DIVORCE JUDGE'S ADVICE TO MARRIED PEOPLE

Cleveland, Nov. 12.—"Far too many married persons are seeking the road to happiness through the divorce court," said Judge Chas. J. Estep, who gave this opinion when he found that since Sept. 1 he has tried more than 400 divorce cases.

Judge Estep added: "I have thought of these rules to help married persons keep away from the courts:

"1.—Husband, kiss your wife good-bye in the morning, and say how do you do at night.

"2.—Wife, don't interrupt your husband while he is reading the paper or enjoying some hobby.

"3.—Husband and wife, teach your eyes to see fewer faults and more virtues.

"4.—Husband, don't tell your wife you are going to the lodge when you are going to play poker.

"5.—Wife, don't nag your husband.

"6.—Finally, prospective husbands and wives, don't get married unless you have known each other a year."

Curiosity is a gift, a capacity of pleasure in knowing, which if you destroy you make yourself cold and dull.—Bucklin.

The bride wore a pretty suit of grey with a white hat and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her brother, H. Dunn, of Whitehead, gave her away, and she was attended by her sister, Miss Nan Dunn, an bridesmaid wearing a blue suit and carrying pink carnations. James Quigg was best man.

After the ceremony, the wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mrs. H. G. Gillen 98 1/2 Adelaide street, sister of the bride. Many handsome remembrances were received including a costly set of carvers, a case of silver and a pair of chairs from the Rev. Dr. Bourgeois. The groom is employed. After a honeymoon trip to Boston and New York, Mr. and Mrs. Galbraith will reside at 84 Rockland road.

Hindes-Warwick

A pretty home wedding Sunday afternoon was that of Miss Margaret May Warwick, formerly of St. John, and Carlos Clifton Hindes of Boston, at the residence of the bride's brother, Louis R. Warwick of 21 Bonaventure street, Flushing, New York. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Archibald M. Currie, minister of the First Presbyterian church, Flushing.

The bride was given away by her brother and wore a gown of grey with a brocade silk, trimmed at the neck and sleeves with silver lace. She wore neither veil nor train. She carried a massive bunch of white Killarney roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid, her sister, Miss Nan M. Warwick, of Boston, wore a gown of pink pussy willow tulle and carried "Opheelia" roses. The two little flower girls, Elsie and Dorothy Warwick, nieces of the bride, wore Dresden yellow tulle and carried bunches of Shasta daisies and yellow marguerites. The best man was Joel R. ### WAR SCENES AND CANADIAN VIEWS AT GEM THEATRE TODAY

Duke of Connaught, Sir Sam Hughes, Sir Robert Borden reviewing Canada's Heroes — Good Show

Scenes of interest from the some of war-coupled with views of parts of St. John and other sections of Canada and the participation of the dominion's sons in the struggle, were shown on the Gem Theatre screen yesterday, and were heartily appreciated. The pictures were particularly well received, while the views of the reviewing falls in motion were shown, as well as pictures of the new harbor at Courtenay Bay. Views of the Duke of Connaught, Sir Robert Borden, and Sir Sam Hughes making an inspection of troops were presented, while from the British field came pictures of the Zeppelin raids on England, the first Midland Gun Section, French, winning in Alsace-Lorraine, and other striking events, all contained in the British-Canadian News Weekly.

A FOOD COMMISSIONER'S VIEWS ON CANNED GOODS

Harry E. Bernard, food commissioner of Indiana, has this to say about canned goods:—

"Canned goods are not poisonous, and poisonous poisoning is never the result of eating them, but rather the fresh foods kept in the unsanitary refrigerator—to milk, cheese, ice cream and meat salads. As a matter of fact most canned vegetables do not contain the elements necessary to the growth of the organisms that cause poisonous poisons, nor does contact with the tin ever produce poisons.
