TDANI/	DAU	חיח וו	ANL
FRAM		IFFK X	SALE.
IIIIIII	DOH	LLIIU	UILL.

0 70 4 extra fine sateen, pure 6 2 00 $9, now... 1 75 4 fancy sateen, frilled, ba 1 10 size $3 75 now... 0 50 3 prs blankets 144 by 57.

 Dressing cases
 0
 75 for 0 50
 3 pre blankets 142 09 97.

 Custard outps
 0
 60 for 0 30
 20 pres hest factory made blankets 66

 Francy glass baskets
 0
 60 for 0 30
 20 pres hest factory made blankets 66

 Francy cigst balacts
 0
 60 for 0 30
 44 50 to 44 95, nov
 3 75

 Toilet bottles
 1
 00 for
 0 43 7 doz men's socks, rib top, seamless, 2 pair for 256.

 Tadies' nealth brand combi
 275 for 150
 35 pieces of all linen crash towelling 164

 Children's do
 1
 10 for
 0 75 for
 25 manufacturei's cuds of circular pillow.

 Ladies' health brand versit.
 145 for
 10 do
 0 of 56 for
 0 23 cotto from 1 to 5 yds, 20c. tog oa t124c

 do
 do 0
 75 for
 25 pes extra heavy, Euglish skirting 24 ydls lengths 35c.

 Ladies' wool hose.
 45 for
 35 for
 35 pes dot mee's odd pants to go at greatly reduced prices.

 Ladies' wool hose.
 45 for
 35 for
 35 for
 35 for
 35 med's odd pants to go at greatly reduced prices.

 Ladies' wool hose.
 25 for
 15 met's odd pants to go at greatly reduced prices.
 <t

col. Henrietta, satin finish, 75c. Lot 6 – 4 fine mantle, coo and lynx trim for 50c. Is in siks, black, peau de soix now

COMFORTERS.

2, size 66 by 73 1, size 71 by 76 1 fine crepe cov

w 75c., and colored faille lots to the price. 'CRTERS.' (and colored faille lots of the price) (construction) ... 1 35 nice styles. ... 1 90 11 ulsters from $8 to $12, choice for ... 2 95 each.

Frank Dowler. THE GREAT CASH STORE.

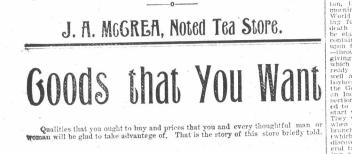

Special for Christmas

Just Received

Choice Bon-bons, in pound packages ;

Fresh supply of Butter Scotch, connoisseurs admit to be the best made in Canada; Also- Maple cream, Everton taffy, walnut, Brazil, and peanut rock; choice mixed candies, chocolates, walnuts, filberts and almonds, eating raisins and dessert almonds.

A BROAD MINDED DOCTOR Relates Some Experien Own Practice es in his

ws Will Cure His Pa

Love springs up-the neural partief. "It will give me only too much plea-jure to remain," he murmured. "I can lever be so happy anywhere as here." "Hurray, Grizzy, ye've managed that ace glowing with pleasure. "Gang was, noo, my woman, and get ben the supper." tients-Thinks Dr. Williams' Pills a Great Discovery.

Medicine Co. :

-While it known that medical practitioners do as a rule recognize, much less use arations of this kind, consequently body of them have no definite for but of their virtue or last without a tily condemn tism manifestly absurd units of the second second second my patients the best treatment wan to me, for the particular disease which they are suffering, no matter t it is, where or how obtained. I

while Jeannie's eyes were di-with a look vague and preco-towards the hills, those of the vere fixed with an anxious cupied, towards other were fix troubled expres ed with an anxicus a sion on her companion face. "I wish Mr. Denman had left the Holme and gone to Mrs. Carrick's," earld Miss Wilson, abruptly breaking

Holme and said Miss leannie turned her head in astonish man had left the Jeannie Sinclair.

THE GYIST'S VENGEANCE. CHAPTER IX.

Love Springs Up-The Fatal Barrier.

