KNONVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 19.—This was the situation as known at Knonville at 1:30 this morning: A Journal correspondent has just escaped from Coal Creek to Offetts, where the wires are now working. His report confirms some rumors sent in earlier in the night.

where the wires are now working. His report confirms some rumors sent in earlier in the night.

Gen. Anderson was captured by five men coming under a flag of truce. He was enticed into the village by promise of safety. Turning a corner he met a mob who took him to the hotel and produced a letter to his lieutenant, which was an order for the surrender of the stockade and fort. Though threatened with hanging, the general steadfastly refused to sign the paper, and asked only that he be shot and his grave be marked so that his family could find it. He may be lynched.

The firing which lasted all of Wednessay, was desultory. The miners claim they have killed five men and silenced the firing of the howitzer. It is silent, but probably to save ammunition.

At Offets Gen. Carnes learned that 500 miners awaited him at Knapp's Summit, about a mile from Coal Creek, and that three, cattle guards were filled with dynamite. Hearing this, he left the train and went up on the side of a narrow valley, and is now within two miles of Coal Creek waiting for daylight.

The Journal correspondent, knowing the temper of the miners and of the militia, fears a bloody fight at daylight.

The Fall River Tragedy.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Aug. 18.—When asked why he murdered Mr. and Mrs. Borden Peckham said he had a good reason for doing it—which he did not state. Mr. Fleet asked him what clothes he wore when he committed the crime and he replied, the same ones he now wore. He was asked if they were not spotted with blood and he replied no, there were no spatters, because the first blow caused death and atopped the heart's action. He said he struck the other blow by way of precaution. He then told the deputy marshal that he expected no sympathy and wanted to be held. He had borne the knowledge of the crime as long as he was able and now wanted relief of mind.

There is scarcely a doubt but that Peckham is crazy.
