MARRY FIRST; LOVE LATER. Japanese Woman Tells of Cupid's Scheme in the Orient.

"Americans fall in love and then marry; the Japanese marry and then fall in love."

"This is the statement of the wife of Kokikochi Midzuno, the Japanese Consul here. She recently arrived from her native land and is living at present at the Barnard, 106 Centre Park west.

"Why do American women tire of their husbands?" she asked, as she brewed tea and ordered cake.

ing woman's rights, and the suffragette were mentioned. "Suffragette?" Mrs. Midzuno stammered.

"Plato," said Socrates, "You have observed, I doubt not, that we have two ears and two eyes."

"And but one tongue." "Quite so."

"Herein nature doth teach us that we should hear and see twice as much as we talk. Is it not so?"

"But my master," observed Plato, "we have two nostrils and only one mouth. Must we therefore smell everything twice before we eat once?"

"Plato," irritably rejoined Socrates, "anybody can make a flippant comment that will knock the juice out of the wisest saying a philosopher can pull off. I wish you'd cut it out."

On preparing the stuff for publication, there, Plato prudently cut out his flippant comment.

Thousands of American women in our homes are daily sacrificing their lives to duty.

In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women overdo. A female weakness or displacement is often brought on and they suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.

It is to these faithful women that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound comes as a boon and a blessing, as it did to Mrs. W. Barrett, of 602 Moreau St., Montreal, who writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For years I was a great sufferer from female weakness, and despite every remedy given me by doctors for this trouble, I grew worse."

"One day a friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and am thankful to say that it made me strong and well."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN. For thirty years Lydia E.
