THE WOMAN'S CORNER

Christmas Gifts for Little Folks to Make

Simple Little Presents That Boys and Girls May Give.

[By Cynthia Grey.] Christmas is coming, boys and girls! Goming real soon, too-much sooner than you think.

When it's here you'll want some nice presents to give mamma or aunty and all those grown-ups who do so much for you.

So here are a few suggestions hold them in place, instead of using the ribbon. This would be a suitable

A PRICKED CANDLE SHADE. Cut a half-circle of very heavy paper or light cardboard, taking a smaller the family by cutting the pieces out circle out of the centre of it for the of heavy cardboard and covering them

Dainty Pin Tray. will be very welcome presents, in- the more than the true half-circle at deed. You'll enjoy your own Christmas a great deal more if you help others to be happy, too, and there's no better way of showing your love than to really make a little gift for the loved one with your own hands. You'll find all these things easy to You'll find all these things easy to on the shade, prick out the pat-make, but you must be careful and tern with a large needle or pin. The take pains, for you want them neat light will shine through these little

A PIN TRAY. This pin tray is nicest when made of heav. linen, but it can be made of stiff paper. Have the piece of cloth some longer than it is broad (No. 1), and fold it sharply along the dotted line. The portion outside of the line will be the rim. To make the rim stand up, punch two holes on either side of each corner and run baby ribbon through them, tying a little bow on top of each big one for the floor; it all depends on the size it is made.

Cardboard or stiff paper is suitable for the small ones. Cut four pieces shaped like Fig. 1. Make two holes on each of the sides. through which narrow ribbon is tied to hold the sides upright. Cut a square piece

CYNTHIA GREY'S CORRESPONDENTS

ADVERTISER PATTERNS

BEAUTY PATTERN COMPANY

STYLISH LITTLE TOP GAR-

MENT-GIRL'S COAT. MENT-GIRL'S COAT.

In velvet, plush, caracul or cloth this model will be very effective. The model is box-shaped and has plaited extensions at the side back. The sleeve may be made in bishop style or as a one-piece coat sleeve. A notched collar that may be of velvet finishes the neck edge. The pattern is cut in five sizes, 4, 6, 8, 10, 12 years. It requires four yards of 36-inch material for the 12-year size. A pattern material for the 12-year size. A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

PATTERN DEPARTMENT OF THE ADVERTISER.

Please send above mentioned pattern, as per directions given below, to Name
Street Address
Town
Province
Measurement-Bust Waist
Age (if child's or misses' pattern)

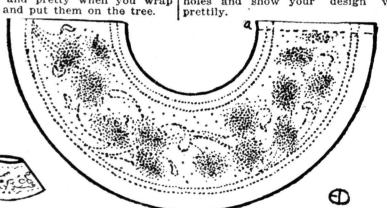

CAUTION.—Be careful to inclose above illustration and send size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is bust measure, you need only mark it 32, 34 or whatever it may be. When in waist measure, 22, 26 or whatever it may be. If a skirt, give waist and length measure. When misses or child's pattern, write only the figure representing the age. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from the date of order. The price of each pattern is 10 cents in cash or in postage stamps.

PATTERN DEPARTMENT. LONDON ADVERTISER.

one edge, so that there may be some-

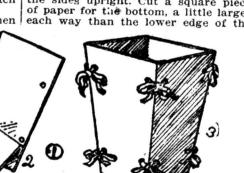

Find some decoration would like to use, and laying thing to paste over as a lap (Line

Pricked Candle Shade.

A CONVENIENT LITTLE BASKET This may be a little scrap basket for a sewing table or a dresser, or a

Dear Miss Grey: 1. Please tell me how to dress my hair without switches or puffs. I am 22 and married, 2. Are announcement cards sent to friends who already know of the wedding? 3. Should foods be conveyed to the mouth from the end or the side of the A READER. A .- 1. The centre part and the low pompadour are both fashionable. Use the one most becoming. Then coil the hair very loosely in the back on a line with the top of the head. 2. They are employed only when the wedding has been private, and sent on the day of the wedding to the friends and relatives of the bride and groom. 3. Preferably the end.

Dear Miss Grey: Please give me recipes for marble cake, fruit salad and cabbage salad. THE COOK

A .- Marble Cake .- For the white part cream one-half cup butter and and shows one-quarter-inch vone cup sugar; add one-half cup sweet dots at intervals of two inches. to this the well-beaten yolks of four often causes. eggs, one-half cup melasses and onehalf cup sour milk. Sift with one ture and add one teaspoon soda dis- upper edge are tendrils drop in a spoonful of each kind alter- border is worked out.