"Oh, Mary, how can "oh, Mary, how can indly as that?" exclaimes "I do not speake-unkindly, but in true kindness; and I say again that it wil ho better for your peace and his the better for your peace and his the comprehensible ter for your peace and his that uld leave this place." Your words are incomprehensible, ied the girl, in the extremity of am cried the girl, in the extremity of am-azement, may be for a moment, Jean-"They hat is only because of their strangeness. Look at them for alit-tic, reflect on their meaning, and you will understand them. I fear, only too well. I have not spoken thus without due considering a studied closely, and now I am sure that what I suspected is true -William Denman to you without due studied closely, and now I am sure that what I suspected is true -William Denman to you without game into her eyes. It passed quickly away, not, however, without being ob-served by the watchful eyes of her com-panion, and she became greatly di-ressed and agilated. "Mary chear, you are dreamlp," she faintly murured. Mary shook her head. "It is no dream; it is the truth I say; and why J. D. Albright, M.D. brought to prescribe Dr. Wil-ke Pills about two years ago, ing seen some remarkable re-their use. Reuben Hoover, ording Pa was a prominent

is the truth I say; and v be a matter of surprise are-you must be mistaken,' of me

pave had with ea this? Could Wil lead t has nd fail to more than more cellent than he n drawn forth ad his love se him," murmured Jeannie. "Did deserve all, and far more than could do for him? Were not akness and suffering he was enhim? the was en-affering he was en-him for my sake s than express my ly way possible—by and solution for my sake and solution for my sake and solution for my sake a the only way possible— b, and doing all in my powe his pain, and restore his "" ngth?" in so doing inflict on hlm a thousand-fold greater than that eviated. I well know your strong ng motive, and heartilly approve for it was right that you should n every possible way your grati-n this brave, self-sacrificing in-Having sav-d to all the You acted highl

falter

EU

Assembling house summarized of dealined the source, how year, and year and year of the stronger than that of a child. She could no longer give domestic interest of the Baronet's life. She was incapible of companionship, and so became gradually separated from his sympathy, and, alas, even from his affection. Ere long he came to look upon her as the barrier in the way of the achievement of his more about the achievement of his more strongest with, and no second purpose. Her life was effectually between him and the galization of his strongest wish, and not selfcond or heart year, dead, or nearly dead, to the wonde intelligence nothing could arouse, whose interest nothing the data fieldionate. The young give seemed to give her such pleasure as no other human being could impart. Who can explain this? Did it proced from the deep, unknown instincts of her maternal nature, which ware young in her cart that this was her child, or did she herself nother understand nor suspect the cause of that peculiar feeling that her set was the fact, and other and give pleasure to its for on mistress. awa, noo, my woman, and get ben the supper." That night when the inmates of the farmhouse separated to retire to rest, Miss Wilson accompanied Jeannie to her room. It was a pleasant chamber, facing the west, and the warm glow of the summer twilight filled it with a subdued and tranquil light. Jeannie seated hereself in a chair by the window, and her face, radiant with pleasure, gazed forth upon the rich up-lands which stand out so dark and eirong against the sky, from which the light of sumet was fading. Miss Wilson sat down beside her, and for a little the two maidens were si-lent, but while Jeannie's cyes were di-lent, but while Jeannie's cyes were di-forlorn mistress. On these occasions she frequently came in contact with the Baronet, and her appearance pleased and attracted him. He, too, was wonderfully affected by her pres-ence, and smoothed his brow and spoke kind and pleasant words when she was by. Her person, her features, recalled to his mind the wife of his youth, for Jean-nie had an unmistakable resemblance to Ladys Sinclair, especially to what her Ladyship was when she first came to the Castle. The older people remarked it, and spoke of it as something strange. The Baronet remarked it too, and it made him like Jeannie the more. Onward rolled the gloomy years over the head of the Baronet and his wife, and at length the laitter died. Now was the opportunity for which Sir Fergus had waited and longed. He was not so old but what he might marry again, and already he had set his heart on wed-ding Jeannie Sinclair. It was true a cloud lay on her birth, but the honor of primary importance in the Baronet's eyes, and he saw no obstacle to his marrying Jeannie because of the obscurity and even the stain which rested to her parentage. - No one was more surprised and annazed it the proposal than Jeannie herself, while it threw Thomas Sinclair and Griz-y into rapures. For Jeannie to be made "my lady," and the mistress of Balgley Castle-the grand fortune was dazzling, and the honor was one not to be refused. Doubtless the was joung, and the Bar-onet well within the shady side of the hill of life; but he was indonet had so munificently proposed. Jeannie hesitated, and well she might. Her young, fresh, glowing heart had some concern in the matter, and the laronet refection in reference to such a ulton would have better suited the feelings of hight of a 'wife for her husband. It was chill do a parent. Still she might ing that she had no liking of a hight wife was one probability of the learond refring any other, nor was ever such the him, and if it was only in this way here was the cool, sunless fact remain-ing that she had no liking of a hight wind heve bette

