EARTHQUAKE IN ECUADOR.

Three Shocks Felt at Quayaquil—Set Church Bells Ringing.

Quayaquil, Ecuador, June 3.—Three earthquake shocks on Saturday caused the inhabitants of this city to jump from their beds and run panic-stricken into the streets.

The first and last of the shocks were slight, but the second was heavy and lasted about 40 seconds, causing the bells in the churches to ring and stopping the clocks in the church towers.

No news has yet been received from the interior of the republic, but it is considered probable that damage was done by the earth shocks in the country.

Owing to the peculiar construction of the buildings, the disturbance did not cause any damage in this city.

THAT DRY COUGH IS BRONCHITIS.

If neglected it will weaken the throat and finally reach the lungs. Nothing simpler than inhaling the healing vapor of Catarrhozone. Its action is like magic, so helpful, so easy to apply. Be done with Bronchial trouble for all time! Catarrhozone does cure the worst cases, will cure you, too. Sold everywhere, at 25c. and $1.00, under absolute guarantee of satisfaction.

North York Liberals.

Newmarket, June 3.—In a convention which Saturday packed the Town Hall to overflowing, Frederick Underhill of Aurora was nominated to contest the riding of North York in the Liberal interest in the Provincial Legislature in opposition to the sitting member, Herbert Lennox, M.P.P.

Fred Underhill, the candidate, is a native of Markham Township, and previous to moving to Aurora, where he has been for the past years, was engaged in the manufacturer of boots and shoes in Markham Village, and is senior member of the firm of Underhill & Sisman, and conducts a large factory employing about 100 men.

The Oyster and the Cockle.

If the average person were asked what was the strongest living thing it is probable that he would name the lion or some such huge denizen of the forest and would not even think of the unassertive bivalve. But so great is the power possessed by the oyster that to open it a force equal to 1,319.5 times the weight of its shell-less body is required. The shell-less limpet pulls 1,984 times its own weight when in the air and about double when measured in the water. The Mediterranean cockle (Venus vurrucosa) can exert a pulling power equal to 2,071 times the weight of its own body. If the human being possessed strength as great in proportion as that the average man would be able to lift the enormous weight of 2,976,000 pounds, pulling in the same degree as the limpet. And if the man pulled in the same proportionate degree as the cockle he would sustain a weight of no less than 3,106,500 pounds.

Every ingredient entering into the world-famed "Golden Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce has the unanimous approval and endorsement of the leading medical authorities of all the several schools of practice. No other medicine sold through the druggists for like purposes has any such endorsement.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" not only produces all the good effects to be obtained from the use of Golden Seal root, in all stomach, liver and bowel troubles, as in dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, ulceration of stomach and bowels and kindred ailments, but the Golden Seal root is aided in its compounding is greatly enhanced in its curative action by other ingredients such as Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot, Mandrake root and chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine.

A STUFFED EMPEROR.

Fate of Valerian of Rome, Captured by the Persians.

One of the most remarkable stuffed skins on record was that of Valerian, emperor of Rome, who was taken prisoner and afterward kept in chains by Sapor, king of Persia. He was either killed in a tumult or by order of his conqueror, who was perhaps fearful of losing his valuable living trophy, in the year 269. The body of the dead emperor was treated with no more delicacy than when it held the spark of a living one. It was skinned. The hide after being tanned was stuffed, painted red and suspended in the chief temple of the capital. It remained there for many years and was the popular spectacle for holiday makers and visitors from the country. But it was put to more important ends than this. It was made a diplomatic engine of much significance and efficiency. In after times it often happened that the Roman envoys at the Persian court had misunderstandings more or less serious with the government to which they were temporarily accredited. When these ambassadors from Rome grew arrogant in their demands, it was the custom to conduct them into the presence of the stuffed skin of the ex-emperor of Rome, where they were asked if humility did not become them at sight of such a spectacle.

"THE BLUE DANUBE."

Odd Way In Which the Beautiful Waltz Was Written.

It was a linen cuff and the quick thought of the woman who wore it that gave us one of the prettiest of the tuneful Strauss waltzes. Johann Strauss and his wife were one day enjoying a stroll in the park at Schonau when suddenly the composer exclaimed: "My dear, I have a waltz in my head. Quick—give me a scrap of paper or an old envelope. I must write it down before I forget it." Alas, after much rummaging of pockets it was found that neither of them had a letter, not even a tradesman's bill. Johann Strauss' music is considered light, but it weighed as heavy as lead on his brain until he could transfer it to paper. His despair was pathetic. At last a happy thought struck Frau Strauss. She held out a snowy cuff. The composer clutched it eagerly, and in two minutes that cuff was manuscript. Its mate followed. Still the inspiration was incomplete. Strauss was frantic and was about to make a wild dash for home with the third part of his waltz ringing uncertainly in his head. His own linen was limp, colored calico. Suddenly his frau bethought herself of her collar, and in an instant the remaining bars of "The Blue Danube" decorated its surface.