Fruit Salad .- Arrange on beds cress alternate layers of shredded pineapple, sliced bananas and sliced tailored and semi-dress hats. oranges, sprinkling each layer with powdered sugar. Cabbage Salad .-- Chop cabbage fine. eason with salt, cayenne pepper and ugar, add celery seed, a little olive il, cream and vinegar to taste.

Dear Miss Grey: Is it permissible to se stationery with return address rinted thereon in social correspond- and are more fashionable in but-A.-No.

Dear Miss Grey: 1. My hair is very one built on mannish lines thick, but is short. How can I make strictly tailored it grow? 2. What will remove India! ink stain from a white shirt? 3. Is Mary Baker Eddy living? 4. Should banded in so closely about the feet. a black and white serge suit be trim- Coats also are tight and close, med with black or white?

COLLEGE GIRL. A .- 1. Massage with finger tips dip- and revers. ped in cold water and brush frequently. Don't use patent tonics-let well enough alone. Few women have thick hair and you are fortunate. 2. Oxalic suit, dress or wrap is trimmed with acid dissolved in water. Rinse well in fur. clear water. Use precautions, as this acid is poisonous. 3. Yes. 4. Black.

will add very greatly to the beauty of | sides. The tapering shape of the basthis pin tray, and some people prefer ket will hold it in shape.

to sew little snaps on the corners to

A more secure way of fastening in the bottom is to cut it enough wider on one edge to allow for it being glued to one of the side pieces and bent over into shape. Large baskets may be made after this pattern by the older members of with cretonne or tapestry. When made of cloth the sides would be better sewed together than tied with rib-

A WAX MOLD.

This is a little mold of wax to go n somebody's work basket. Any girl or boy can make one by meltng some beeswax over a fire and hemming it and running an elastic then pouring it into a thimble to hard-en. However, the thimble must first of chopper it will shield it from the have been greased on the inside so that dust. the wax will not stick to it.

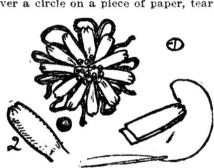

Wax Mold.

Take a little piece of baby ribbon and dip the two ends of it into the melted wax after it has been poured into the thimble. When the hardens, the little ribbon will be held fast, and will make a handle to hold the mold up by.

A FLOWER SACHET.

Two colors of ribbon are required at the crossing in the middle. The ing the paper away when the loops are all made. Put some knots of yellow silk in the centre to cover your stitches, and imitate the center of a Then take a few stitches in the end of each petal-loop (Fig. 1) to children! make it look rounded on the edge. Sew some loops and ends of green ribbon behind it to suggest leaves. Make a sachet of one of the petals by sewing it up on both sides and filling it with sachet powder (Fig 2.)

DAILY MENU

BREAKFAST. Grapes.

Steamed Hominy and Cream.
Codfish Fried in Batter.
Creamed Potatoes. Sliced Cucumbers.
Raised Muffins. Coffee. LUNCHEON.

Lobster Salad in Lettuce Nests. Rolled Bread and Butter. Plum Conserve. Sponge Jumbles. Tea.

DINNER.

Clam Broth. Oyster and Clam Pie with Vegetables. Sliced Tomatoes. Celery. Parker House Rolls. Peach Dumplings, Steamed. Hard Sauce. Coffee.

FASHIONS

One of the latest novelties in the shadow veilings has the fine, filmy mesh in a large delicate leaf pattern. milk and two and one-half cups flour addition of a velvet or chenille dot sifted with two teaspoons baking pow- will do much to make this type of der, the white of four eggs beaten veiling more becoming, as the instiff and one teaspoon vanilla. Dark tense black helps bring out the clear part. Stir until smooth one-half cup colors of the complexion and dispels butter and one cup brown sugar. Add the greyness which a close fine mesh

A new veil of the cobweb variety and one-half cups flour, one teaspoon is about two yards long and has an each cloves, cinnamon, mace and grat- attractive floral border at the lower Stir in part of this mix- edge. Apparently hanging from the solved in a little sour milk and the stems with tiny leaves of a heavier rest of the flour. Butter cake pan and silk thread, the same in which the Large wings are in demand for

Shaded or omber plumes, willow in style, are favored for large dressy

The frills about the throat called clown collars are popular for young

Children's boots are worn high ton than in lace. The popular suit of today is the Skirts are tight, but they are not short hip jacket and narrow skirt! established mode for

The cut of the skirt is still very narrow, though the banding in at the hem has been given up.

