one of us which was not overflowing with gratitude to the Almighty and protecting God, who had carried us in safety through so many dangers.

The wind ceased during the night, and on the morning of the 13th, came round from the northward; at moon we weighed, and, accompanied by all the gentlemen of the place, sailed from the portion our friends left us, when we discharged our pilots, under three hearty cheers; and with a fair wind we ran for the coast of England. On the 16th, Captain Parry landed to Whitby, and his Majesty's ships Fury and Hecla made for the Thames, which we entered on the 21st, after an absence of two years and a half.
