Potato Lice Are The Latest Pest

Farmers Should Look to Their Fields for This New Destroyer of Potatoes

(Gleaner)
It seems there is always something new bobbing up to make the life of the farmer miserable, and cause him extra moments of worry. He has had trouble in gathering the hay, because of shortage of labor and too frequent showers. He was resting comfortably with the idea that his potato plants had safely passed the danger point, when he discovers a new insect that is sapping the plant, and destroying its nutritive giving qualities.

There has recently been reported to the Dominion Plant Pathologist, G. C. Cunningham, a little green insect that seems to strike a field all at once, and before the farmer is aware of it, the field is ruined. These reports have been received this week in many Aroostook fields. The insects called lice, are trimming the field badly. They have not been noticed on this side of the border until within the last few days. The laboratories of the Dominion Plant Pathologist and Dominion Entomologists are busy preparing directions for combating the lice.

Potatoes fields should be examined now for the pest. It is a tiny green bug, with sharp, slender beak, which it thrusts into the stem and leaves of the plant. In order to suck out the sap. These lice breed very fast and soon overrun the potato field in multitudes. After they have gotten in their work the leaves begin to curl up, then turn yellow and black, then fall from the plant. A few of these lice on the plant may not seem dangerous now, but they will develop into thousands in a very short time. These will suck juice from the plants, and potato plants cannot produce lice and tubers at the same time.

If your fields are infested, get in touch with the Dominion specialists on plant life. They will tell you how best to meet this new pest. Spraying must be done at once, and nicotine preparations are suggested. It is said arsenical preparations have no effect on the lice. However, your experts will give the proper advice, and should be consulted at an early date.

MR. ALEXANDER MUNRO
R.R. No. 1, Lorne, Ont.
"For over three years, I was confined to bed with Rheumatism. During that time, I had treatment from a number of doctors, and tried nearly everything I saw advertised to cure Rheumatism, without receiving any benefit.
Finally, I decided to try 'Fruit-a-tives'. Before I had used half a box, I noticed an improvement; the pain was not so severe, and the swelling started to go down.
I continued taking this fruit medicine, improving all the time, and now I can walk about two miles and do light chores about the place."

"When Can You Deliver?"

THAT'S the customer's first question, usually. How do you answer him?
Your goods may be superior, your clerks may be courteous, your store attractive, but after all, unless your deliveries are prompt and dependable, your customers will be disappointed and trade elsewhere next time. Do you realize how many people judge a store by its deliveries?
Is your delivery system on a par with the rest of your business? Does it draw new trade or lose customers for you? Are your horses as suitable for you as they were at one time? If not, why do you persist in being a little behind the times, when a Ford One Ton Truck would be more in line with your other business standards?
Perhaps your deliveries cost you too much. If you are using motor trucks, they may be too heavy for your line of business and therefore too expensive. The Ford Truck uses less fuel when handling a full load than some trucks use running empty.
The Ford One Ton Truck is a money saver, so why not modernize this department of your business at once?
All prices subject to war tax charges, except trucks and chassis.