The full-length wraps preserve the straight figure line and are very narrow in cut. At the bottom edge they are no wider than the hip measurement. Many of them lap far over at the left side and are fastened almost their entire length.

ALL AROUND THE HOME

[CYNTHIA GREY.]

If ice cream is accidentally spilled on a silk waist try using alcohol to remove the grease blemish. Much labor may be saved if pastry is mixed several hours before it is required. Always keep it in a cool place. If a kettle burns dry take it from the stove and place immediately in cold water. This will save the food from tasting burned. A good cover for a food channer i made by taking a round piece of cloth,

BY LOUIS TRACY.

Author of "The Stowaway," "The sage," "The Wings of the Morning," Etc.

Alec, hastily examining his prize, found that three chambers were loaded. He was about to search for a crack in the door through which he could fire at least one telling shot, when his ear caught the prancing of horses on the paving-stones. Joan, thoroughly enlightened now as to their common peril, had behaved with admirable coolness sice Alec implored her not to stir from the corner between door and window. She was sure they would all be killed, and her lips moved in fervent prayer that death might be merciful in its haste; but she was not afraid; that storm of tears had been succeeded by a spiritual exaltation that rescued by a spiritual exaltation that rescued her from any ignoble panic. Yet her sense the petals of the flower, fastening it each time with a few stitches at the crossing in the middle. The easiest way to do this is to sew it over a circle on a piece of paper, tear-over a circle on a piece of that storm of tears had been succeeded So, when her eyes met Alec's, and she saw that questioning look in his face, she smiled at him with a radiant confidence that was astounding at such a

"Heaven has been good to us, dear," she said. "Your soldiers are here. Your enemies are running away. Listen! they are fighting now on the stairs. The unhappy men who raved for our lives will lose their own. Can nothing be done to save them?" street was full of hussars, and directly beneath, mounted on an excited horse, beneath, mounted on an excited horse, Stampoff was giving furious orders which evidently demanded an energetic storming of the hotel entrance.

Alec threw open the window and leaned out. "Just in time, old friend!" he cried. Stampoff heard him and looked up. "God's bones!" he roared. "Here is the King safe and sound. At them, my children! Dig them out with your sabres! Don't leave a man allve!"

"Stop!" shouted Alec. "No more slaughter! I forbid it!"
Stampoff wheeled round on his charger

Stampoff wheeled round on his charger Stampoff wheeled round on his charger and addressed the press of soldiers who had been unable to take any part in the street clearing, since the mob broke and fled when the first rank of plumed caps and flashing swords became visible.

"You hear, my children," he vociferated. "Don't harm anybody who does not resist. The King's command must be obeyed!"

Joan, of course, could only guess what was being said; but she could not fail to recognize the sounds of conflict on the recognize the sounds of conflict on the stairs. Men are strangely akin to tigers when they see red, and the tiger's roar when he pounces' on a victim differs greatly from his own death scream. Alec, powerless to move Stampoff, who believed, rightly, as it transpired, that the tringleaders were foremost in the attack. ringleaders were foremost in the attack.

"Release that fellow," he said. "If I am able to make my voice heard through the racket, I can put an end to this butchery."

to the cup of coffee I left in the restaurant. Meanwhile, Joan must be taken to her room. She is going to faint, and the Lord only knows what has become of her maid!"

Alec was at Joan's side before Felix had made an end. "You will not break down now, sweetheart," he cried. "All danger is over, and, with God's help, you will nover witness such a scene in Del-danger is over, and, with God's help, you will never witness such a scene in Delgratz again."

"I feel thred," she sighed. "I know quite well I am safe, Alec. Somehow, I hardly thought you and I should die today. We have things to do in the world, you and I; but those horrid men frightened me by their shrieks. It must be awful to pass into the unknown—like that!"

She sighed again. To her strained vision Alec suddenly assumed the aspect of Henri Quatre's gilded statue on the Pont Neuf. It did not seem to be in the least remarkable that the statue should leap from his horse and take her in his arms. She was absolutely safe and content. She felt she could rest there a while in safety. when the door was opened, the So, when the door was opened, the King experienced no difficulty in carry-ing Joan through a scene of bloodshed that would certainly never have been blotted from her mind had she remained conscious. Stampoff's commands had been obeyed, and the place reeked of the shambles; but the girl was happily as heedless of its nightmare horrors as the hirty-one men who lay there dead or dying.

