STOCK MARKET SHOULD RESUME A MORE NORMAL ACTIVITY.

Henry Clews says in The Weekly Financial Review:

A somewhat better undertone appears to be developing in the stock market, and this in spite of important uncertainties. Doubtless the benefit of the rest cure is at least making itself felt. After a period of prolonged liquidation and inactivity, confidence has had some chance for recovery. Weak spots have been well eliminated, and wide observation proves the situation to be much sounder than at any time during the last eight months. The most encouraging factor is continued good crop weather. Corn, the pivotal crop, has been making excellent progress, and the outlook is now for a bumper yield, the only danger being that the season is fully two weeks or more late. Cotton also is doing better, but likewise has to contend against lateness of the season. Idications centinue to point to a money value in crops about equal to that of last year, or $7,60,000,000. When it is remembered that this sum is greater than the capital stock of all the steam railroads in the United States combined, the tremendous importance of good crops as an element in our material prosperity can be readily appreciated.

Now that vacations are over, the stock market should resume more normal activity. In the absence of fresh unfavorable developments the market would probably respond more readily to an upward movement than a Cownward. Good investments are selling at very low prices, having discounted unfavorable factors; and there is no doubt an abundance of capital held awaiting investment when confidence begins to revive. There has been a marked falling off in the supply of new securities, and this also must have a favorable effect. Althe the outlook is not by any means entirely clear, still there is a tendency to turn away from pessimistic leaders and follow those of a more hopeful temper.

IRISH MISSION TO AMERICA

T. P. O'Connor Says It is the Most Important Since Days of Parnell. LONDON, Sept. 11 .- T. P. O'Connor, who was found seated with the staff of his new publication, which is to appear in October as "T. P.'s Magazine," was interviewed with reference to the coming mission to America of the Irish party, of which he is a member. He party, of which he is a member. He said:

"The chief figure of the mission will, of course, be John T. Redmond, the leader of the Irish party, and he will be accompanied by Joseph Devilin, M. P., secretary of the United Irish League in Ireland, and Daniel Boyle, member for North Mayo. The party leaves on the Baltic Sept. 17. It is in many respects the most important delegation ever sent to America.

"New York and Chicago will be visited but the first meeting at which all will attend will be Buffalo, where thirty years ago the first convention forming the Irish organization in America met. Then all will separate, each taking different routes; Redmond to the Middle States, Devlin to the South and Boyle to the West as far as San Francisco."

South and Boyle to the West as far as San Francisco."

Mr. O'Connor said that already meetings were being arranged for him in Montreal, Quebec, Ottawa and Toronto, and that he hoped to visit even British Columbia. He said he thought the success of the cause was nearer now than at any time since Parnell's death. Regarding the state of feeling in Ireland, Mr. O'Connor said:

*Never since the split of 1890 was the Irish National movement so strong and so united as now. Of the many proofs of this the strongest was the fact that the subscriptions have now reached a higher point than in any year for twenty years. Already upward of sixty thousand dollars have been raised, and the tide is still flowing strongly. Many of these subscripbeen raised, and the tide is still flow-ing strongly. Many of these subscrip-tions are due not merely to confidence in Redmond and his colleagues, but are meant as protests against the abominable attacks on both him and them, and as an evidence of the de-termination to put down faction. Many hishors for instance bishops, for instance, have doubled their subscriptions for this reason. So far as faction is concerned, instead of spreading, it is being gradually hem-med in, until new it is confined to a few spots."

TOBACCO GOES UP

Essex County Farmers Will Benefit by Companies' Rivalry.

LEAMINGTON, Sept. 11.-Farmers within ehe Essex County tobacco belt will reap a rich harvest this year from will reap a rich harvest this year from a war between two rival companies, which are trying to buy in the crop and have forced prices up to the highest mark known in years. The price has gone up to 17 and 18 cents, while some of the growers believe it will eventually go as high as 20 cents.

Last year the growers sold their crops at the rate of 15 cents, and this was considered unusually high. In former years the price has been as low as 6 cents. The crop this year is considered quite as good as last. Growers will receive more than half a million dollars for it.

The decline in the Cobalt market offers good buying opportunities. Some profit-taking, together with ahort sales, has temporarily influenced prices, but we think the advance will be renewed in a few days. Beaver is in a position to be worth much more money.
