HUDSON'S BAY WATERS. A DUNDEE WHALER MAINTAINS THAT THEY ARE NAVIGABLE.

HALIFAN, May 20.-The Halifax Herald to day publishes an interview with Captain William Adams, the famous Dundee whaler and Arctic navigator, who goes on the steamer Alert to Hudson's Bay on behalf of the Hudson's Bay Railway and Navigation Company, to report on the feasibility and practicability of the route to Europe. Capt. Adams has had a third of a century's experience in navigating northern waters, and is confident Hudon's Bay is a practicable route four months of the year. He says naviga-tion is open from the middle of June to the end of October to ships properly equipped, with two and a half inch iron bark for the outside shell, with suitable ice stem, inside fortifications, and with extra beam. These ships should be limited to 2,500 tons in size; larger vessels would be too long to wind through the ice packs. They need not be wooden ships, as after making two trips to Hudson's Bay during the season they should be employed in the Atlantic or any other trade during the rest of the year. Men of energy and spirit will make the route a suc-If the railway route is practicable, the opening of ocean navigation from Hudson's Bay to Europe is only a question of time and money. He thinks there is as much danger in navigating the coasts of Newfoundland and Nova Scotia during the breaking up of the ice in the spring as in navigating Hudson's bay and straits during the four months indicated. The safety of the ship there, as here, depends very largely on the common sense, experience, watchfulness and caution of the captain. Speaking of the whale fishery, he gave very interesting facts and figures showing its enormous profits, and says either Halifax or St. John's, Nild., would make a far better whale fishing headquarters for the world than Dundee.

A FATAL LEAP.

PROF. ODLUM KILLED BY JUMPING FROM THE GREAT BROOKLYN BRIDGE.

NEW YORK, May 19 .- This afternoon a cab. containing Professor R. E. Odlum and a friend, was driven from New York to the middle of the great span of the Brooklyn bridge here. Quickly divesting himself of a blue dannel suit, Odlum, clad in a red shirt and trunks, jumped from the carriage and sprang lightly to the railing. He quickly reached the top, lightly and, poising himself for a moment, stood erect and glanced hurriedly at the surface of the East river far below him. People on the bridge in that vicinity sent up a cry of horror when they saw Odlum prepare to plunge into the river, 135 feet beneath his feet. A police-man, whose attention had been directed to the act, immediately rushed towards the professor. Before he had gone a dezen Odlum, without a moment's hesitation, leaped from the railing into the air. He held one hand above his head as a rudder to guide him in his descent. A tug and a schooner floated lazily in the stream several hundred yards below the bridge. The tug was filled with reporters and club men. Capt. Paul Boynton stood near the bow, anxiously watching the bridge, and those on board witnessed the leap with bated breath. For nearly a hundred feet the professor came down all right, feet foremost. When within thirty feet of the water his body began to turn and he brought down his hand with a wave like motion to aid him in recovering his balance. His body had now turned so far that it was impossible to change its course. Half a second later, with a mighty splash Odlum's hody struck the surface of the river on one side and sank out of sight. The tug hurriedly pushed forward to the place where the body fell, and Capt. Boynton, when he saw the white face of the professor rising from the water, placed a life preserver beneath the body of the insensible professor. He was dragged into the boat and restoratives administered. The tug was hurrically started for the shore, and just as the pierwas reached a shudder passed through the professor's frame, and after breathing once or twice his heart stopped beating, and death came to his relief. Odlum was formerly professor at a swimning bath in Washington, but latterly has acted as chief clerk in Willard's hotel. It has been his ambition and dream of his life to make a jump from Brooklyn bridge.

New York, May 20 .- A party of fifty sports, actors and other men about town, witnessed Odhan's plunge from a tag boat in the East River. Among the number were Paul Boynton, Win. Muldoon, Jere Dunn, Harry Dixy, Paddy Ryan and Eban Plympton. There is talk of arresting the whole party and prosecuting them under section 175 of the penal code.

OBITUARY.

EX-SECRETARY FRELINGHUYSEN -- CAPT.

PERRY, OF TORONTO. NEWARK, N.J., May 20.—Mr. Freling-huysen, Secretary of State in President Arthur's Cabinet, died here this afternoon. He had been suffering greatly since he gave up his office in March last. He was unconscious all day and passed away quietly, dying without a struggle. At 3 p.m. it was evident he was sinking fast and had but a few hours to live. His stupor increased and his breathing grew fainter and weaker until 5.25, when it ceased altogether. The President telegraphed to Mrs. Frelinghuysen as follows:
"The President and cabinet have just heard with deep sensibility of the death of your honored husband. Accept from each and all of us expressions of sincere sympathy and condolence. TORONTO, May 20 .- Capt. Charles Perry, well known in steamboat, insurance and curl-ing circles, died to day, aged 58. He leaves a family of three sons and two daughters, one of the latter being married to Captain Mur ray, of the Queen's Own. His brother, Mr.

WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US.

Like a thief at night it steals in upon us una wares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, sepecially in the morning. A sort of sidely slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation tomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation the pit of the stomach which food does not tisfy The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feet claiminy. After a while a sough sets in at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable, gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow, the urine is scanty and high-coloured, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste: this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prestration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly-one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a liver complaint, others or kidney disease, etc., etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success, because the remedy should be such as to act harmoniously upon each one of these as to act harmoniously upon each one of these organs, and upon the stomach as well; for in Dyspepsia (for this is really what the disease is all of these organs partake of this disease and require a remedy that will act upon all at the same time. Segel's Curative Syrup acts like a charm in this class of complaints, giving almost immediate relief. The following letters from chemists of standing in the community where they live show in what estimation the article is held.

Friockheim, Arbroath, Forfarshire, Sept, 23, 1882

Dear Sir,—Last year I sent you a letter recommending Mother Seigel's Syrup. I have very much pleasure in still bearing testimony to the property forther results of the famed Syrup and results factory results of the famed Syrup and Pills. Most putent medicales die out with me, but Mother Seigel has had a steady sale ever since I commenced, and a still in as a great demand as when I first becan to sell the medicino. The cures which have come under my notice are chiefly those of liver complaint and general debility

A certain minister in my neighborhood says it is the only thing which has benefited him and restored him to his normal condition of health after being unable to preach for a considerable length of time. I could mention also a great many other cases, but space would not allow. A near friend of mine, who is very much addicted to costiveness, or constitution, finds that Mother Seigel's Pills are the only pills which suit his complaint. All other pills cause a reaction which is very annoying. Mother Seigel's Pills do not leave a bad after-effect. I have much pleasure in commending again to suffering humanity Mother Seigel's medicines, which are no sham. If this letter is of any service you no shana it can have the can publish it.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) William S. Glass, Chemist.
