MARKET EXPERTS TALK.

We expect considerable irregularity antil the situation in Turkey clears to a reater extent. We would therefore we expect considerable irregularity until the situation in Turkey clears to a greater extent. We would therefore avoid buying stocks on bulges, but would confine purchases to issues where good absorption seems going on with bullish developments pending. On the dips we would regard as favorable purchases the Hills, and especially N. P. L. & N. S. J., Illinois, B. & O., W. U., W. Z., M. O. P., Denver and Alton, as well as K. S. U. Bearish activity may be expected in A. C. P. and A. R., which are selling much too high, in view of poor demand for copper. To-morrow's steed report will show an earnings statement. On bulges sell C. F. L. U. P. and St. Paul are still within a trading range, as is R. D. G. on any sharp reaction, whether commodity clause decision favors or not. Buy Coston on dips; buy wheat on good breaks.—Town Topics. breaks.-Town Topics.

Americans in London irregular without important change. United States Supreme Court meets to-day. Sultan capitulates and is now in the hands of the Young Turks party. Legislature at Albany expects to adjourn on Friday next. President Duval, of American Beet Sugar, says there will be no dividend on common stock. Demand for cupper still reported dull. More active business reported in leather. Pending German loan considered a strong argument for a neaceful solution of difficulties in the Far East.—D. J. Co.

Joseph.—Those who have sold their
A. B. S. and others who have gone short with have serious cause for regret.
Evasive denials of prospect dividends
make for political reasons temporarily, but we know that A. B. S. will sell much higher. Don't be fooled by the commodity clause decision. Buy R. D. G. conservatively. Those who bear stocks will eat crow. P. A. B. & O. and B. R.
T. are exceedingly good. Take on some Mex. Central for fairs turns. In anticipation of a better statement Steel will mo higher.

いつつつつつつ FOR THE YOUNG AMATEURS

That baseball will be popular this summer among the amateur players was evinced on Saturday afternoon, when hundreds of players turned out. All the diamonds were occupied. The weather was rather disagreeable. At the city lot the Broadviews and Barristers were knocking the ball around and going through a fast routine of hitting, fielding and baserunning, while in another section

At the Victoria Park the Royal Capaand baserunning, while in another section of the field the Keystones and Baysides were battling for victory. In the east end park the Alerts did a little work. At the Victoria Park there were many players in action, but only a few did any hard work, as they did not want to ru any chances of throwing their arms out. The game between the Keystones and Baysides was a one-sided affair, and resulted in a win for the Baysides by a score of 14-3. There was a large crowd present, and while the Baysides got away with the "goods," the Keystones made a favorable impression upon the fans. De-was Gow's first appearance, and his work was of a high order. Carter, of the Baysides, had lots of speed and a num-ber of curves. He formerly pitched in the City League. The teams lined up as

Baysides Greenwood 1b., Hamburg 2b., Bryce 3b., Becker s. s., Potter l. Rosseau c. f., Hubbad r. f., Sheridan

"Billy" Smith, who played short for the Keystones on Saturday, is one of the oldest players in the city. He played for the Primroses at centre, field a good many years ago. When that league, broke up he caught for St. Patricks in the City League when they played in the old Y. M. C. A. grounds at the head of Victoria avenue. He also played one year in the Britannia Park. "Billy" is well known to old baseball fans, playing his first game nearly twenty years ago.

with the "goods," the Keystones made a favorable impression upon the fans. Despite these drawbacks the brand of bealty played by both teams was up to the extra presented. They all showed much enthusiasm. The style in which the borst and played by both teams was up to the extra presented in the same was fast, and it proved to be interesting until the Baysides began to score, and then the Keystones started to make errors and it was all off.

The Keystones had almost the same lineup as last year, only two new players being on their team. The work of both twirlers was a noticeable feature of the game. "Young" Gow was the slab artist for the Keystones, while Carter did the heaving for the "Seaweeds." This was Gow's first appearance, and his stones, Eurekas, and Blue Labels. The league Club.

Mr. P. Turner, secretary of the Asylum B. B. C., writes as follows:
In the article entitled "For the Young Amateurs" in Saturday night's Times there is a mistake, which I should be glad if you would correct. You state "that the Keystones will make good in their new company was evinced last Saturday, when they defeated the Asylum in an eleven innings game." This is wrong, as the Asylum won by a score of 4 to 3.