Nuts

Separated as she was in tastes and edu tation from the young men of the Strath oo one there had power to draw or fi rer affections. Why, then, should sh vail hopelessly and in single blessedness or the upspringing of a love of which here was no promise? Was it right fo , scruple of this nature to reject a posi-ion so brilliant, and doom herself to a 'fe of solitude and isolation? She did or know. She never could have decided or herself, but those about her were oi to one opinion—even Miss Wilson's ad-ice coincided with the earnest persua-nos of Thomas and Grizzy. When the day came on which the Bar-let was to receive his answer, she pro-ised to become his wife at the expiry 'a year and three months. Fain would r Fergus have shortened the period, it the deate of Lady Sheels was the Strictly No.1

Jackson & Son Fergus have snow the death of Lady S recent that Jeannie earlier date. So earlier da ir Fergus with the thought tha nd the expec ire would hatef

Robt. Mitchell, ters of the people of the Strath be used a profound secret jour, like al-ters of this nature, rumors of it ust, and the people of the Strath be nough of

2 HOURS TO-NIGH

Q

JACKSON Telephone 112.

Bress Linings 5c a yard,
Bradard Ginghams 5c a yard,
Trish Embroideries 3c yard,
Grinoline Lining, black and white 5c yard,
Another bele good linen crash 5c yard,
Gent's Scotch wood [doves 23c,
Boys' Scotch wood loves 23c,
Boys' Scotch wood loves 23c,
Boys' Scotch wood loves 23c,
Basys' Scotch wood loves 23c,
Basys' Scotch wood loves 23c,
Basys' Scotch wood loves 24c,
Basys' Sco See and you can readily believe what a bargain this really is.
Pure sik. Dest shades, 10e and 121e,
Ribbons for 7e.Furs always so neceptable for Nmas.
Here you find in their best grades.
The Astrachans, Electrics, Wool, Scals,
Beavers, Persian Lambs, at prices never so low before. have a $300 stock of chiefs that must go. The quotations here given will convince of its truth.

FRANK BROS. 24 Lower Wyndham street.

German Spoken.

THE WORLD'S BLEND Ceylon Teas

I have a fuil assortment of these celebrated TEAS-noted for their strength and fine flavour.

A large and well assorted stock of Choice Staple and Fancy Groceries, Hams, Bacon, Pork, Sausares, &c. JAS. H. SIMPSON, Waterloo Avenue, Near the Pond Creek.

JAMES I. HILL,

JANLES I. FILLL, VOICE SPECIALIST, DIRECTOR Chalmers Church Choir. Concert engage-ments Voices tested without charge. Hours ot to 12 a.m., $ to 6 p.m. Recep-tion bours 2 to 8 p.m. Studio, room 8, Opera House Block. dwly Prof. Frank B. Fenwick, F. S. A. WILL BE IN HIS STUDIO ON MONDAT mark, September 9th, and will receive from 26 to 1 o'clock in the morning and from 5.60 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Appli-mate may arrange dates, &c. dif where The be the s 30th, From osed to sing a incimornadum book which prove yond doubt the identity of the dust with word the composition. The use with word the composition. The unchild arrived at his home; but it is kept there till he arrived. He had in absent 22 days and endured a very igh three weeks' travelling. One of lindians which he had with him as yulde was a noted character amongs tribes, and one who had no fa dulet, as an one who had no fa dulet. Bianchild brought the remnins to i city, saw them interred; reported all papers he had found in Mr. Smith's f He left for Future 1 the papers he had found in Mr. Smith's coat. He left for Bute Iniet, his home, again to-day. -Lewis Morrison thinks of leasing Princess Theatre, Toronto.

