

HAPPY TIME AT MUNICIPAL HOME

Christmas Tree Held and Treat Given Young and Old

Number There Totals 202—Conduct of Institution Praised by Speakers

A happy time was enjoyed in the Municipal Home, East Saint John, yesterday afternoon, when the annual Christmas tree was held.

Visitors to the entertainment yesterday spoke in warm commendation of the spotless appearance of the whole building and the atmosphere of homeliness which it radiated.

The afternoon program was the presentation of gold pieces to Mrs. Mary Woods, the matron, and her son, L. Woods, the superintendent of the Home. W. E. Scully, one of the commissioners, made the presentation and heartily commended both matron and superintendent for their excellent management of the institution.

Another visitor to the entertainment remarked afterwards that there was only one criticism that could be offered and that was on the score of the absence of any plan of separation among the inmates, all classes of those committed to the care of the Home being placed together.

The large hall in which the entertainment was held yesterday was very prettily decorated and the handsome Christmas tree was a dazzling sight.

A. M. Rowan, chairman of the Board of Commissioners of the Home, was chairman for the afternoon. Four boys from St. Peter's school assisted in the opening program by the school children.

The four visitors to the Home, Mrs. Sherwood, boy soprano, who gave vocal solos; Eugene McCurdy, Robert Fowle and Francis Gauthier, who sang "Three Kings of the Orient."

Among the commissioners of the Home present were William McAtee, W. L. Walsh, J. William Knodell, W. E. Scully and Frederick Green, the secretary.

When the tree was stripped there was a splendid store of gifts for every inmate. The children received all kinds of lovely toys and nice warm garments and there were gifts which they would most enjoy for every one of the older folk also.

The Christmas celebration in the Seamen's Institute last evening was largely attended by representative seamen from practically all steamships in port. R. E. Armstrong, president of the New Brunswick Division of the Navy League, presided and extended a hearty welcome to the seamen who were present. He spoke on behalf of the Seamen's Mission Society, the Auxiliary of the Women's Guild and the Navy League. He stated that it is his right to these organizations as well as to the people of Saint John, to have so many steamships trafficking through the port of Saint John, and the promotion of the port of Saint John, but they also aided in the expansion of the Maritime and the whole of Canada. The hope was expressed that there would be an enlargement of the shipping business of the Maritimes every winter.

DAMAGED IN STORM ON WAY TO THIS PORT

Italian Steamship Vallescura, Coal Laden, Had it Rough From Newport Mews

When the Italian steamship Vallescura, Captain Dulbezo, arrived in port yesterday with a cargo of coal from Newport News for the Atlantic Sugar Refinery, she presented every appearance of having been badly dealt with by recent storms during the voyage to this port.

The ship was coated with ice from waterline to the mast head, and was damaged considerably. She is deeply loaded and experienced some very heavy weather. A few days ago the Vallescura ran into a heavy westerly gale accompanied by mountainous seas which continually broke over her bows and deluged the decks. One sea, much larger than the others, broke high over the port bow, and as the tons of water crashed on the deck it completely carried away the port side of the bridge and smashed the telegraph. The captain and others who were on the bridge at the time had a narrow escape from being washed into the sea and lost. It was only with skilled seamanship that the steamer was handled to save any further damage being done.

The Vallescura is consigned to H. E. Kane & Company, and is at present anchored in the stream. After discharging the ship will load a cargo of grain.

NEW SPRING COLORS

Some of The New Shades Bear Names of Days of The Louis

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Colors that went with the painters and powdered wigs and sedan chairs of 18th century France will provide the lines of mid-lady's clothes next spring.

A young woman was rescued from a third story window by firemen when the flat on Prince Edward street where she lived with her parents was threatened with destruction last night. The girl was overcome by smoke and in a state of collapse, but rallied in a few minutes and was able to be moved to shelter.

The fire damaged the lower floor of the Maritime Food Company's premises. Louis Brunberg, proprietor of the Crown Beverages, Ltd., said today that a report that it started in the mixing room in his building was not correct. The outbreak was discovered about 11.45 by a young woman giving her name as Miss Ross, who sounded the alarm from Box 18.

The building quickly filled with smoke and the occupants of the two glamorous names of the days of the Louis. Among the new colors are La Valliere, Marie Antoinette, Polignac, Maintenon and Chevreuse.

DISCUSS FINANCES

Hospital Board Express Hope That Year Will Close Without a Deficit

"It is hoped that the accounts of the General Public Hospital will about break even," M. E. Agar, president of the Board of Commissioners, said last night.

The commissioners held a special meeting yesterday afternoon to receive the final financial statements of the year and pass outstanding bills and they also discussed further the project of co-operation with the Saint John Infirmary with regard to the services of the hospital radiologist, Dr. A. Stanley Kirkland. Mr. Agar said that he could make no statement with regard to the infirmary matter as yet.

WILL MAKE BOND ISSUE. With reference to the finances he pointed out that some of the hospital's expenditures during the present year would be placed at bond issue later and would therefore be refunded to the institution. There is still some of the county warrant unpaid and the city grant is also short of the sum voted. Mr. Agar said also that it was impossible to reckon exactly how much of the money owed the hospital would be paid in in the remaining days of the year. He thought that it was just possible that the books might be balanced, but if there was a deficit it would probably be a very small one.