Alec bore her out into the street. The Alec bore her out into the street. The sight of him was greeted by a sustained cheer from the troops and the loyal citizens who were now threatening a riot of curiosity and alarm, since the news had gone round that the King was being done to death by rebellious soldiery in the Furst Michaelstrasse, and Delgratz was hurrying to the rescue.

Joan, revived a little by the fresh air and bewildered by the shouting throng that messed around the King, opened her eyes. "Where am I?" she whispered, delightedly ignorant of the fact that she was nestling in Alec's arms under the Skirts are tight, but they are not banded in so closely about the feet. Coats also are tight and close, but they have reached a normal length and are no longer all collar, cuffs and revers.

Velvets will be the rage this winter, and more frequently than not the suit, dress or wrap is trimmed with fur.

The tailored two-plece suit with

Great Annual

Mill End Sale

Starts Thursday, Nov. 3rd

Bigger, better, grander than ever, we launch forth our Annual Mill End Sale Thursday morning. No need to go into detail, how we have planned for weeks to secure sufficient quantity, superior quality and great price concessions in order that this Mill End Sale for 1910 shall eclipse any previous sale in our history. Success has crowned our efforts, several mills contributing the pick of their surplus stocks, discontinued lines, mill ends and factory seconds, for this big bargain event. Most of the goods are absolutely perfect; some are slightly soiled or have insignificant and hardly noticeable imperfections. All are thoroughly dependable and worth far more than the ridiculous sums at which they will be offered.

SEE WEDNESDAY'S PAPERS for detailed price list. Watch our window displays and come Thursday morning early with your shopping list.

AGENTS FOR HOME JOURNAL PATTERNS.

AND CARLING STREETS

was nearly incoherent with fright; but Felix managed to reassure her, and piloted her skillfully out of the hotel by an exit that concealed the grewsome staircase.

The glittering escort of soldiers surrounding the carriage pressed into the King's service served to complete the illusion insisted on by Poluski, and Pauline rejoined her mistress, firm in the con-viction that the tumult was an outlandish-Serbian method of merrymaking. Alec. having seen the carriage started on its short journey, approached Stampoff and wrung his hand. "It was a near thing, general," he said. "Five minutes later and we should have been in another world."

He spoke in French, and Beaumanoir heard him.

ther work.

He spoke in Frenc.,
neard him.
"Not a bit of it," said he. "That anarchist johnny carries about with him the finest assortment of bombs. By the bally thing? I'll nocket when I the finest assortment of bombs. By i way, where is the bally thing? swear I put it in my pocket when grabbed that joker through the door. He ran to the window. Those leaden blasts that had swept the room from the first floors of the opposite houses had ceased, and not one pot-valiant marksman of them all was to be seen; but the man of them all was to be seen; but the war office like a madman. Had any to the war office like a madman. Had any should not have believed it."

"Then you heard nothing of a waiter from this hotel, a waiter named Sobie-

"Nothing, your Majesty. Bosko was undoubtedly the first to arrive with the news, and all was quiet at the President's as I rode past. I noted that especially. By the way, Prince Michael is herecame this morning, I am told. The Princess accompanied him. Does your Majec ty intend going to them at once? I have already sent to orderly to announce your safety."

Alec looked at his watch. "Five minsafety."

Alec looked at his watch. "Five minutes past four," he said. "No, general, I am due at the university. I like to be punctual; but this slight delay was unavided by the state."

avoidable. I shall see you at dinner to-night, and I suppose you will clear the city of these idiots of the Seventh Regiment before sunset. By the way, a word before we part. You saw the lady whom before we part. You saw the lady whom I brought from the hotel and placed in the carriage?"
"Saw her, your Majesty? Judas! Thirty years ago I should have striven to rescue her myself."
"It was she who rescued me, general, he and the little humpbacked man. Exactly how they managed it I do not know as yet; but tonight you shall hear the whole story. At present it is enough that would should be told the one really important fact. She is my provinced important fact. She is my promised With a smile and a farewell hand-wave Alec mounted a troop horse and rode away with Beaumanoir in the direction the racket, I can put an end to this butchery."

Beaumanoir let go the arm, and a body fell on the other side of the door.

"You are too late, I hope," he said quietly. "My prisoner took the knock just before you spoke. I felt it run through him. He shook like a pony under the spur. And you're wrong, you know. This gang must be cleared out." He peered through the broken panel. "It's all over," he added. "No flowers, by request."

Felix was peering up at them with his bright, crafty eyes. "Queer thing!" he growled. "In my first honest fight I have been on the side of tyranny. If you young gentlemen will be good enough to remove the barricade and give orders to have the passage cleared, I can go back to the cup of coffee I left in the restaurant. Meanwhile, Joan must be taken to he room. She is goingest of girl and the present of the composition of the university.

