Toronto Saturday Night—

The feature of the fifth Military Concert at the Massey Hall was the fancy flag drill by pupils trained by Miss Edith LeLean. They introduced Major F. E. Dixon's new song "We'll Fight for the Grand Old Flag," which made quite a hit. The drill was executed with ease and grace, and the pupils were vociferously applauded and encored.

Toronto Mail and Empire—

Without doubt the feature of the Military Concert at Massey Hall, on Saturday evening, was the fancy flag drill by twenty pupils of Morse Street School, who eminently distinguished themselves. Their graceful exercises and capital rendering of Major Dixon's new song "We'll Fight for the Grand Old Flag," elicited thunders of applause, and the greatest credit is due to Miss LeLean, by whom they were so perfectly trained. It will be repeated next Saturday evening.

Hawkesbury Post—

Canada still lacks a truly patriotic sentiment. It is because our school system does not provide for it. Miss Edith LeLean, of Toronto, saw this. She not only saw that our public schools needed patriotic sentiment, but being blessed with decided literary ability, and fired with a national pride, she has been able to provide the much needed stimulant.
