It is pretty hard to preach thrift when there is an abundance of money. There never was a time when money was more plentiful than now. But the purchases money will make are more restricted than ever before, and the sum total of goods which can be purchased and which are needed in every-day life, has not been smaller than it is to-day for some generations. The result is that the purchasing power of the ordinary dollar bill is just about half, if not less than that what it was before the war. This means a dollar will only buy 50 cents, and if conditions are further accentuated it will fall to the present total 30 cents.

The present situation is only temporary. How long it will take to things to right themselves at the close of the war no one can tell. Some economists look at the price of wheat as the barometer. Wheat, they say, will not remain at the present price. It is bound to go down, if not immediately after the war, certainly after production picks up again. When wheat starts to go back to somewhere around the old price, the purchasing power of the dollar gets a boost. Here arises a downright common-sense incentive for the present day thrifter. What is the use of spending a dollar to day, particularly on luxuries and frivolities, when it is only worth 30 cents anyway? Saving that dollar for the future, or lending it to the country which is the same thing, means getting the full benefit out of the dollar, or something approaching full value, instead of 30 cents worth.

Besides the national reason for saving, to strengthen our war effort, there is a real selfish reason, why the ordinary man should these days practice thrift. It is a matter of protection for the day, inevitable after all wars, when reaction sets in. The period when prices of necessary commodities remain the same, but there is no remunerative employment, is the period of reaction. It may be long or short, but it is in Canada, according to our recuperative powers. Let us suppose it will be short. Present day productivity, however, will not help the shortening process, and an economic hand there is evidence of prodigality. For everyone to be thrifty, for the bubble to be bound to burst.

Thrift.

Be sure you get the best quality of goods, and you will save money. Buy what you need, and buy it when it is cheap. Don't buy what you don't need, and don't buy what you can't use.

Port William's

The school has begun its year with Miss Nunn, of Summerville, as principal and Miss Newcombe in the primary department. The Board was fortunate in securing Miss Nunn, who comes with high recommendations, as well as in retaining Miss Newcombe, who did excellent work in her department last year.

Miss Dorothy Halsey has gone to Sydney to teach, Miss Marion Harvey to Digby and Miss Queenie to Kentville.

Mr. E. R. Hildebrand, formerly of Port William, has moved to Kentville and rented a house here to Mrs. Macdonald, traveling agent, at D. A. R.

Miss Lwendolyn Fuller, who has been visiting relatives and friends in U. S. for several months, has accepted a position as teacher of languages in the South.

The community was saddened by the death of Pte. Waldo R. Gates which occurred on Aug. 10th, while engaged with his Company (8th Batt.) on active duty. He was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gates, of this place, and was a boy and young man a general favorite. Before enlisting he took a business course at Acadia and then took charge of his father's business. He went overseas in October, 1916, and was in several of the battles where Canadians have won immortal glory. The sincere sympathy of all is extended to the bereaved family.

The Rev. Q. N. Chipman, who will become pastor of New Minas and Port Williams Baptist churches, will arrive with his family next week and preach the following Sunday Evening, 22nd. Special music will be prepared for the occasion.

The Lawn Party and Fancy Sale held on the grounds of H. K. Hibbert on August 2nd, was a glad success. Much credit is due to the girls (nourishers) who did the fancy work during their school vacation, their interest in it all, and their excellent work would have done credit to much more experienced workers. Mrs. J. W. Harvey and superintended it all, extending the children with their own interest in all that concerns the comfort of our men overseas. Friends donated the ice cream and cut flowers that helped raise the neat sum of $78.30 for the "Field Comforts" fund.

In England the war has relegated the automobile to the garage and brought the horse back to life. Owing to the gasoline restrictions, taxicabs are becoming extremely scarce in London and the handsome cars of the old days have been restored to popularity. Dealers in dog carts, traps, carriages and all other kinds of horse drawn conveyances are reaping a big profit. For six months prices have been going up steadily, until vehicles, which were for disposal at firewood prices owing to the vogue of the motor car, are now fetching more than they cost when they were new. Members of the royal family use horse-drawn conveyances, and the millionnaire, desiring a motor car for work, is investing in a carriage and pair.

Used For Shaving.

Many men are troubled, more particularly in the cold weather, with a sort of roughness of the skin or eczema caused by shaving. The application of Dr. Chase's Ointment after the shave soon cures the trouble and by using it after each shave you keep the skin soft and prevent irritation and soreness. Because of its antiseptic qualities this ointment prevents and cures Barber's Itch.

An Energetic Girl.