With a smile and a farewell hand-wave Alec mounted a troop horse and rode away with Beaumanoir in the direction of the university.

Sampoff looked after him with an expression of the utmost dismay on his weather-beaten face. "Gods!" he mutter-ed. "A wife, and a pretty foreigner, too, that is a bird of another color. What will Prince and Princess Delgrado say now, I wonder? What will Kosnovia say, when it is in every man's mind that you should marry a Serb? And what mad prank of fortune sent her here to-day? By thunder! I thought things were quieting down in Delgratz, but I was wrong—they are just beginning to wake up!"

Mutterings of Storm.

Before Joan's carriage had travelled nundred yards it was halted by a loud ommand. An officer, galloping at the head of a detachment of cavalry, sought news of the King, and an escorted vehicle coming from the upper end of the Furst Michaelstrasse promised developments. Joan was startled back into conscious-ners by the sudden stoppage. The excit-ed babble going on without was incom-prehensible and therefore alarming, nor did the polite assurances of the officer the polite assurances of the officer as he bent in the saddle and peered in at the window while he aired his hes t the window while he aired his best rench, serve to still this fresh tumult her veins. french, serve to still the first in her veins.
"What is he saying?" she asked Felix, turning her frightened eyes from the urbane personage on horseback to Paluski's intent face.
"The man sent to rescue the King," was the explanation. "He says the body-guard received warning less than two

"Tell him the King is safe now." "Oh, he knows that already. What puzzled him is the fact that the troops at the war ministry, which lies beyond the President's house, should have reached there before him."

"What does it matter, since help came in time? Please bid the coachman go on. in time? Please bid the coachman go on.

I—I would like to be the first to let Princess Delgrado know that her son has escaped from those horrid men. Who were they? Why should they want to kill Alec?" Felix did not obey her behest instantly. He exchanged some hasty words with the guard receiv minutes ago.

Years of Suffering A Desperate Case of Catarrh in the Head.

"My father had catarrh in the head for a long time. It was such a desperate case that he didn't know what to do, but one of his friends recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla. He got a bottle immediately, and as soon as he com-menced taking it he felt relief and after the use of two other bottles he was completely cured. He was so well pleased he has ever since recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla." Delle Aline Begin, Levis, P. Q. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today. Sold by all druggists everywhere.

Two Minute Talks About

for Coal or Wood

Great care is exercised in Why making, cleaning and polishing it's so the Pandora Castings. That is Easy why they are so very smooth. to The Gooking-Top is burnished. It is smooth as glass. Doesn't Keep catch the dust. Requires but Clean little black lead once a week.

You want a range that is easy to clean-that bakes perfectly-that saves fuel--that is guaranteed to satisfy you. The Pandora is that kind of a range. See it at our agent's in your locality.

McClary's

Stands for Guaranteed Quality

Toronto, Montreal, Winnipeg ancouver, St. John, N.B., Hamilton, Galgary FOR SALE BY J. Maker, 256 Dundas street; J. A. Brownlee, 385 Talbot street;

J. A. Page, 807 Dundas street.

Once worn-Always worn

Cleans silver — without rubbing That's the reason for WONDER-SHINE. Simply dip articles, silver, gold or plated-ware, in

WONDER-SHINE, then rinse and dry with a soft cloth. All tarnish disappears instantly—the beautiful lustre of new silverware returns. Try it—Remember to ask for WONDER-SHINE. At your dealer's, 25c. package. Household Convenience Co., Ltd. Toronto - Ontario strange officer, who chanced to be Dra-kovitch, and answered Joan's questions only when the cab resumed its journey. "Have you forgotten the part played by the Seventh Regiment in the recent history of Delgratz?" he asked.

"But still I do not understand why they should turn against Alec. I have at least sufficient intelligence to recall the avowed object of their crime—the restoration of the Delgrado line. To be Continued.

tory of Delgratz?" he asked.

"I remember something about them. Alce disbanded them. Oh—they were the soldiers who revolted and murdered the late King and Queen."

"Exactly. Do women ever read the newspapers intelligently, I wonder? You state a most remarkable fact, considering that this is Delgratz and your future capital, as coolly as if it had happened in Kamschatka."

To be Continued.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothir. 3 Syrup has been used for over THIRTY YEARS by MILLIONS OF MOTHERS for their CHILD. SOFTENS THE CHILD. SOFTEN