THE CURE OF WORRY.

Clear, Simple Common Sense Applied to the Business of Life.

There are two reasons why man should not worry, either one of which must operate in every instance—first, because he cannot prevent the results he fears; second, because he can prevent them. If he is powerless to avert the blow, he needs perfect mental concentration to meet it bravely, to lighten its force, to get what salvage he can from the wreck, to sustain his strength at this time when he must plan a new future. If he can prevent the evil he fears, then he has no need to worry, for he would by so doing be dissipating energy in his very hour of need.

To cure oneself of worry is not an easy task. It is not to be removed in two or three applications of the quack medicine of any cheap philosophy, but it requires only clear, simple common sense applied to the business of life. Man has no right to waste his own energies, to weaken his own powers and influence, for he has inalienable duties to himself, to his family, to society and to the world.—William George Jordan in "The Kingship of Self Control."

How Browning Read Political Matter.

I have read the newspapers only through Robert's eyes. He reads them in a room sacred from the foot of woman, and this is not always satisfactory, as whenever Robert falls into a state of disgust with any political party he throws the whole subject over. Every now and then he ignores France altogether, and I, who am more tolerant and more curious, find myself suspended over a hiatus. I ask about Thiers' speech. "Thiers is a rascal," he says. "I make a point of not reading a word of Thiers." M. Prudhon, then? "Prudhon is a madman. Who cares for Prudhon?" The president? "The president is an ass not worth thinking of." And so we treat of politics.—Letters of Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Removing the Blot.

A woman was trying to lift a big blot of ink from a letter with a piece of blotting paper, with the usual result of making the blot bigger and uglier than at first. "Let me show you how to do that," said her friend. "I learned the trick in a stationer's shop in London last year. You just moisten the corner of the blotter first to get it started and then apply it to the ink spot. There! Isn't it wonderful how clean it takes it all up?"

Stop That Cold

To check early colds or Grippe with "Preventics" means sure defeat for Pneumonia. To stop a cold with Preventics is safer than to let it run and be obliged to cure it afterwards. To be sure, Preventics will cure even a deeply seated cold, but taken early—at the sneeze stage—they break, or head off these early colds. That's surely better. That's why they are called Preventics.

Preventics are little Candy Cold Cures. No Quinine, no physic, nothing sickening. Nice for the children—and thoroughly safe too. If you feel chilly, if you sneeze, if you ache all over, think of Preventics. Promptness may also save half your usual sickness. And don't forget your child, if there is feverishness, night or day. Herein probably lies Preventics' greatest efficiency. Sold in 5c boxes for the pocket, also in 25c boxes of 48 Preventics. Insist on your druggists giving you

Overlooked the Side Issue.

Andy Horn, who was once a well known proprietor of a large saloon on the east side, New York, was hiring as barkeeper a man since prominent in political life and who told the story with considerable glee.

"I'll give you $10 a month," said Andy.

"Ten dollars! A man can't live on that!"

"You forget the pickings," said Andy in serious earnest. "The barkeepers down here tell each other that my till's the easiest one to work in New York."

"I took the job without further argument," says the ex-bartender.

For "Run-Down" People there's nothing known in medical treatment to-day so effective and certain of a cure and so magical in its building up power as South American Nervine, because it strikes at the root of all nervous ailments, the digestive organs, makes rich red blood, drives away emaciation, puts on flesh and makes over physical wrecks generally. 128

GIVE IT ROOM.

When you see a purple auto
Coming gayly down the street
Like a streak of yellow lightning
Running on a thousand feet,
Do not argue with the critter
Just to show your brand of pluck;
When you see it in the distance,
Duck.

It is not a sign of brightness
To dispute the right of way
With the busy buzz-buzz wagon
So impatient of delay.
When it comes in an endeavor
Down the line to run amuck
And make mince meat of the people,
Duck.

Any one who is a weakling
Or is small across the back
Meeting with a full sized auto
Cannot butt it off the track.
If he isn't left a grease spot,
It will be a case of luck.
If he's wise he will instanter
Duck.

In a hand to hand encounter
With an auto it is clear
That the man who tempts the scorcher
Stands to lose at least an ear.
Friends will haul away the pieces
On a small and horse drawn truck,
So he should, instead of fighting,
Duck.

What He Had Missed.

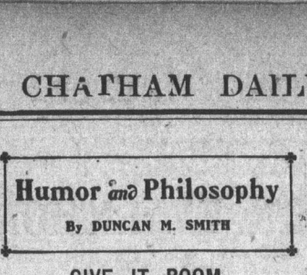
"Evidently you never courted a girl, then."

