RUSSIAN REVOLUTION
SAID TO HAVE BEGUN
Report That Provisional Government Has Been Appointed—Professional Men Join the General Strike—Trepoff Still Rules St. Petersburg.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 27.—12.33 p. m.—Warning to the people that in case of disorder the soldiers will fire ball cartridges are posted on every street corner today. The city is outwardly calm under the rigorous measures adopted. Gen. Trepoff, in order to restore confidence directed all shopkeepers to take down the boards from shop windows during the night and this morning the city awoke to find the shops re-opened.
Little squads of soldiers are scattered along the streets and in the markets to preserve order. Even detachments of the crack guard regiments are doing patrol duty. The revolutionists have spread the tidings that a revolution has begun and the city is filled with the wildest rumors. For example, a story is afloat that a provisional government has been established.
The better classes are afraid to venture out. Many meetings have been held during the night.
At a meeting of delegates from the professional unions comprising doctors, druggists and lawyers, it was decided to strike from October 28 until a constituent assembly is summoned.
The latest advice from Minsk, Kiev and Saratoff are disquieting.
With a single exception, all the newspapers of Kiev have declared in favor of a strike. All the drug stores in Petersburg are closed, and a free press without artificial light and no newspapers are appearing. The Saratoff town council has organized a committee for the protection of the citizens.
The street cars in St. Petersburg have ceased running and the employees of the bureau of ways and communications and even the bank and office employees have agreed to affiliate themselves with the movement. The printers have resolved upon a unique demonstration to voice their demand for a free press. They have decided not to print a single regular newspaper tomorrow, and instead to publish clandestinely an underground paper for distribution by the workers containing the demands of the proletariat for a constituent assembly. Just when reports were abroad that freedom of assembly would be granted, a big impression has been made by the publication in the official messenger of a belated set of "Temporary" regulations which will require from three to seven days notice to the police of the object of the meeting with the names of the speakers, etc. Then if permission is granted the police are empowered to deal with the meeting if opinions are uttered which are supposed threaten public order.
The news from the interior is meagre. The situation has not improved. According to reliable reports the troops at Kharkoff sided with the students and strikers. In many places the schools are closed. The high school girls of Pskoff walked out today.
The Russ, now the leading organ of the constitutional party, declares that Count Witte's accession to power will not satisfy the people, unless he comes forward with a programme which will absolutely solid guarantees for the future can now avail to reassure the people that the past will not repeat itself.
WARSAW, Oct. 27.—Telegraphic communication between Warsaw and St. Petersburg, Moscow and Berlin was severed today in consequence of a fire in the telegraph office caused by the fusing of electric wires.
The strike is in full swing at the factories here and the agitators are turning the employees of the banks and insurance and commercial houses to leave their work. The shops are still closed. The workers are holding big meetings without interference on the part of the police.
LODZ, Oct. 27.—The employees of all the local factories, street car lines and the suburban railroads have struck.

Officers in their raid secured eight barrels of acid, valued at $7,000.

ROOSEVELT'S CLOSE SHAVE;
HIS VESSEL WRECKED.

The Tender Magnolia Smashed in Collision, Run Ashore and Abandoned—President and Party Escaped Without Injury.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27.—A long distance message from Nalren, La., six miles down the river, announces that the lighthouse tender Magnolia, with President Roosevelt on board was in collision with the fruit steamer Esparta, shortly after midnight. The news came in a message from Capt. Rose of the Esparta. Capt. Rose reported both vessels aground at the river bank. No one was seriously hurt. The President is uninjured. Captain Rose said the Esparta would probably have to carry the President's party to West Virginia.
Two legs left New Orleans this morning for the scene of the accident. The revenue cutter Ivy took President Roosevelt through the passes into the Gulf of Mexico. Neither the President nor any of his party were injured.
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27.—After a narrow escape from losing his life in an early morning collision in which the lighthouse tender Magnolia, on which he was travelling, was so much damaged that he had to abandon her, President Roosevelt is now safe on board the cruiser Virginia, on which he will return to Washington.
Neither the president or any member of his party were injured in the accident. Details are not complete, but immediately it occurred hasty orders were received at Plottown, where the lighthouse tender Ivy was lying, to proceed at once under full speed to the scene and take the president and his party to sea. The Ivy passed Plottown with the president on board at 8.15 this morning on her way to the West Virginia. The president went aboard the cruiser West Virginia at 9.40 o'clock this morning. The cruiser got under way a few minutes afterwards.

