JEWELL & CLOW'S,

THE PRESIDENT'S CONDITION EVERY DAY MORE HOPEFUL.

THE POCTORS' REPORT.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The following was sent by the attending, surgeons to the consulting surgeons to cary. "During the past twenty-four hours the favorable progress in the president's case continued. He has taken and retained twenty-two ounces of milk and an ounce of rum." This morning at 9 o'clock he had beside a slice of toast, softened in milk, and at 11.50 took fifteen grains of bishiphate of quines. There has been no irritability of the stamach at any time. Last evening at 7.15 he received a quarter of a grain of morphia sulphate hypodermically, and slept well during the night. The wound was again dressed antispitically yesterday evening and this morning, and continues to discharge a small quantity of healthy pus."

WITHIN THE SIOK CHAMBER.

The president said recently to an attendant, "I wish I could get up on my feet; I would like to see whether I have any backbone left or not." After ten days of weariness, danger, heat and suffering, the president remains brave and cheerful as at first, and is only restrained by the physicians' orders from talking animatedly with those about him. The temperature of the president's room has been maintained to-day at 75, about 15 degrees lower than the temperature of the external air. The refrigerating machine is now pumping into the room 20,000 cubic feet of air per hour at a temperature. of 55.

into the room 20,000 cubic feet of air per hour at a temperature of 55.

AN EXAMINATION OF THE PATIENT.

To-day a careful exploration was made of the entire trunk to verify, if possible, the indication spoken of by Dr. Bliss yesterday as to the location of the ball. On the whole, the suspicion was confirmed that the ball passed entirely through the liver and is now in the anterior wall of the abdomen. If so, it is not likely to give any trouble at present, and no effort will be made to extract it until it becomes necessary to do so, or until the patient has recovered sufficiently to undergo the operation without danger. The yellow tinge has almost disappeared from the president's face, tinge has almost disappeared from the president's face.

Washingtos, July 11, 8 s.m.—The president passed a comfortable night. His condition shows an improvement over that of yesterday. Pulse 98, temperature 99.2, respiration 22.

I p. m.—The favorable progress of the president's case continues. Pulse 106, temperature 99.8, respiration 24.

7 p.m.—The president had rather more fever this afternoon. In other respects his condition is unchanged. Pulse 108, temperature 102.8, respiration 24.

9,20 p. m. (unofficial.)—The president's temperature, which at the date of the last official bulletin was higher than at any time during the day, has since steadily fallen, until it now stands at about last night's figure. No special importance is attached by the attending surgeons to these daily fluctuations of temperature and pulse. At this stage of the case they are to be expected. The general condition of the patient at this hour is satisfactory.

UNIVERSITY MATRICULATION.

The Honor Pupils and their Relation to Mathematics. The numbers taking honors in the various epartments at the recent matriculation departments at the recent matriculation examinations of the university of Toronto are: classics only 11, mathematics only 26 moderns only 38; classics and mathematics 9, classics and moderns 6; mathematics and moderns 24; classics, mathematics, and moderns 27. A plain deduction therefrom is that mathematics do not crowd, out other departments as has been out other departments, as has been asserted; en the contrary, the figures show that in our high schools more students are enabled to take honor mathematics and enabled to take honor mathematics and some other department than with any other subject. Thus the above figures show that those taking mathematics with other subjects number 60, those taking classics with other subjects 42, and those taking moderns with other subjects 57. When moderns are here spoken of, those who are only taking English history and geography, and those taking French and German as well, are included.

Prowning Accident at Owen Sound.

OWEN SOUND, July 11.—At an early hour this morning Violet Wilkins, aged 11, daughter of Mrs. Wilkins, who resides on the bank of the river, went in bathing and got into deep water. Her mother, hearing her cries for help, rushed into the water to save her child, who had then sunk, and would have been drowned also but for the timely arrival of Mr. J. Douglas, who succeeded in getting her ashore. The body of the girl was recovered in a short time, but not before life was extinct. Coroner Cameron was notified, but considered an inquest not necessary.
