by the horns and lead you into camp.

Lieutenant—You—

Stevenson's Grave.

No English novelist rests in a more eccentric spot than that chosen by Robert Louis Stevenson, who is buried on the summit of the forest clad Yalla, in the island of Samoa. The day after his death at Vallima, in 1894, his remains were carried to the top of this precipitous and picturesque peak by sixty sturdy Samoans, who had loved and now mourned their dear chief, Tautala. A party of forty had previously cut a pathway through the thick, tangled wood with knives and axes, while another party had prepared the grave. With infinite care and trouble they bore him shoulder high over the rough ground to the last long home, and there under the starry sky, they left him to sleep forever, with the Pacific at his feet. On either side of his tombstone is a bronze plate. One bears the words, "The Tomb of Tautala," while the other is inscribed with his own requiem, beginning:

Under the wide and starry sky Dig the grave and let me lie.

The American Buffalo.

The buffalo is the bulkiest living animal native to North America. A full grown buffalo bull stands about five feet eight or ten inches at the shoulder and weighs about 1,800 pounds. But specimens of over a feet at the withers have been recorded, and Mr. Hornaday tells me that he weighed a living bull at 2,100 pounds. A full grown cow stands about four feet eight at the shoulders and, according to Audubon, weighs about 1,200 pounds, though Henry says seldom over 700 or 800 pounds. The lower weight seems to be nearer the average run, but I have seen cows that stood as high and looked as heavy as ordinary bulls.—Ernest Thompson Seton in Scribner's.

Fish Sold Alive.

Flensburg, a seaport town on the east coast of Schleswig-Holstein, has an excellent system of bringing to port fish which are intended for immediate consumption. Instead of packing the fish in the hold of the vessel the fishermen use flat, oblong boxes, drilled with holes to allow free access of water, and into these the live fish are placed as soon as caught and are towed under water. By this means the fish are kept alive until the harbor is reached, and they are then taken out of the boxes and sold alive on the quay, so that there can be no question as to their absolute freshness.

HAD NO REASON TO BE.

I suppose you've heard that I'm to marry Mr. Green, she said to one of her old friends.

No, he replied, coldly. You don't seem to be very enthusiastic about it.

Why should I be? Not knowing Mr. Green at all, I haven't any grudge against him.