Thus r nope-truit is, is a new year of the second s derstand your feelings. Examine your a heart, dear Jeannie, ay, ever so slight-ly, and the truth will be revealed to you." Jeannie trembled violently, her color came and went, and with a sudden burst of tears she fung her arms round her triend's neck, exclaiming-"God help me, Mary I-1 do not know what I feel." sobbed Jeannie, hiding her face in the other's bosom. "My poor, artless, guileless one." said Miss Wilson, bending down and tender-ry kissing her forchead, "what has come about is so natural that your na-ture must have been changed for the worse if the affections of your heart had not opened towards one so worthy of your love as Mr. Denman. But think it to the hoplessness, of the wrongful-ness of cherishing such feelings. Re-imember that you have promised to be-come the wife of Sir Fergus Sinclair." "I never knew the truth till now," murmured Jeannie, I have fell very deeply since Mr. Denman came amongst us, but till this moment I did not dis to over the nature of my feelings. I never thought of love, never dreamed of it either on his side or mine. Oh. Mary, bileve me when I say so." "I do believe your assertion to con-nature. I feel that the blame that have not fill, for well do I know the purity, the innocence, the honor of your nature. I feel that the blame that it so to late to prevent much ditter will now, for I saw the danger that hoo one else saw, and had not the alas, it is too late to prevent much theaven forgive me, Jeannie, and Heaven help you and William Nay. "My secret is as afe with you, Mary. "My secret is asfe with you. Mary. "My secret les ease and had not the alas is so too late to prevent much firends parted for the night, and Jeannie face to the tearful face of her friend age to four story were yeard of butter event the balone tilt. "Forgus Sinclair, the Baronet of Baigley. So stood the strange fact, and thus it to an about. "The gliphtem years between the two

So stood the strange lact, and thus he came about. The gighteen years between the two epochs for our story were year of bitter pain and disappointment to Sir Fergus Sinclair. They source his temper and changed his character thoughts for even Dinner Plates of all Descriptions, lips called him for the firs name of Conrad Mowbray. Dinner Sets, Tea Sets, and Toilet Sets. James Beatty, Ald. Shaw and ex-Mayo Fleming are now in the field for Toron to's mayoralty.

FAIR

Wood's

We thank the public for the generous rade we have had the past year, and wishing all a happy and prosperous new year,

We remain as ever,

The Cheap One Price Store of Guelph.

Wood's' Fair,

NO. 21 LOWER WYNDHAM STREET.

Fancy China.

Brightest in Pattern and first in quality,

Peter Anderson

MILK, MILK,

a mak delivered to all a card to H, W, COBB,

VALLEY FARM DAIRY

Bon Bon Boxes, Sugar Baskets,-Match Holders, Cnocolate Sets, Bread and Butter Sets, Five o'clock Tea Sets and

No trouble to show goods.

Toilet Boxes, Mustard Pots Cups and Sau Berry Sets, Egg Sets,

Sheriff's Extr

FAMILY GROCER.

Buy the Best.

s Refined Cide

len's terined cuer, Extra Vostizza Curranta, Sciected Valencia Alimond Crosse & Blackwell Lemon, Orang ne New Prunes, New Figs, Cocoanut, Schepp's Cocoanut, Fruit Puddine, Batcher's Nor

Our Pure Coffee is the best, ne that will convince you.

MARVELLOUS TEA STORE Grossmith. XMAS PRESENTS Roger & Gallet, Lubin, Atkinson, Pinaud, Bartro, Milot, Seeley, Taylor, They make Perfume We sell it in bulk and in fancy cut glass bo itable for Xmus gifts.

Herod & Go., Every day of the Holiday seson, we will sel oods at bargain prices. Druggists and Pertur Corner Wyndham and Cork St phone 46. MOFFATT BROS.

Painters and Paper Hangers, have removed to old STEAM LAUNDRY posite Opera House, Block.