

NEW ROAD RULE INTO EFFECT SOON

"Drive to Right," will be the Order After Midnight on Thursday — Street Car Changes.

"Keep to the right and watch your step" should be the watchword of the drivers of vehicles for some weeks to come, following midnight on Thursday night. At that hour New Brunswick lies up with progressive states and provinces in the matter of the rule of the road, and great care will have to be exercised to see that the possibility of accidents is reduced to a minimum.

The test will come, not so much when the driver keeps the matter in mind constantly, but when called upon to act in an emergency, when he will act involuntarily from habit. The best antidote for likely accidents is to drive slowly, and anyone who realizes the danger for the first few months will see the force of the argument in favor of extreme caution. The change will be made just at the hour of midnight, not the following morning, and it has been suggested that some signal, such as the fire alarm, be used to designate the exact time at which the change will be made.

A crew of men has been engaged for some days in painting the street car poles indicating the stops under the new system. Several changes have been necessitated in the routing of the cars.

The Prince William street cars will run out Prince William street, commencing on Friday, and up Britain street to Wentworth, where they will cross over to their regular route to the head of King street. This is the only new route for this line.

The King street cars will run over their old route until they reach the corner of Britain and Wentworth streets, when they will take the switch and run one block along Wentworth to St. James street and down that street and thence out Prince William and over their regular run.

The up King-Haymarket square cars will run along the north side of King square and thence to Sydney, Union and Prince Edward streets. The cars will then run up City road and over Stanley street bridge and up Winter to Wall street and Paradise row. The down King-Haymarkets will proceed over the regular route, except on the right hand track, until Wall street is reached when they will proceed over Wall street bridge and down City road and thence over the usual run until Union street is reached when the cars will proceed up that street one block further to Charlotte street and thence to the head of King street.

The West St. John cars will not be changed, except that they will run along King square to Sydney street and thence to Union street and back to Charlotte street. The Queen square line on the west side, the East St. John and Glen Falls runs will be unchanged by the new rule, as they are all single track lines.

MANICURISTS FALL OUT, POWDER AND CREAM FILL AIR

New York, Nov. 27—Gene Garner, who is a perfect lady in spite of her front name, was fined $10 for disorderly conduct in West Side Police Court after court attendants had scraped enough cold cream and powder from Helen Frappier and her attorney, Charles Drescher, to enable them to tell what they knew about Gene.

Gene and Helen, who are manicurists, used to share an apartment at 12 West 108th street. Gene moved to 38 West Seventy-seventh street and complained earlier in court that Helen denied her admission when she called for some linen belonging to her. Magistrate Corrigan directed the two women to go back to the apartment with Helen's lawyer and settle things.

They settled things. They flung powders and creams and lotions at each other as soon as they got together in the bathroom, which was well stocked with such ammunition. Mr. Drescher, being the innocent bystander, was particularly well settled. The sticky conglomeration was half an inch deep in some places on Helen. When the ammunition was exhausted and a physician had treated Helen for injuries to her feelings, the dispute was taken to police court again and the $10 fine imposed.

Miss Greenwood, after alighting from a street car, passed around the back of it, and, seeing another coming, ran in front of it only to be struck by an automobile which was driving along abreast of the second car. She died almost instantly. Margaret Phelan stepped from the curb in front of a car driven by Stipendiary Magistrate Walter O'Hearn and was knocked down. WHEN you attempt to trim off the hard, dry cuticle about the base of the nail, you cannot help snipping through in places to the delicate nail root lying less than one twelfth of an inch below the surface.

To heal these wounds, Nature immediately covers them with new tissue that is coarser than the rest of the cuticle, and this creates the ugly, jagged edge you are so anxious to do away with.

The surplus cuticle can be removed easily, quickly and harmlessly with Cutex Cuticle Remover. You just apply it about the base of the nails with an orange stick, rinse, and the ragged, dead skin that you used to trim off with such difficulty, will just wipe away. Cutex also makes an excellent nail bleach.

Then for the gleaming Lustre that you want for your nails, try the new polishes that Cutex now offers you.

Cutex Powder Polish is practically instantaneous. With just a few light strokes across the soft part of the hand it gives you the highest, most lasting lustre obtainable.

Cutex Liquid Polish goes on with an absolutely uniform smoothness, dries instantly, and leaves a delightful lustre that keeps its even brilliance for at least a week. Used as a finishing touch it will make a manicure last three times as long.

To many thousands of people, a Cutex Set is now an absolute toilet necessity. You can buy them in four sizes, at $2.00, $1.50 and $1.00. Or each preparation can be had separately at 50c. At all drug and department stores in the United States and Canada.

NATURE Protects the Oat

The Quaker Carton Protects the Oatmeal

HAVE you ever noticed the way the oat grows?—The kernel is tightly enveloped within the hull, protected from dust and moisture, and from loss of flavour through exposure. Thus Nature gives us the nourishing kernel, fresh, sweet and clean.

Nature sets the example, and the sealed Quaker Oats carton carries on Nature's work. It protects the Oats after the hulls are removed. It maintains each tiny, flaked kernel unbroken, thus preventing floury meal—and pasty porridge. The Quaker carton brings you the oats sweet and fresh, and with all their original flavour.

The Quaker carton does more.—It protects you, because it guarantees you the finest oats grown. Only the big, matured kernels, full of flavour and nourishment, are used in Quaker Oats, the puny grains being sifted away. The Quaker carton also prevents the waste that occurs where food is bought in bulk.

Quaker Oats is the ideal food for breakfast. It is more nourishing than any other cereal, building brawn and bone for growing children, and providing energy for grown-ups. Quaker is most economical too. Costs less than one cent per serving.

When ordering groceries today add a package of Quaker Oats to your list.
