PLEADED NOT GUILTY.—Fred Fuller of this city was charged in police court with stealing a club bag, a shaving outfit and some clothing, the property of E. Havens of Detroit, from the Grand Trunk Railway. Fuller pleaded not guilty. He will be tried on Thursday, along with Samson Sprickett of Hamilton, who was arraigned Tuesday on the same charge.

At The Theaters

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS AT LOEW'S. In keeping with the letter of the sagacious critics the feature picture of a successful photoplay should be characterized in the first instance by a good story replete with action.

For two story replete with action Douglas Fairbanks in "The Mark of Zorro," a United Artists production that is to be shown at Loew's Theatre, beginning today, has certainly amongst other things, fulfilled that requirement.

Full of swift, bristling action, there is a strong love interest quite different from that attempted by Fairbanks heretofore. We also find a relieving touch running through the entire picture that buoy one up for the startling events that are in all details gripping, impassioned and mystifying.

Every detail of setting and acting has been given the greatest care in presentation, thus creating a harmony of art that is distinctly superior.

It is fundamentally a drama showing the salutary influence. As such it contains something that always causes us to focus our attention throughout, a force which has made all of Fairbanks' pictures so notable and compelling an entertainment. Much more satisfaction for this than any previous picture without the slightest danger of misapprehension.

For Douglas Fairbanks surrounded himself with an exceptionally strong one. When Doug first went over this picture he realized that the number of changes in his company would be necessary if justice was to be done to the story because of its deviation from anything heretofore done by him.

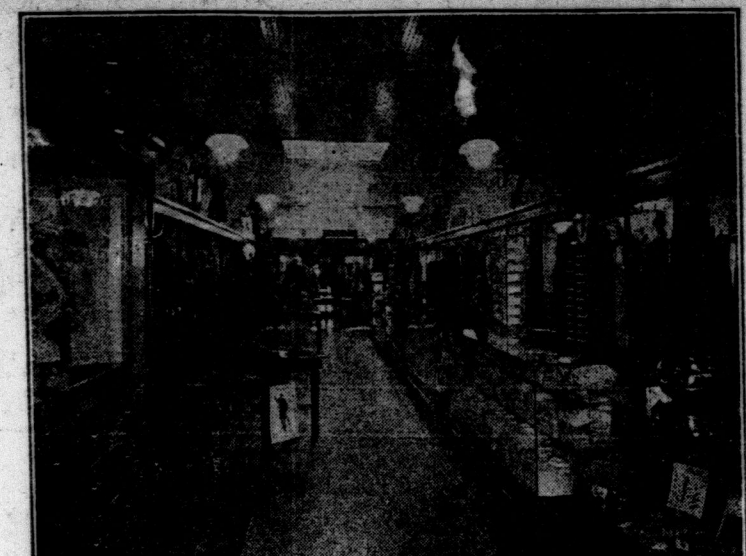

As a result of which a most careful selection was made; therefore we find that Fairbanks has gathered a host of new faces that have never appeared together with him upon the screen. The public can certainly feel assured that the management of Loew's Theatre during the past year has not been amiss in providing its patrons with the very best obtainable. With this statement they can look forward with expectation to this coming picture, neither time nor expense in providing the very best for its large host of admirers. With this assurance, as already manifested in his previous production, it is a great source of satisfaction that screen lovers display after having viewed one of Fairbanks' offerings.

"The Mark of Zorro" is an exceptional feature and has created the greatest sensation in every locality in which it has been shown. It is not therefore, a matter of speculation why people flock in such great numbers to view "Doug" upon the silver screen since it surely is in excellent keeping with the policy of producing the best for lovers of amusement.

A rib-tickling Torchic comic, Loew's screen pictorial of world events, Loew's concert orchestra, and the organ are among the many added features of the big bill. The vaudeville comedians Varden and Pry, the wiles of the A. E. P. Edmunds and LaVelle, in darktown comicalities, and Charles Stockill, the American song bird.

HUGE CROWDS THRILLINGLY ENTERTAINED OVER WONDERFUL PICTURE OF CANADIAN WILDS, "NOMADS OF THE NORTH."

At every performance cheer after cheer and a continuous round of ap-

Interior view of R. Leo Watson's Up-to-Date Shop for Men, where the Canadian dollar will have greatest purchasing power of any dollar in the world, during Price Adjustment Sale, which commences Friday morning.

plause follows each great scene of "Nomads of the North," the wonderful picture of the Canadian wilderness, adapted from James Oliver Curwood's book. "Nomads of the North" is the attraction for the huge crowds at the Allen at present (today is the last chance you will have to see it), and never have audiences enthused so greatly over the story of a photoplay as do the people at "Nomads of the North." The big opening scene, where Raol Challenor, in his frail birch canoe rides the roaring rapids, and the bear cub and the dog pup are lost overboard, the terrific battle of the bear and dog against the man is another great incident, while the forest fire is so real it overawes you, the red flames seemingly to leap right out of the picture in their fury. And there's a finish so fine that you will cheer it again and again. When you see "Nomads of the North" you'll never forget it, always remember with a smile the fun that the bear and dog provide, and the thrills of the great story.

Among the many extra attractions of special note is the big special Charlie Chaplin comedy "The Immigrant." Of all Chaplin's famous pictures there are none of them so laughable as this one. Overture "Arctic Sketches," and special musical score.

OWEN MOORE AND CHARLIE CHAPLIN PRESENT DOUBLE COMEDY BILL AT ALLEN'S TOMORROW.

Presented at the Allen tomorrow and Saturday will be Owen Moore in his new high-powered romantic comedy "The Poor Simp," a humorous, delightful story of young millionaires, the Art Colony of Washington Square, and a young man's fancy in spring.

Charlie Chaplin will be presented at the Allen today, tomorrow and Saturday in his best comedy special "The Immigrant." You've seen some good ones of Chaplin, but until you see "The Immigrant" you've never laughed your hardest at this world famous comedian.

MANAGER OF ALLEN OFFERS PRIZE TO BOYS WHO IMPERSONATE "DINTY."

The manager of the Allen Theatre is offering a prize to the boy who most closely resembles "Dinty" in Marshall Neilan's picture of the same name, which is to play the Allen Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday next week.
