

The Made-to-Fit Idea

is what gives Oak Hall Clothing its prestige. Our Clothing is carefully made and if the fit is not perfect in every detail our expert tailors are at your service. It doesn't much matter what your shape is. Tall and slim or short and stout we can fit you. And, to all intents and purposes, you will still be a tailor-made man—only your purse will not have suffered so greatly.

Fine Dress Suits and Overcoats $10.00 to $18.00.
Good Business Suits and Overcoats $5.00 to $9.00.

Boys' Clothes

We are just as particular about Boys' Clothes. In fact, the makers tell us we are over particular on many points; that our demands make added carefulness that customers will never know or appreciate. But we know they will—we know that goodness tells and that nothing makes more lasting friends than clothing that gives honest, good-looking service to the public. We take no risks; we buy from none but well-tried mills in Canada and abroad. We have absolute confidence in the goodness and unmatchableness of our Boys' Clothing.

At $5.00 Beefeater Suits for ages 10 to 18 that are unequalled for style and good value.
At $3.50 Suits and Beefeaters for ages 4 to 9 that are stylish and dressy.

CONSPIRACY CASE CLOSED ON THE DODDS

Stares-Cook Combination Acquitted by Judge Snider Yesterday.

Three Hours—Why He Did Not Keep Books—Other Charges Dropped—Cook Had No Interest in the Firm—News From Hamilton.

Hamilton, Nov. 2.—(Special).—The conspiracy case in which Stares and Cook, furniture dealers, are the defendants, was continued before Judge Snider this morning. J. R. Shaw of the Furniture Dealers' Association, Toronto, swore that in the presence of Detective Heffernan, Hotelkeeper Clancy of Toronto said that both Stares and Cook owed him money last July when he received consignments of furniture from them. He said that he had no invoice at the time, although he produced one in the witness box yesterday.

Simon Lawry testified to seeing a bale of what appeared to be wool leaving the rear of the King William street store seven days before the assignment. On the Saturday night of the assignment he saw young Alfred Stares running out of the store, with chains getting away with half a dozen, two at a time.

Thomas Wallinger, an employee of Stares & Co., heard Cook say the week of the assignment that he was shipping $400 worth of furniture to Muskoka.

Alf Hewitt said he saw the contents of Stares & Co.'s Jamieson street store, short time before the assignment. There were a lot of upholstered goods in sight then. The Sunday after the assignment the witnesses examined the stock, and the only piece of upholstered goods there was a couch.

Jaeky Mendi told the new familiar story of his purchase of furniture from Stares & Co., on Friday, Aug. 5, the day before the celebrated assignment.

John McCarthy, hotelkeeper, Tullamore, bought furniture from Stares & Co., and gave a horse, valued at $25, and a note for $47 in payment. He paid $10 on the note, and also has a hotel bill against Stares, dated July 22, as a counter account.

This closed the evidence for the prosecution.

Mr. Carscallen, counsel for the prisoners, held that no case had been made out. The only thing that could be pressed by the Crown was that no books had been kept for a month before the assignment.

The Crown Attorney contended that when Stares and Cook went down to the store after the assignment and the latter secured the hundreds of dollars, he did so, intending to, and did, pick out some of these leases, which the creditors had never seen since. There were no entries of any of these leases in the books of the firm, and that it was not until after the assignment that the books were found to be blank.

Evidence for the defence was given this afternoon. Stares was on stand nearly three hours. He swore Cook was only an employee, with no interest in the business. He explained the various transactions, denying acting dishonestly or in any way conspiring with Cook to defraud the creditors.

He also denied that any property was concealed anywhere. He admitted paying $325 out of the $350 he got from Cook on Aug. 5, the day he assigned. He attributed this failure to check books since last June to "carelessness." Cook swore he worked for Stares on wages since March. He denied conspiring with Stares or knowing anything of concealed goods.

Judge Snider, after reviewing the evidence at length, held that the charge of conspiracy had fallen through, and he acquitted the prisoners. Several other charges of theft and concealing property were dropped.

Art School Directors Meet.
The Art School Directors held their monthly meeting this afternoon. The interior management committee reported 156 pupils, as against 144 last year. There was an increase of pupils in the evening classes, but a falling off in the Saturday morning classes. Judge Snider advised the directors he could not accept the position of director.

Court of Revision.
The Court of Revision this afternoon and evening heard appeals from Ward 2 property owners, and as a result struck off $80,330. M. C. McKee failed to pay $15,000 assessment on his James-st. property. He, however, was successful in getting struck off $700 assessment on income from mortgages.

Sawyer-Massey Rumor.
In connection with the rumor of the possibility of the removal of the Sawyer-Massey works to Toronto, a statement is made that the company has no desire to use the Lawry and Fearman cases to squeeze the city. What the company wants is more money, and it is more water for fire protection. The works are extensive and valuable and the six-inch main does not give water supply which the city considers sufficient for fire purposes. If a proposition is made to the city, it will certainly include the laying of a 10 or 12-inch main.

Minor Matters.
There is an epidemic of typhoid fever in Burlington just now. About 50 residents are ill with it. There have been no deaths, however.

Bull Penon, a farmer, had to pay $5 to-day for running a toll gate, evading 5 cents toll.

A poorly covered electric light wire caused a blaze in the H. G. and B. R. station early this morning.

Entries for the dog show next Saturday closed last night. Over 100 were received. Toronto dog owners made a large number of entries.

The annual meeting of the Working Men's East End Club, was held to-night. Rev. C. Whitcomb, president, presented a report showing the club's progress during last year. The financial statement showed a balance on hand.

Rev. C. Whitcomb was elected president and H. Vernon, sec.-treas. Addresses were delivered by H. Vernon, H. D. Bonny, Mr. McLellan and Ald. Findlay.

The annual matches of the Wentworth Plowing Club were held this afternoon on Asylum Farm. A number of contestants were present from Scarborough. The championship prize was won by Wm. Captain, an Indian, from the Ojibwa reserves.

Bishop Du Moulin delivered an address at the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's meeting in the Church of Ascension school rooms to-night.

THE COMPANY'S HOME

The company's headquarters, at No. 63 Yonge street, next door to the Globe office, is a model of spaciousness, comfort and convenience.

A very large staff of employees is kept continually at work in the manufacturing department, sorting, labelling, packing, business, and advertising departments, each of which is separate and distinct from the others, and in charge of an experienced and competent head.

Every detail of the business has been brought to the utmost perfection, and the operations in the different departments go on like clockwork.

About two years ago the firm commenced the manufacture and sale of Dods's Dyspepsia Tablets, which have almost immediately become the favorite remedy for dyspepsia, indigestion, and all stomach troubles.

Day by day the demand for these tablets grows larger and larger. In Canada, the United States, Great Britain, Australia, South Africa, British India, the West Indies, South America, and, in fact, all over the world, they are known and recognized by millions of people. The Dods Medicine Company, of Toronto, is doing a noble work for humanity, and the wonderful and unparalleled success achieved is a credit to the firm's management and to the people of the world.