Irene Davis, aged 14, of Oxford, Massachusetts, drives a milk wagon and delivers milk to about 100 customers. Before breakfast, which is at 6.30, she helps with the milking, bottles 80 quarts of milk, feeds and harnesses the horse and loads the wagon. She is back at the farm before noon and then does a day's work around the house. During the school year she attends the high school.

Now Raises 600 Chickens

After Being Relieved of Organic Trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oregon, Ill.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for an organic trouble which pulled me down until I could not put my foot to the floor and could scarcely do my work, and as I live on a small farm and raise six hundred chickens every year it made it very hard for me."

"I say the Compound advertised in your paper, and tried it, and it has relieved me."

My health so I can do all my work and I am so grateful that I am recommending it to my friends.—Mrs. D. M. O'Connell, Oregon, Ill.

Only women who have suffered on the lines of such troubles and have dragged along from day to day can realize the relief which this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, brought to Mrs. O'Connell.

Women everywhere in Mrs. O'Connell should profit by her recommendation, and if there are any complications write Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice. The result of their 40 years experience is at your service.

Mrs. O'Connell cures Distemper.

Kitchener was right

when he said—
"Either the civilian population must go short of many things to which it is accustomed in times of peace or our armies must go short of munitions and other things indispensable to them."

NOW the only way we can possibly live up to that obligation is by going without in order that our soldiers may have. For the money we waste is not money at all—it is equipment, clothing, shot and shell that are urgently needed in France. By denying ourselves, therefore, we enable Canada to procure to the fullest extent the materials and labor which she and our Allies need for the successful prosecution of the war.

What happens when we fail to save? A pull on labor by the Government in one direction and a pull on labor by the people in the opposite direction.

For the sake of your country and the boys "over there," spend cautiously. Think of what Lord Kitchener has said, "Is this something I really need or can I do without it?"

Nova Scotia's Stake in Forest Protection.

In practically all parts of Canada, the immediate incentive to forest protection reforms has been a series of disastrous forest fires. Nova Scotia's unfortunate experience this summer will probably bring about a provincial system of fire prevention such as Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and British Columbia have already put into effect with splendid results.

There was last this year probably one of the most disastrous forest fires to occur in Nova Scotia when the forest fire broke out in the north. The forest fire broke out in the north of the province, and it is estimated that the loss of forest land was about 100,000 acres.

Nova Scotia is now the only Canadian province having control of forest resources which has not inaugurated modern methods of forest protection. New Brunswick introduced a new and thorough system last year, which all classes of citizens already hail as a considerable advance in the public interest.

Public feeling in Nova Scotia has been aroused over the forest fire losses this summer that any Government action securing the appointment of a skilled Provincial Forester having authority to organize and direct the present fire machinery along more effective lines would be certain of generous support.

Cake Without Sugar.

Here is the way to conserve sugar and make a delicious cake at the same time. Take:
2 cups of white corn syrup,
1 quart cup shortening,
3 eggs,
3 cups of flour,
1 1/2 tablespoons baking powder,
1 cup of milk,
1 teaspoon of salt.

Cream the shortening, add the syrup and the eggs and mix well. Add the milk. Sift the baking powder and flour together, add it slowly to the mixture and beat. Bake in a moderate oven as a loaf for layer cake or small drop cakes. One quarter of a cup of raisins added to the batter gives more flavors and sweetness.

The next Victory loan will undoubtedly be the last Tax-exempt loan.

The French Farmers Saved the Day.

The saving farmer in a national set. Canadian progress today in agriculture attests magnificently to the splendid qualities of thrift that have marked the farmers in all the provinces. The total returns from field crops and animal produce have been only possible because of the disposition to make use in an economical way of all the wonderful gifts of Providence in this good land of ours.

The same was abundantly true after 1870 in France when the frugal thrifty farmers of that fair land made it possible for the Republic to pay off that hated German war indemnity of two billion francs levied against them. The same spirit of national thrift built up France for the extreme test today—a test that is being tried by fire.

Thanks be, French heroism is proving true. The line is holding. The blood of the farmer is flowing equally as well through the veins of France's daughters of the soil and so the national strength bends but does not break.

Wheat and the Foul Weeds.

Canada is reaping her harvests of increased returns and money is being made as never before. Our farmers are earning the gratitude of all in their splendid efforts at production. That they will carry into their savings an equal foresight in conserving their surpluses against the future days of darkness and lower prices will be equally praiseworthy. He is well advised who saves his extra dollar until he sees which way the winds of tomorrow will blow. Adversity blows a chill blast where there is no dollar in the savings.

Keep sheep and help to keep down the weed pest.