Cause For Faith.



The fellow was a guilty man

But his lawyer wouldn't be convinced

Histrionic Accomplishment.

"He is very ambitious to go on the stage."

"Can he act?"

"No, but he can shoot a gun loaded with blank cartridges so as to make as loud a report as any one."

Proof of Its Worth.

"What did you pay for your mining stock."

"Ten cents a share."

"Pshaw! I can sell you some with much more expensive and elaborate engravings for 5 cents a share."

Get Ready.

To kiss and make up, so the experts declare,
Produces an ocean of bliss,
But most of the girls whom you meet here and there
Must make up before they will kiss.

Secure.

"Am I in danger of brain storm, doctor?"

"Not at all, my dear sir. Nothing to give trouble, I assure you."

Muscular Oratory.

"I understand he makes a strong talk."

"Yes; he splits infinitives right along and never turns a hair."

Pessimistic Pete.

"Aw, come erlong, Pete, and fergit yer troubles."

"Then how in the world kin I enjoy myself, Dizzy?"

No Weather Prophet.

"Pop, how do they make stage lightning?"

"How in thunder should I know?"

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

If none were sinners the preachers would find poor picking.

Warm sympathy really often needs to link itself with hard coal to find proper expression.

The man who is drawing good dividends considers it is poor taste in people to talk about hard times.

The dear girls don't care how many stones are cast at them, provided they are all diamonds in a modern setting.

Putting up a front is often mightily successful in putting down trouble.

The self sacrifice of the ordinary candidate for office is as beautiful as the personal devotion to him of his partisans.

The look of worry on a man's face is more apt to be the fear that his wife will find him out than that his creditors will.

When we begin to feel overworked it manifests itself first in the imagination.

Some people seem to think that time is money and your stock of both belongs to them.

Broiled Prairie Dog.

"Prairie dog, briled, is darn good eatin'," said the zoo keeper, "but you couldn't get a plainsman to admit it.

"The plainsmen claims that owls and rattlesnakes and prairie dogs fraternize together, share holes and eat one another's dead corpses at the end. They claim that to eat prairie dog is the same thing as to eat rattlesnake or owl.

"Of course it's only a superstition, but it holds good on the plains, and prairie dog is never eaten there. I eat it, though, every chance I get. It has a fine taste. It tastes, by gum, like young chicken."

HAD THIRTY-TWO BOILS AT ONE TIME

Two Bottles of Burdock Blood Biters Cured Him.

Imperfect organic action makes bad blood, so, too, bad blood, in turn, makes imperfect action of every bodily organ. If the blood becomes impure, poisoned or contaminated in any way from constipation, biliousness or any other cause, some especially weak organ must soon become diseased thereby, or the whole system may suffer in consequence.

Pimples, boils, blotches, ulcers, festering sores, abscesses, tumors, rashes or some serious and perhaps incurable blood disease may result. There is no medicine on the market to-day to equal the old and well-known remedy, for all cases of bad blood.

Mr. Ernest B. Tupper, Round Hill, N.S., says: "I think Burdock Blood Bitters a great medicine for boils. I had them so bad I could not work. I had thirty-two on my back at one time. I used only two bottles of B.B.B. and they completely cured me. I cannot recommend it too highly." Price $1.00 per bottle or 6 bottles for $5.00.

Just as a Precaution.

In a small village in the south of Scotland an elder in the parish church was one day reproving an old woman who was rather the worst for liquor by saying, "Sarah, don't you know that you should fly from the tempter?" Sarah (not too well pleased)—Flee yersel'! Elder—Oh, Sarah, I have flown! Sarah—Aweel, I think ye'll be nane the waur o' anither flutter!

KIDNEY DISEASE COMES ON QUIETLY

Perhaps no other organs work harder than the kidneys to preserve the general health of the body and most people are troubled with some form of Kidney Complaint, but do not suspect it. It may have been in the system for some time. There may have been backaches, swelling of the feet and ankles, disturbances of the urinary organs, such as, brick dust deposit in the urine, highly colored scanty or cloudy urine, bladder pains, frequent or supressed urination, burning sensation when urinating, etc.

Do not neglect any of these symptoms, for, if neglected they will eventually lead to Bright's Disease, Dropsy and Diabetes.

On the first sign of anything wrong

Doan's Kidney Pills SHOULD BE TAKEN.

They go to the seat of trouble, strengthen the kidneys and help them to filter the blood properly and flush off all the impurities which cause kidney trouble. Mr. Thomas Petty, Massey, Ont., writes: "After I arrived in Canada from New Zealand, a couple of years ago, I suffered very much from kidney trouble. I tried several remedies, but they did me no good. Finally my back became so lame I could scarcely work. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and after taking them I felt like a new man.

Price 50 cents per box or 3 boxes for $1.25 at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.
