

The Teachers Make the School

That the teachers make or mar the school is true in all classes of schools. Active, earnest, practical, thinking teachers develop these faculties in their students.

That the Remington Business College does efficient work is assured from the fact that its staff is composed of the strongest teachers to be obtained. Messrs. Wright, Black and Dearborn, of the Commercial Department, are all trained and experienced teachers who have already made a reputation as hard and effective workers. Mr. Chas. E. Smith, Miss Elise Scott and Miss Lottie Betts of the Shorthand-Typewriting Department are a trio hard to beat. Mr. Smith has done more to increase speed with accuracy in typewriting than any other. The World's Professional Championship, the World's Amateur Championship, the 1908 World's School Championship Gold Medals, and the 1909 School Championship Silver Medal are held by four pupils of his.
