WOULD MARK 100 YEARS OF PEACE

Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King
Suggests a Grand International Celebration of Centenary of Peace Between
U. S. and Canada

Ottawa, July 5.-If any disposition is shown by the United States government to follow up the suggestion made by Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King at Harvard College commencement last week relative to an international celebration of the 100 years of peace between Canada and the United States, the Canadian government will most cordially co-operate.

Hon. Dr. King suggests that the centenary of the signing of the treaty of Ghent would be an opportune time to draw the attention of the whole world to the unique conditions prevailing on this continent as opposed to the wasteful militarism and enormous expenditures on armies and navies in Europe, and he urged the erection of a splendid international peace monument to fittingly mark the occasion.

It is probable that before long joint steps will be taken by the governments at Washington and Ottawa to arrange for the carrying out of the suggestion of the minister of labor.

RUSSIA IS BELLET DANCERS' PARADISE

St. Petersburg, July 2.-Russia is the paradise of the ballet dancer, and many of them have amassed riches. As a rule they seem to be indifferent whether grand dukes or wealthy merchants cast pearls and other jewels before them. But there are two notable exceptions to the rule.

Marie Rudneva, the prima ballerina of the Imperial Theatre, prior to the advent of the "immortal" Anna Pavlova, was always an estimable girl, and although her beauty and grace brought her thousands of admirers she looked at none of them except with the eyes of friendship, saved her money and sold whatever diamonds were thrust upon her. When not engaged at the theatre she was engaged in study, and, strange to say, the study to which she turned with the greatest avidity was that of law. After twelve years of dancing she quit the stage and passed examination at the university with such success that she has now qualified as an advocate, and in making up her mind whether to practice in St. Petersburg or Geneva, in either of which she is assured of a magnificent clientele.

Similar to Maria's case is that of a ballerina in Russia, but totally different in its perfect romanticism, is the magic case of Lauba Kraus, the pretty Finnish dancer from Helsinki. Lauba was secretly in love with the gallant skipper of a Finnish cabin boy and made three voyages with him, extending over two years, without revealing her identity or sex. Finally she was discovered by the captain and recognized. Being married she turned her back on Lauba. The broken-hearted girl calmly wrote letters of farewell to her family and friends and then threw herself into the sea.

TURNKEY TELLS STRANGE STORY ABOUT JOHNSON

The jail authorities here are in a quandary what to do about the Dane, Krist Johnson, who is regarded as dangerously insane. Yesterday Dr. James Christie consulted Sheriff Ritchie about the case. As the man is a foreigner the sheriff decided to turn him over to the police. Dr. Christie said last night that if the man had been either a native of this province or of Canada he could be taken to the provincial hospital, Lancaster, right away. Under the present regulations at the hospital, however, he could not be admitted.

Turnkey Clifford tells a remarkable story about the man. He says that early yesterday morning his hands were handcuffed behind his back as he was being taken to the cell to look at Johnson and to his astonishment he found that he had his hands in front of him still locked in the steel bands. How he managed to get them there will probably remain a mystery.

Dr. Christie says that Johnson is a very fine specimen of a man, being more than six feet high and very muscular. He does not think the man's insanity is due to drink as there are no marks of dissipation about him.

According to the turnkeys, Johnson continued violent during yesterday, but at night became quieter and sat in his cell laughing and mumbling to himself and working with the handcuffs. He said he was with apparent relief. There was a story about the streets yesterday to the effect that after his arrest on Saturday Johnson became violent in the police cells and that he stripped himself and defied anyone to come near him. The police, however, deny this story and say that it was only after being taken into the jail that his actions developed.

JOHN SNIDER OF WEST SIDE WAS INSTANTLY KILLED YESTERDAY

He Was at Work on the New Wharf When Winch Slipped—Handle Struck Him on Head Making Awful Wound

Struck on the head with fearful force by the crank of a powerful hand winch at which he was working, John Snider met instant death yesterday afternoon in Carleton while at work in connection with the sinking of a new crib off No. 6 berth. The unfortunate man had the top of his head horribly crushed and his brains dashed out.

The accident happened so quickly that the men working with him hardly realized the awful nature of it. The new crib had been placed in position by the tugs Lord Kitchener, Neptune and W. H. Murray about 3:30 o'clock. On it at the time were about thirty-five men in charge of Foreman Wellington Lord. On the inshore end was a large hand winch which, with a wire cable, was used for warping the crib into position.

The new crib is triangular or "A" shaped and is 147 feet on one way, 121 feet on another, thirty feet on top and forty feet on the bottom. It is the fourth crib of the new wharf and the one to mark its extreme length.

The wire cable was fastened to the crib inside. On the left hand crank was Snider and on the right Fred Bedford, both powerfully built men of large frame and fully able for the heavy work.

While turning slowly with three or four turns about the "barrel" of the winch the handle on Bedford's side suddenly slipped off the pinion. As the strain was more than any one man could hold, Bedford called for Snider to let go quickly. The men holding the cable, seeing the situation, also called for him to let go. He failed to do so, however, believing that he was holding quite strong at the time, and the cable snapped. The handle of the winch struck him on the head with great force, and he fell back, reviving with great force.

The dead man, who was 31 years of age, is survived by his wife, who was Miss Galbraith, of Lorneville, and a daughter three years old, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Snider, of Dipper Harbor; three brothers and six sisters. The brothers are Wilson, Jarvis and Wesley Snider, and the sisters are Mrs. Fred Moore, of Fairville; Mrs. Wm. Cross, of Beaver Harbor; Mrs. Barry, of Black's Harbor; another married sister at the same place and Misses Alice and Carrie, here.

Coroner Kennedy will hold an inquest this morning in Carleton city hall.

AMUSEMENTSPAT HARRINGTON A BIG HIT AT NICKEL

Togged in a dress suit and doffing an opera hat right and left, tiny Pat Harrington, the seven-year-old comedian, met his friends again at the Nickel yesterday and was accorded an ovation. This little fellow who is now starting out on a long tour through Maine and Massachusetts--created no end of merriment in his number, "I Love My Wife, But O You Kid." The inevitable encores were made funnier by Gertrude Bennett Holmes, who coaxed to fight with the midges, eliciting increased laughter. At the bumper matinee Pat held what might rightly be termed an at home, for the children insisted on his singing four or five encores. Today the wee chap will sing each show.

AMUSEMENTSPAT HARRINGTON

Of an opposite character the selections by Holmes & Buchanan proved of rare enjoyment. Miss Holmes was at her best in Massena's intermezzo to Cavalleria Rusticana and a novelty was introduced by Mr. Buchanan in Wagner's Pilgrim's Song (or choral) from Tanhauser. The liberties taken in the stage, a fine drawing room setting, and other details made this part of the bill especially good. The three pictures were:
