OTTAWA, July 11.—As an outcome of the exposures before the Public Accounts Committee A. M. Burgess, Deputy Minister of the Interior, has tendered his resignation engineer of the Fublic vices Department, is the first straw to indicate how the wind is blowing within the Government circle.

Mr. Perley is to-day a heart-broken man.

says: "I have been suspended, but we not resigned." He has nothing to do, no explanation to give about the teter. "I simply await," he remarked, what the future will bring forth."

Mr. Thomas McGreevy has gone to Quecin a fearful rage at what he regards as tross indignity thrust upon him by the vernment. At the meeting of the viringe and Elections Committee Mr. ier, counsel for the Government, moved at the member for Quebec West be called an to produced the private bank books, teks, vouchers and letters for inspection ore the sub-committee. I der the head of "The Demoralization" ada publishes a strong article on the flair. It is a vigorous denunciable administration of the Governded departments of the than the Departate of Works, which is held up as dodel of honest management. The paper me of the organs of Sir Hector Langement, and the half-veiled threats made indicate that he is determined, should the Government decline to stand by him, to reveal the corruption existing in other departments of the service. The article says:

"Let us say at first that the declaration ade by Mr. Perley has caused to us the latest surprise. In accepting the gifts of doubt and uneasiness in the confidence which the State must in him, and he has created feeling of doubt and uneasiness in the addition mind, so much so that he must wend in his resignation or his dismissal becomes imminent as inevitable. Our surprise has been very great, because we had always had great respect for this man, who seemed to be solid and firm, as a cock. We thought he was an exception. No have been deceived. We say exception, and the expression is justified by facts, but from what is seen every day the proof of further peculation does not astonish us. Nepotism, favoritism, malvertation, speculation, injustice and robbery are the order of the day. The chief engineer of the Public Works Department is relatively a model of honest management. The Department is relatively a model of honest management. The paper to the natural property and the uniformly excellent, exerting a functional feducation of the devent of the uniformly excellent, exerting a functional feducation of the satistic of the uniformly excell gineer of the Public Works Department has already succumbed, and yet this department is relatively a model of houest administration. Let us look around us. Let us scrutinize the departments whose political heads got the position through petticoat influence or through other despicable means. We find there the bureaucracy powerful and the frightful results are cruelly felt by those who have not its protection. Its hideous traces are to be seen everywhere. It reigns by corruption, it lives for the spoils it enjoys in injustice and it delights in despotism and imbedility. it lives for the spoils it enjoys in injustice and it delights in despotism and imbecility. We have also the percentage blood-hounds, the commission sharks. This is an organization of another kind, but just as despicable, equally corrupt, equally deep-rooted. These bloodhounds stick to their victims with the tenacity and the courage of wild beasts. They begin by borrowing, afterwards they propose a division of the profits, and finally threaten with an astounding effrontery if they connot succeed by these means."

Two officers have been suspended, and there are reports that the same fate is in store for several others. Kossuth J. "WE ARE WITHESSES."

Terrible Case of Murder and Overwhelming Testimony to the Truth

Characteristic Address Delivered by Talmage at High Bridge. Kentucky.

this audience will attest with overwhelming unanimity.

