LABOR WORLD

News and Views of the Ever-Advancing Army of Workers

BY CHRYSTIE

THE murdered Homestead strikers lie in their graves and see workers about Carnegie libraries, they would be thankful that they are dead—

Perseus (Ind.) Toiler.

When it was announced that the Mayo-Harris Co. of Toronto was going to cut wages recently, an interviewer asked it was not so; it was simply "the usual readjustment of wages." It's just the same, only it's different.

The old Housewives' Union of New York, Sam Parks' organization, which boasted of Buchanan's International Housewives' Union, has decided to subordinate charters, and form a new International Housewives' Union.

The Typographical Journal begins the year 1904 with volume xxiv, No. 1. The cover bears a new design composed of two craftsmen holding up in their arms an open book on a tablet, bearing the inscription, "We desire to excel in the work of our craft."

At the convention of the bricklayers and masons at Toronto, N. J. President Gubins in his report to the meeting, expressed regret that the subordinate organizations on a referendum vote had decided against affiliation with the American Federation of Labor. He advocated that the present convention declare itself in favor of such affiliation.

The officer of the Toronto Irish Protestant Benevolent Society who made the statement recently that Phillips Thompson was a letter to the British press that there were so many idle workmen in Toronto was untrue, and that men were well employed, evidently now wishes he had expressed himself thus, or at least he knows different. Scores of unemployed workmen are being sent to the general man in question for work or assistance.

President Tobin placed Delegate Tatem in the chair and referred many of the business matters by the President.

John P. Murphy, of Lynn, Mass., caused a scene by charging the St. Louis man with being in collusion with Armstrong, of Lynn, Mass., representing the Knights of Labor. Secretary of the St. Louis man had just joined the Western Labor Union before this convention was held, where they were to have a final hearing.

Quite frequently, when workers go out on strike, others in the same trade, in different cities send sympathy and offers of assistance should they be required. The charities of the Eddy people, however, are not in the least generous. They offer of assistance in filing orders, stock, etc.

"Initiation is the highest form of statuary."

The January Typographical Journal is responsible for the following: "The entrance of a scab miner at a Salvation Army meeting held in Ostrin, Victoria, Australia, was a signal for the charities who composed the audience to leave the hall in a body. The captain anounced later that he would see the Hall Committee and have the scabs kept out. He also stated that the committee would not permit a scab to be a soldier in the Alfred Mosely, the British sociologist, criticized the South Africa Free

Trades Association at a banquet in New York recently, for their role of refusing to confer with striking employees.

Congratulations to Samuel Gompers, who on Wednesday next, January 27, will be 54 years of age. Born in England, cigar-maker by trade, labor organizer since 1875, one of the founders of the

A. F. of L., its president for twenty-three years with the exception of one year, editor of the Federationist, and known to the wage earners of the civilized world.

Gompers is small in stature, and if ever the adage, "good things are done up in small parcels," were true, it is so with the workman's friend, Uncle Sam.

The lawsuits against the London asmachinists and boiler-makers by the Leonard Machine Works, in which the labor men have been victorious, have put new life into the London Trades and Labor Council and its subordinate unions. The costs, several hundred dollars, will be met locally, and no outside aid will be sought. The revenue amounted to $25,335, and the working expenditure to $20,004, leaving a gross profit of $5,331. After paying interest, sinking fund, etc., and clearing up a deficit of $247 brought forward, a net profit of $5,084 remains to be carried forward to next year's accounts.

The accounts of the Edinburgh corporation's electricity department show a revenue of $103,365, expenditure $41,120, being a gross profit of $62,245, and a net profit after paying all charges of $14,533.

According to the report of Mr. R. E.

Greene, tramways manager, the first year's working of the Wallace electric system has resulted in an excess of $7,790 in receipts over expenditure, after placing $4,000 to depreciation and renewal accounts. From this $1,408 has been set aside for sinking fund, which now stands at $1,640, and $2,772 for interest on loans.

The Bradford corporation have recently completed an important addition to their tramway system, and satisfactory results have been secured on a new route where for the first half mile the gradient is one in nine.

Mr. George Carter, borough treasurer of Preston, has compiled an exhaustive and interesting table, showing the extent to which 84 towns in Great Britain have been benefited by their municipal undertakings. The town of Darlington, where Mr. Arthur

Henderson, Labor M. P. for Barnard Castle, now occupies the municipal chair, has the highest percentage of towns benefitted by their municipal undertakings. With an 84 in 100 in the pound, and Carlisle is 54 in the pound followed closely by Considerable success has attended the farming experiments of the Tunbridge Wells corporation last year. The committee controlling the two irrigation farms some time ago decided to devote a portion of the municipal estate to stock raising, and the result has been very gratifying.

Recently the corporation entered some of its animals in the local stock shows, and carried off a number of awards.

JOHN H. H. H.

JOHN H. H. H.

South Africa labor question, and has secretary of the South Africa Free

Trades Committee, being adopted as Labor candidate for North Kensington. He adressed a meeting of the Paddington and North Kensington Trades and Labor Council the other day, and was well received. In the meantime Mr. Rose's name is being submitted to the various bodies affiliated with the Trades and Labor Council.

The Walthamstow branch of the Operative Bakers and Confectioners' Union have passed a resolution approving of the parliamentary candidature of Mr. A. E.

Holmes, Labor candidate for Waltham-
