A wallop over the chest that Charles Waldchuck, a Pole, gave Joseph Wulcher, another Pole, on April 18 last, will cost Waldchuck well over $90 and it was only at the request of the plaintiff's solicitor that Magistrate Love allowed Waldchuck to go on suspended sentence when he appeared in court this morning.

The men had not been friends for City Solicitor Meredith. He has been some time and, according to Albert Benham, foreman of the Grand Trunk gang, on which both men were employed near the Cove bridge, he heard swearing, and, on remarking The commission that those men would go to church on and will take up the question. Sunday, and then swear on Monday, Wulcher said Waldchuck did not go to church, but went to the devil. Waldchuck immediately picked up the handle of a heavy jack and struck Wulcher across the chest with it. Then he hit him again across the back. The blows were so severe that Wulcher had internal hemorrhages and to lowering the depth of water at the has been laid up ever since. Dr. J. B. Times Praises Sir Wilfred

London, May 5.- The Times says Sir Wilfrid Laurier's insight is equal to his great experience. He has never been excelled in the clearness of vision and the felicity of phrase and passage in which on Tuesday he outlined the relations between the British governorsegeneral and the systems of national selfgovernment over which they would be sent to preside. Wilfrid, it says, speaks on all constitutional topics with something of the fervor and imagination of Gladstone. The Mail, in an article on Sir Wilfrid Laurier's remarks regarding the choice of a viceroy, says that, coming from a statesman of great experience and French descent, these reflections are flattering to our national pride. Any departure from the present practice would be productive of harm. The Standard describes the scene at Ottawa as memorable
