THE WAY OF THE TRANSGRESSOR

When Miss Cheney, one of the popular teachers in the Swarthmore schools, had to deal with a boy who played "hookey," she failed to impress him with the evil of his ways.

"Don't you know what becomes of little boys who stay away from school to play baseball?" asked Miss Cheney.

"Yessum," replied the lad promptly. "Some of 'em gits to be good players and pitch in the big leagues."

ON HIS WAY

Patient—"Say, that isn't the tooth I want pulled."

Dentist—"Never mind. I'm coming to it."

COULDN'T LOSE HIM

Patience—"And did her father follow them when they eloped?"

Patience—"Sure! He's living with them yet!"

SACRIFICIAL

Sweet Girl (affectionately) — "Papa, you wouldn't like me to leave you, would you?"

Papa (fondly)—"Indeed, I would not, my darling."

Sweet Girl—"Well, then, I'll marry Mr. Poorchap. He is willing to live here."

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE CASE

"This car," said the agent, "will be just as good twenty years from now as it is to-day."

"It looks it," said Blinks. "What I want, though, is a car that'll be a darn sight better to-day than it will be after I've had it twenty years."

REVENGED

"Johnny, I have great news for you; I'm going to marry your sister. What do you think about that?"

"I think it serves her right."
