HAY AND OTHER CROPS IN QUEBEC.

From letters, despatches, and the columns of our exchanges in Montreal and the Eastern Townships of Quebec, we have compiled the following memoranda about hay and oats, which are important crops in that province, with an occasional mention of other field produce. It will be seen that hay is plentiful on the South shore. Our compilation refers first to counties on the North shore of the St. Lawrence, afterward to the South-western, South-eastern and Eastern counties in "the Townships," as far East as the borders of New Hampshire.

Buckingham, Ottawa Co.

If the present favorable condition continues, the harvest in the Du Lievre Valley is certain to prove a record one. Potatoes will easily bear special mention, and the new meadows are nobly making up for the defects of the old.

Grenville, Argenteuil Co.

The farmers are commencing to cut their clover now. If the weather keeps fine the crop will be very good.

Arundel, Argenteuil Co.

Crops of all kinds in this township as well as the surrounding country have a goodly appearance. We look for a fine yield.

Lachute, Argenteuil Co.

Farmers are busy haying this week. An excellent crop and ideal weather for harvesting it will bless the whole community.

Beauharnois, Beauharnois Co.

The hay crop is expected to be unusually good in a few parts of this county. Peas and potatoes have been somewhat affected by the heavy rains, but in general are very good. There is an abundance of grass in the pastures.

Ormstown, Chateauguay Co.

We are having the finest weather for hay-making, and our farmers are busy. Crop a heavy one.

Huntingdon, Huntingdon Co.

The weather during the past week has been most propitious to the farmer, and much of the hay crop has been saved in first-class order. The nights have been cool and in fact slightly frosty.

Dunham, Missisquoi Co.

I can report tip-top hay crops and roots in good shape so far. Clover is very rich, and more of it than last year. Grains are looking well, barley is almost ripe for cutting; oats looking immense. Potatoes are likely to be a good crop.

Knowlton, Brome Co.

The hay crop here is unusually heavy. Hon. Justice Lynch filled his barns with hay and then had so much left that he had to send it away.

Mansonville, Brome Co.

A very bountiful hay crop here, and other fields are looking well.

West Brome, Brome Co.

The haying in this section is progressing very favorably and a very large crop is reported.

East Farnham, Brome Co.

Farmers have mostly all started haying and have commenced wondering already what they are going to do with all their hay for the want of barn room.

Granby, Shefford Co.

We cannot complain of the crops around here. At least if the farmers do complain they have no reason to. Many of them are already cutting their hay, and there has not been such a hay crop for many a day.

Windsor Mills, Richmond Co.

Haying is in full swing in this section, and although the showers last week inter-