WITNESSES TELL OF BRUTAL ASSAULT.

Strong Evidence Against the Lockhart Assault.

Thirteen Prisoners in Police Court—Dismore Chapman Says He Assaulted His Wife to Defend His Children

There were no less than thirteen persons in the central police station cells this morning, having been gathered in by the police Wednesday and Thursday. Yesterday being a holiday a large number of civil court cases came up for a hearing this morning.
Two prisoners for drunkenness got on deposits before court opened. This left ten prisoners, who were held in the cells. A heavy day for business Magistrate Ritchie opened court somewhat earlier than usual, and first took up the case of Stephen Gochy, charged with assaulting and beating Mr. and Mrs. John Lockhart and their daughter, Mrs. Maud Lewis, of Misses Gochy was assisted in the assault by another man named Wm. Maher.
The magistrate was the first witness, and said that the assault occurred on Sunday evening, September 24th. He said his wife had been on the shore during the evening and when they returned home about 8 o'clock Gochy and Maher went to the shore and with breaking windows in a wagon and stopped to talk to the witness. Witness then returned home with Gochy, when the latter met two men in a wagon and stopped to talk to them. Witness then returned home, and Maher went away. Witness said his children sleep in another house adjoining his, and after he had retired he heard the door of the adjoining apartments open, and he got out to see what was going on. He saw Gochy and Maher, who were striking his wife and daughter. Witness then rushed into the house and grappled with Maher. Gochy then struck witness on the mouth, knocking out one tooth and loosening the other. Witness next received a blow on the back of the neck that fell him to his knees and he became unconscious. His two assailants took to the woods.
Mrs. Elizabeth Lockhart, sworn, said that when she and her husband were about to retire on the night in question she saw two men in the road, but thought nothing of it. After they retired they heard the door of her daughter's apartments open. Her husband went to see what was the matter, and as he didn't return in a few minutes she went to see what was keeping him and found her husband lying on the ground, and also her daughter lying senseless. Gochy was there with Maher, and Gochy struck her on the face, breaking the skin on her forehead and discoloring and swelling her eye. Witness identified her assailant as Gochy, and the two men, Maher and Locky, stayed for an hour, the other two departing. Witness and her sister went to the next apartment to retire. Witness undressing witness saw the prisoner's face peering in at her bedroom window and she pulled down the blind. Later on, after she had retired, she heard the house door open and called out, "Is that you papa?" Some person said, "Maud, come here I want you." Then Maher came into witness' bedroom, and she ordered him out, saying, "Get out of here you blackguard." He refused to go and she got out on a wrapper she heard her father call out, "They will kill me." Witness then saw her father on the ground and she asked Gochy to take Maher away and said he "would be damned if he would," and struck witness in the chest and knocked her down unconscious. The two men then went to the woods. Maher returned the next morning and broke the windows in the house. The witnesses were bound over to give evidence in the county court on the first Tuesday in November. The prisoner was then remanded.

Gochy is a young man of about 25 years of age, and feels his position keenly. His companion skipped out a couple of days after the assault and has not yet been captured.
Rupert Parkes for being drunk and swearing on the north side of the King square was fined $5.

Richard Mason, a young sailor of the H. M. S. Berwick, was charged with being drunk on the south side of the King square and with breaking windows in Francis Ritchie's grocery corner Sydney and St. James streets last night. When the magistrate asked Mason if he was drunk, the sailor said: "Quite right, sir."
The magistrate said he was not quite right, and asked the tar what he had to say to breaking windows. Mason said he did not break the windows as he was not near the place at the time.

The magistrate remarked that if the windows were settled for the tar might be allowed to go, as every person was happy to have the Admiral and ships in port. The sailor said: "I don't doubt but what I am all wrong last night and will be severely dealt with on board ship." He was remanded for an hour and allowed to go, the damage to the windows being made good.

Dismore Chapman, charged with assaulting his wife said in answer to the charge that he was guilty of assault in defence of his children. His wife, he said, is not of sound mind and when she was beating his children he struck her and knocked her against the wall. He was remanded until some enquiries can be made in the matter. James Brooks, who was arrested at 10 o'clock last night was too drunk this morning to be tried and was remanded.

Wm. Dugan, Henry McCann and Mrs. O'Dell pleaded not guilty to fighting work, and were remanded. Two common drunks forfeited deposits of $5 each and two were fined $4. Charles Nealy was fined $4 for being drunk and using bad language on Main street.
