Our esteemed citizen, Major Faulds, is justly pleased and proud of a medal which he received a few days ago from Ottawa, it being a long service decoration which is granted only to officers holding the rank of major who have served in the British army for 21 years or over. Major Faulds served for 22 years, 1 month and 11 days, and was one of the most popular officers in the 25th Battalion. The medal is elliptical shape, silver, with a gold crown resting on top, and the letters V. R. I. in gold in the centre. On the obverse side are the words "Colonial Auxiliary Forces, and on the reverse "Major Wm. Faulds 25th Battalion." It is a beautiful work of art, and the major's many friends are delighted that his long and faithful services have been thus recognized.

Straps were fastened around the horse and attached to a pole above with ropes and pulleys and with the aid of other horses the one in the well was lifted out about 10 o'clock, and just as the safety of the horse seemed to have been accomplished and he was hanging suspended in the air about 10 feet above the hole the pole suddenly broke and the horse fell back into the well and almost immediately expired.

The drawing for the gold watch which has been on for the past 60 days at Harris' barber shop took place on May 4th and 417 was the lucky number. We were invited to inspect the new steam laundry while running in full blast on Tuesday afternoon last, and were amply repaid for our trouble. The arrangement seems to be complete for doing all kinds of work, and some of the machines are unique. For instance the one for removing the water from the clothes after they come from the washing machine. There is no twisting or squeezing as in the old fashioned way by hand or wringer, but they are placed in a fast revolving machine and the water is literally thrown out of them after the manner of separating cream from milk in a separator. Nothing could be easier on the clothes, and the same may be said of the washing machine. We have made up our minds to two things viz: that there is nothing as hard on the clothes as the ordinary fact that every collar which goes through the laundry is handled 23 times before it is ready to go out, 3 cents each is none too high a price to pay for washing them. Manager Odell will be glad to show any of his patrons through at any time.

See the camera ad. on page 12.

Mr. Fred Love, of the firm of Walker & Love, is a good advertiser, as those know who read his adds in THE EXPRESS each week. This is not the only way in which he shows marked ability in this line of work however. The May issue of the Shoe and Leather Journal contains a photo of his Easter window, and a description of same which is certainly a compliment of no small nature.

The many friends of Homer McLay will be pleased to learn that he has passed his final examinations as M.D., with honors, standing at the head of his class. Homer is not yet of age and will not be for a few months, consequently he cannot practice his profession for a short time. He has been a clever student, and with a natural ability and liking for medicine we have no doubt he will make a clever practitioner. We certainly congratulate him and wish him every success.

On Friday last Mrs. Wm. Gordon, of Pt. Burwell, lost her purse on the street here. It contained nearly $50 in gold and bills. Dodgers were struck off and circulated around town and half an hour later the purse was returned to this office by little Gordon Thompson, who found it. His honesty was not allowed to go unrewarded. Another honest little fellow found a purse a few weeks ago containing some $27 and brought it to this office, through which it reached its owner. His name was Doan, but we do know his first name.

The Aylmer Iron Works are so pleased with orders for pumps and scales that they have been compelled to call in their traveller and will at once put on another shift of men and run day and night. Mr. Jenkins informs us that among other things the great development of the Canadian Northwest and the great rush of settlers to that country is one of the causes of the great demand for the goods. Another reason, and no doubt his extreme modesty prevented Mr. Jenkins from saying so, is the great satisfaction which all their goods are giving to the general public. Without the quality there could be no such demand for the quantity.

On Wednesday evening last, at the home of her father, Mr. George A. Moore, Miss Libbie Moore was married to Mahlon D. Martin, of Lyons. The bride was attended by her sister, Agnes, while Mr. Gordon Winder, of Lyons, assisted the groom. The bride was becomingly dressed in white organdy with white lilies in the corsage and in the hair, the shower bouquet being of bridal roses. About 60 guests were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Revs. John Morrison and J. Veale, of Dorchester. Mrs. George Stewart playing the wedding march. After a dainty lunch Mr. and Mrs. Martin left for Aylmer, where they took the evening train for Detroit.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at "Lewisville," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lewis, on April 29th, at high noon, when their only daughter, Jessie Morgan, was united in marriage to W. H. Meek, of Port Rowan. The bride looked charming in a gown of white silk crepe-de-chine, over white taffeta, and carrying a shower bouquet of white roses, as she entered the drawing room, which was beautifully decorated with roses and smilax, on the arm of her father, as Mendelssohn's wedding march was being played by Mrs. Dougherty, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. N. Baker, of Stratford, brother-in-law of the groom, assisted by the Rev. Arthur Shore, of Port Rowan. The bride was supported by Miss Lawrence, of Dresden, who was becomingly attired in a gown of bluet silk voile over pink taffeta and carrying a bouquet of pink roses. E. Meek, M.D., brother of the groom, acted as best man. After congratulations had been offered, the guests, numbering about twenty-five repaired to the dining room, which was tastefully decorated, where a most tempting breakfast was served. The groom's gift was a handsome pearl ring, while her father presented her with a piano and also a substantial check. Mr. and Mrs. Meek left for Buffalo, New York and other eastern points. Upon their return they will take up their residence in Port Rowan.