The first proposition is: We are vitnesses that the religion of Christ is able to convert a soul. The gospel may have had a hard time to conquer us, we may have fought it back, but we were vanquished. You say conversion is only an imaginary thing. We know better. "We are witnesses." There never was so great a change in our heart and life on any other subject as on this. People laughed at the missionaries in Madagascar because they preached ten years without one convert, but there are many thousands of converts in Madagascar meany thousands of converts in Madagascar aries in Madagascar because they preached ten years without one convert, but there are many thousands of converts in Madagascar to-day. People laughed at Dr. Judson, the Baptist missionary, because he kept on preaching in Burmah five years without a single convert; but there are many thousands of Baptists in Burmah five years without a single convert; but there are many thousands of Baptists in Burmah five years without a single conversion; but there are many thousands of Christians in China to-day. People laughed at Dr. Morrison, in China, for preaching at Tahiti for fifteen years without a single conversion, and at the missionaries for preaching at Banjat seventeen years without a single conversion, and at the missionaries for preaching la Bengal seventeen years without a single conversion; yet in all those lands there are multitudes of Christians to-day. But why go so far to find evidences of the gespel's power to save a soul? "We are witnesses." We were so proud that no man could have humbled us: we were so hard that no carthly power could have melted us. But one day, perhaps at a Methodist anxious seat, of at a Presbyterian catechetical lecture, or at a burial, or on horseback, a power selzed us, and made us get down, and made us tremble and cry for mercy. It flug us flat, and when we arose we were as much changed as Gourgis, the heathen, who went into a prayer meeting with a dagger and a gun to disturb the meeting and destroy it, but the next dry was found crying: "Oh! my great Saviour!" and for eleven years preached the Gospel of Christ to his tellow-mountaineers, the last words on his dying lips being "Free grace!" Oh, it was free grace!

There is a man who was for ten years a hard drinker. The dreadful apptite had sent down its roots around the palate and the tongue, and on down until they were interlinked with the vitals of body, mind, and soul; but he has not taken any stimulants for two years. What did that? Not transfer and the tongue, and on down until they were interlinked with the vitals of body

Not temperance societies. Not prohibition laws. Not moral sussion. Conversion did it. There are thousands of people here to-day who are no more what they once were than a water lily is a night shade, or a morning lark is a vulture, or day is night. BAKING POWDER.

July 12.—A large concourse of people assembled this morning on the historic arm ground at High Bridge, Ky., to hear Dr. Talmage preach. The text was from Jr. Talmage preach and the hills and growes of Kentucky, and before this great multitude, said the preacher; I choose a very practical time. In the days of George Stophenson, the perfector of the locomotive engine, the cientiats proved conclusively that a railing a proper successfully without peril; but the rushing express trains from Liver-pool to Edinburgh, and from Edinury than the continue of the proposition of the successfully proved the impossibily of such an undertaking than the work was the Atlantic Ocean; but no sooner had they work and the water was not a first the successfully proved the impossibily of such an undertaking than the work was all proved conclusively that it as timing coll proved conclusively that was impossible for him to rise from the dead. It was shown longically that when man was dead how will be such as the provent of the wide work of the wide work the wide work of the work of the wide work of the work of t mony is in the text. "Him hath God raised from the dead, whereof we are witnesses."

"There is no God," says the skeptic, "for I have never seen him with my physical eyesight. Your Bible is a pack of contradictions. There never was a miracle. Lazarus was not raised from the dead, and the water was never turned into wine. Your religion is an imposition on the credulity of the ages." Here are hundreds of people with faces flushed at these announcements, and all through this throng there is a suppressed feeling which would like to speak out in behalf of our glorious Christianity, as in the days of the text, crying out: "We are witnesses!"

The fact is, that if this world is ever brought to God, it will not be through argument, but through testimony. You might cover the whole earth with apologies for Christianity, and learned treatises in defense of religion—you would not convert a soul. Lectures on the harmony between science and religion are beautiful mental discipline, but have never saved a soul, and never will save a soul. There are a thousand things in our religion that seem illogical to the world, and always will seem illogical to the world to the would probably take it. Now, suppose ten other men should come up and say, "We don't believe that there is anything in that medicine." "Well," I say, "fave you tried it?" "No; I never tried it, but I don't believe there is anything in it." Of course you discredit their testimony. The skeptic may come and say, "There is no power in your religion" "Have you ever tried it?" "No, no." "Then avaunt!" Let me take the testimony of the millions of souls that bave been converted to God, and comforted in trial, and solaced in the last hour. We will take their testimony as they cry, "We are witnesses!"
