A Peep at Monday's Game From Inside

"Matty" Matteson, the heavyweight catcher of the London team, is there with the brains every minute of the game. In yesterday's game the signal was given to Matty for a little bunt. The Peterboro team got wise and Belt. ing ran around to every member of the infield telling them what to do. They were all waiting for it, but that did not make a bit of difference to Matty, for he laid the first one down the third base line, and by the time the Petes woke up he was resting on first.

Thompson, of the Petes, a former recruit of the Giants, did not look like big league stuff to Beebe yesterday nor to anybody else, for that matter He stands up to the plate like a doll posing for a photograph, and the way he fans the air and misses the ball is ting in pinches, but he uses his head strikes on Thompson, Fox attempted to get a little lead off first. Matty held him there until Beebe threw the next ball, which Thompson offered at and missed, Matty catching it and throwing Fox out at second before he could get anywhere near the bag.

Dunlop made a neat play in the sixth, when he got a liner right off Trout's bat, Although the ball nearly self and whipped it to first, getting the runner.

Hilliard, the heavy slugger of Peterboro, and the only man to drive the pill over the Tecumseh Park fence this season, which he did some time ago, came up to bat five times yesterday, and every time Beebe got two strikes on him before he connected with the pill, but he always connected! and once for a triple.

"Cy" Reidy, the funniest ball player in the Canadian League, is some groucher when any of his team-mates pull off a bonehead play. Yesterday Matteson drove out out, but he saw that it was impossible to reach first so he did not run. This did not pleas who sat in the dugout talking to himself for five minutes about the laziness of some people.

The Detroiter was spied coming out of the playing grounds by the youngsters shortly before 3 o'clock. One youthful fan howled 'Rough Neck" at the fleet baserunner.
