THE PLEASURES OF HOME. Osweetly bright is the morning walk, When the early sun is beaming. And the flower, upon its dewy stalk In the orient light is gleaming. But brighter far is the happy hearth Where parents' eyes are shining. And children, in their love and mirth, Round guardian knees are twining.

O lovely is the noontide bower,
When the balmy winds are sighing,
And, amid the calm of the sultry hour,
The clouds at rest are lying;
But lovelier far is the happy hearth,
Where parents' cheeks are glowing,
And the beauteous flowers of human birth,
Are round the table growing!

Are round the table growing!

O sweet, sweet is the twilight shore
Of the river gently rolling,
When the peasant's weary task is o'er,
And the curfew bell is tolling.
But sweeter far is the happy hearth
Where parents' hearts are beating,
And babes—to them the gems of earth—
Are their evening hymns repeating!

The account given by late journals is that the British navy consists of 584 vessels of war affort, and 80 now on the stocks building—total 671. Of these, 88 are ships of the line, and carrying from 72 to 120 guns; 85 are frigates of the 1st and 2d class, carrying from 42 to 60 guns; 102 are steam ships, 8 heavy frigates, 30 corvettes, and 64 third class steamers, with from 4 to 8 guns; 309 heavy sloops of war of 24 guns, and brigs of from 14 to 10 guns, and 60 other vessels, schooners, &c.

An ingenious carriage has been invented in Wercaster, Mass, for travelling on the ordinary road without the aid of horse power. It has three wheels upon a light from frame, and is moved by a crank or wince, worked by the passenger. The carriage is steered by the forward wheel, with a tiller. The whole weighs only 50 lbs. It is similar in construction to the one lately invented in England.

A LUCKY TAILOR.— The Boston Post says one of a large family, received the intelligence by our last steamer Hibernia, of a large amount of money, houses, land, plate, horses, carriages. &c., &c., amounting to from 150,000 to $200,000 dollars, being the effects of a rich pawn-broker, deceased, of whom this cutter is sole heir.

**Torney Torney Torne

A Hidden Myster.—A human skeleton built in a wall was discovered underground at the corner of Sudbury and Court streets, Boston, last week. The building had stood on property known as the Dr. Shadduck place, and thereby hangs a tale not yet told, and probably never will be. The body appeared to have lain there for an age.
