

For the Woman of Today

ATTRACTIVE DECORATIONS
AT CHURCH BAZAAR

The parish hall of Cronyn Memorial Church presented a most pleasing picture Thursday afternoon and evening, when unusually artistic decorations and pretty costumes featured the bazaar held by the ladies of the congregation. Pink and white formed the leading color scheme, the pillars wound with pink and white blossoms and greenery, and a dainty trellis work of the same, presenting a pretty setting for the white dresses of the fair attendants. In the tea-room the oriental hangings and pink-shaded lights gave a most charming effect. Mrs. Orr, convenor of the tea-room committee, poured tea at a table prettily centred with pink tulips, and small vases of the same dainty blossoms adorned each individual table. Assisting in the tea-room were Mrs. Scarslett, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. Atkins, Mrs. Eby, Mrs. Sanborne, Mrs. Down, Mrs. Anstey, Miss Nita Black, Miss Vera Keene, Miss Ward, Miss Seaborn, Miss Eckert, Mrs. Hayman and Mrs. Davidson.

Songs We Used to
Whistle and Sing

"Good Wishes," Alisa Craig, sends the following kind letter in response to a request by O. C. If the latter sends her address the music MS. will at once be mailed: "Seeing in your paper an inquiry some, hoping it is what is wished for, I will copy out the air also, and probably O. C. is musician enough to supply chording for the bass."

A frog he would a-wooing go,
Heigh-ho! says Rowley,
Whether his mother would let him or no.

Chorus—
With a rowley, rowley, gammon and spinach.
Heigh-ho! says Anthony Rowley.

So off he set, with his opera hat,
Heigh-ho! says Rowley,
And on the road he met with a rat.

Chorus—
"Pray, Mister-Rat, will you go with me?"
Heigh-ho! says Rowley,
"Kind Mrs. Mousey for to see."

Chorus—
They came to the door of Mousey's Hall,
Heigh-ho! says Rowley,
They gave a loud knock, and they gave a loud call.

Chorus—
"Pray, Mrs. Mouse, are you within?"
Heigh-ho! says Rowley,
"Oh! yes, kind sirs, I'm sitting to spin."

Chorus—
"Pray, Mr. Frog, will you give us a song?"
Heigh-ho! says Rowley,
"Let it be something that's not very long."

Chorus—
"Indeed, Mrs. Mouse," replied Mr. Frog,
Heigh-ho! says Rowley,
"A cold has made me as hoarse as a dog."

Chorus—
"Since you have a cold, Mr. Frog,"
Mousey said—
Heigh-ho! says Rowley,
"I'll sing you a song that I have just made."

Chorus—
But, while they were all a-merrymaking,
Heigh-ho! says Rowley,
A cat and kittens came tumbling in.

Chorus—
The cat she seized the rat by the crown,
Heigh-ho! says Rowley,
The kittens they pulled the little mouse down.

Chorus—
This put Mr. Frog in a terrible fright,
Heigh-ho! says Rowley,
He took up his hat and he wished them good-night.

Chorus—
But as Mr. Froggy was crossing a brook,
Heigh-ho! says Rowley,
A lily-white duck came and gobbled him up.

Chorus—
So there was the end of 1, 2 and 3.
The rat, the mouse and the little frog-gee.

Chorus—
PIONEER RAILWAY WOMAN.

Jane Fairman, of Chicago, oldest employee of the Illinois Central Railroad Company, has been placed on the retired list.

She was the first woman to enter the employ of the company, taking a position as an accountant in January, 1870. When Miss Fairman entered the services of the Illinois Central no provision was made for women in the offices, so she was given her work to take home and for five years was thus employed. Then the accounting department was organized and she took up her duties in the general offices.

In addition to her pension Miss Fairman has been given a life pass over the Illinois Central system.

Send in Card.
Dear Miss Grey—When calling on a stranger should one send in a card or just say the name to the servant in the door? JACK.

Ans.—Send in the visiting card.

Yes, Better Call.
Dear Cynthia—Should one call on a hostess after she had been included in a theatre party?

Ans.—It is courteous and if omitted might exclude the guest from other invitations.

Taking Long Trip.
Dear Miss Grey—I am going to trouble you again. I am going a long journey, which will take me three weeks by water. I have not been home for eight years. What would be nice presents to take to my cousins and friends? I have bought a cabinet of silver. Do you think that would be nice for my mother? What would be nice to wear while on the journey, as I have a week on the train as well as I am going away, and I always send you page every week to mother, and she enjoys it very much, indeed. Please answer as soon as possible. I stand 5 feet, 11 1/2 inches, and weigh 215 pounds, and 28 years old. Am I too heavy? Yours very truly,

What a wonderful trip you are going to have! I almost find it in my heart to envy you. And how you will enjoy the sight of old scenes and seeing old friends. It will be a very delightful trip, I am sure.

THE HOROSCOPE

Saturday, May 9, 1914.

A day in which to exercise caution in every act. According to astrology Uranus, Mercury, Mars and Neptune are all in a strongly adverse aspect.

When the planets are so positioned, it is held that counter influences disturb human thought and action. Those who would escape mistakes, while the sway of the stars is so malefic, should avoid taking any positive initiative and they should guard themselves against all contingent dangers.

Uranus is in a place said to cause extremes of mood, upsetting the judgment and distorting the mental vision. The time is not auspicious for entering into any contracts or forming partnerships with others.

As the aspect tends to increase the activity of the mind, it arouses discontent and rebellion against established conditions of life. Extreme self-restraint should be exercised in social and business relations.

It is not a lucky day for journeys. Electric vehicles of every sort are subject to unusual accidents, the seers declare.

Mercury maintains a rule particularly unfortunate, it is announced, while the configuration prevails. Conditions are hot dog for business men. Publishers of newspapers and periodicals should be on their guard.

Labels should be on their guard. As the aspect tends to increase the activity of the mind, it arouses discontent and rebellion against established conditions of life. Extreme self-restraint should be exercised in social and business relations.
