Get Away With $30,000.

Sept. 17.—Three men held up the Sells-Whitman late last night at Vancouver, Washington, and obtained between $25,000 and $30,000 in cash and drafts, according to a report to the Vancouver, Washington, police. The robbers were said to have knocked down Mrs. Grace Hannaford, 60 years old, and her son, who objected to the search of his mother.

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

OPEN TO BUSINESS.
BELFAST, Sept. 20.
The Parliament of Northern Ireland opened its autumn session here to-day with a full attendance of members. Neither Nationalists nor Sinn Feiners, who hold a total of 12 seats, were in attendance. The session was held in the building which was formerly the Belfast College of the Presbyterian Church. The main business of the day was a motion to approve the purchase of Stormont Castle, as the site of the new parliament buildings. A select committee also was named to consider the question of remuneration of Cabinet ministers.

THE DOOR KEPT OPEN.
LONDON, Sept. 19.
Premier Lloyd George had before him to-day at Gairloch, Scotland, the Sinn Fein suggestion that representatives of the British cabinet meet Sinn Fein delegates in conference, untrammelled by conditions. The latest note exchanged between the Premier and Eamon De Valera, sent yesterday by the Sinn Fein leader to Lloyd George, did not, however, except possibly by implication, withdraw the offending paragraph of the Sinn Fein note of September 18, in which sovereignty of the Irish state was asserted, and which led Lloyd George to cancel his invitation to a conference. As viewed here, the latest Sinn Fein note was conciliatory in character, and it seemed to place upon the Premier a choice of holding a free conference or insisting that Southern Ireland formally express its allegiance to the British Crown.

A MODERATE ATTITUDE.
LONDON, Sept. 20.
A Reuters despatch from Cape Town says that although mass meetings of railwaymen continue to protest against the administration's decision to increase the eight hour day, their general attitude is very moderate.

AERONAUTIC RACE.
BRUSSELS, Sept. 20.
Tidings from five of the great balloons, which started from here last Sunday in a race for the James Gordon Bennett trophy, were being anxiously awaited here this morning. Prevailing winds on Sunday night and Monday carried fourteen balloons over Southern England and Wales, and there was some danger that some of the missing aeronauts had been carried out over the Atlantic.

Group Government

a Menace.
All Political Parties Have Fought It.
Edmonton, Alta., Sept. 18.—The outstanding event of the National Progressive conference, in Edmonton, attended by Premier Greenfield, Hon. T. A. Crerar, H. W. Wood, President of the United Farmers of Alberta, and other heads of the farmer movement, is the definite split between the agrarians and Dr. Michael Clark, M.P., for Red Deer. Dr. Clark declared that the idea of group government is distasteful to him and that he will not stand for dictation. Dr. Clark's letter to Mr. Crerar follows:

"After our recent conversation it will not greatly surprise you to learn that you cannot count on me as a candidate in Alberta in the forthcoming dominion election. "Mr. Wood, whose organizing ability is great and admirable, seems to think he has found something new in the idea of group government. It is as old as the hills. True Liberals fought it in Britain and Canada alike, under restricted franchise and as a people, rightly struggle to be free. "The house of lords, the family compact, the manufacturers' association and the junkers and militarists of Germany (and the F.P.U. in Newfoundland—Ed. Telegram) are each and all examples of group government, and the progress of humanity has been proportional to its ability to free itself from the domination of these groups. Class consciousness is none the less class selfishness, and therefore doomed to die, because it suddenly appears in farmer and labor parties.

"After all, there seems to be only one method of working out human affairs of the political sphere. Appeals of progress must unite upon common principles, sincerely held to resist reaction, which is present like a dead weight to drag down the aspirations of the race for freedom, justice and democracy.

"These were the things for which sixty thousand Canadians died in the recent war but they will not be obtained by putting one form of class in power in place of another. "I have been fighting class for forty years. It would be quite impossible for me to turn my back on my past and the right in this election."

THE NEW DRIVER.
I said to James Augustus Barr, when first he bought himself a car, "Shun streets where crowds are thick; hunt up some thoroughfare remote, and there propel your panting beast until you've learned the trick. The half-baked driver is a frost, and many priceless lives are lost for his besotted sake; emergencies arise, alas, and then he stops dead on the gas when he should use the brake. I beg you, J. Augustus Barr, to keep off Main Street with your car, until you've learned to drive; because of drivers brash and new ten thousand sleep beneath the dew, who still should be alive." But James Augustus is a bore who knows it all, and then some more, and balks at counsel wise; and so he tooled his beat along, among the Main Street shopping throng, and crippled seven guys. And of the seven five will sue to get the money they feel due for sundry broken limbs; and two in righteous wrath have said that they will punch the driver's head, and blacken both his gums. And it is certainly a shame that bores, before they've learned the game, may drive through crowded marts; the cops should pinch such lads at sight, and straightway jail them over night, and confiscate their carts.
